William Wrigley, a Builder. Revolutions and Troubles. Science Marches On. Heat Conquers Disease.

—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 27.

WILLIAM WRIGLEY, JR., having worked hard every day of his 70 years since childhood, is dead of heart disease, with his wife and children around him.

He was a typical American builder, created a great business that has made his name known all over the world, developed and helped to develop half a dozen industries, built great hotels, bought and developed Catalina Island, established a steamship line from the island to the mainland. He gave work to thousands of men and women, profits to those that shared with him, as stockholders.

If he could return and live another life to order, he would select exactly the same kind.

THE REVOLUTION in Salvador is a big one for the size of the country. Class hatred plays an important part. Dispatches tell of "aristocrats" fighting against the common people, 2,000 killed in one battle.

THE CHINESE-JAPANESE war, or rather the Japanese parade through Chinese territory, becomes more extensive. There is no doubt that Japan intends to have Asiatic history repeat itself.

It has been customary, during more than a thousand years, for the fighting power in Asia to help itself to part or all of China. Japan will take what she needs.

THE CHINESE people, overgrown like the ancient dinosaurs and apparently unable to protect themselves, are nevertheless capable of sustained hatred and deep contempt. The practical conquest of China by Japan may for a century dispose of the Asiatic question for the western countries.

To keep 400,000,000 Chinese under control and deal successfully with all the outbreaks of young China and the boycotts of old China may keep Japan fully occupied.

That is important news for Australia, which lives under Asia's shadow.

DR. E. C. MOORE, one of the greatest living surgeons, continues his practice of flying to patients if they are far away and in great danger.

Between times he discusses public questions, and it may surprise sincere prohibitionists to hear his statement:

"Drunkenness under prohibition is rampant among our youth. It is worse than ever, and it is inconceivable that a civilized nation should permit itself to be cursed with such a law."

DR. MOORE believes that many boys might be made to hate whisky and alcoholic stupidity by taking them through hospital wards and letting them see, with their own eyes, the effects of alcoholism and the diseases to which drunkenness leads.

UPRISINGS IN so many places against political authority and against prison authority are accompanied by equally serious uprisings against religious authorities.

Pope Pius, in an Associated Press dispatch, expresses grief at the "truly terrible harshness" with which the Jesuits have been treated in Spain. The pretext for suppressing the order and confiscating thirty million dollars of their property is alleged to be an oath in which they put obedience to the church before obedience to their own government.

POPE PIUS declares that the oath of obedience to the church is only spiritual.

He expressed to ecclesiastics gathered before him his sorrow at the news "always darker and sadder from far away Russia," and added, "just as we came to you we receive news of those provisions that seem like almost fatal ostracism of the priesthood in the diocese of Mexico."

We live in a world upset.

IT IS SOME comfort to know that while so many things go wrong, science continues its ceaseless conquest of humanity's problems.

You learn from Dr. Witte, formerly a research scientist with General Electric, now an associate of Drs. Moore and White in their clinic, that application of heat, sent through the tissues of the body by electric current and the infra-red rays, promises to restore health to thousands that had reconciled themselves to lifelong illness.

DISEASES ARE caused by germs of various kinds. The germs are or can be destroyed by the right degree of heat.

And the use of heat by electricity and otherwise promises to do away with many diseases that have been looked upon as inevitable for those that, in the words that Homer puts into the mouth of Hector's father, "have

SHIPS FAIL IN SEARCH FOR WRECK OF CRAFT

Victims Believed Drowned, British Admiralty Says In Message to Relatives

International News Service.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—A tragic message, revealing official belief that all hands were lost when the British submarine M-2 sank off the Dorsetshire coast, was sent this afternoon to the wives of all married members of the ill-starred vessel's crew.

The Admiralty corrected its previous figures this afternoon and stated unofficially that 60 men were aboard the craft, missing somewhere at the bottom of the English Channel.

Naval experts believed the officers and crew of the submerged craft, if they were still alive, had only little more than 16 hours before their oxygen supply on the vessel would be exhausted.

TELL OF SINKING

The M-2 sank at 10:50 a. m. yesterday. At 5 o'clock this evening, it had been missing almost 31 hours.

As darkness approached, rescue workers redoubled their efforts this evening to find the submarine.

While scores of naval vessels of all descriptions scoured a wide area off the Dorsetshire coast near the spot where the craft went down, a thorough chekup of all craft in the vicinity at the time the submarine sank today resulted in what was believed to be the first clue as to its fate.

The master of the coastal steamer Tynesider, now in dock at Gravelines, France, was reported to have told authorities that he saw the M-2 sink suddenly stern first yesterday morning. Members of his crew were quoted as saying they saw the submarine turn turtle and then go under.

MESSAGE OF DEATH

The message sent to relatives of the entombed men by the commander of the submarine depot ship Dolphin, read as follows:

"Regret to inform you your husband is missing and feared drowned. The submarine M-2 is believed to have sunk off Portland."

Meanwhile, their hopes rising and falling like the turbulent waters that hide the fate of their loved ones, the wives, daughters, mothers and sisters of the crew maintained a dry-eyed vigil along the Dorsetshire coast.

The seacoast towns of Catham, Portland and Portsmouth were transformed from bustling ports into scenes of mourning, for a tragedy in the British navy is a tragedy in every home of these communities which for centuries

PUPILS 'STRIKE' AT PITCAIRN

Scores of students of Pitcairn High School, one of them a girl, failed to return to classes after the noon recess today as a protest against the resignation of Clifford Weight, mathematics teacher.

The students who characterized their action as a "sympathy strike," gathered in a pool room and on streets near the school this afternoon and predicted a general strike of students tomorrow.

Banners will be prepared and signs posted throughout the borough, leaders said, emphasising their slogan:

"We don't want Weight to resign."

C. C. Pearsall, principal, said he had not asked Weight to resign, but the latter had done so because of poor health.

Pupils in one of Weight's classes declared Weight told them this morning he had been forced to quit.

W. N. Barnhart, president of the school board, Mrs. Eleanor McDowell and Dr. J. B. Rugh, members, said they knew nothing of Weight's reported resignation.

Girl Dancer Accused As Drunken Driver

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 27.—(INS.)—Patsy Miller, 23, pretty Hollywood dancer, was booked by police today on a charge of driving while intoxicated after her automobile was said to have struck Mrs. Elsie Nehr, 37, who was not seriously injured.

Harry Brown's Daughter Sues For Divorce

MRS. MARGERY BROWN JOSACK . . . . . CHARGES CRUELTY

Mrs. Josack, daughter of Manager Harry Brown of the Nixon Theater, who in Pittsburgh has filed suit for divorce from Joseph K. Josack, Jr., former press agent. They were married in 1921.

HARRY BROWN'S DAUGHTER SUES

Mrs. Margery E. Josack, of Webster Hall, a daughter of Harry Brown, manager of the Nixon Theater, charged cruelty and indignities in a divorce libel on file today against Joseph K. Josack, Jr.

Josack, whose present address is unknown, was formerly in motion pictures here, in Detroit and California. The couple married in 1921 and recently separated.

Louis Block, attorney for Mrs. Josack, declared:

"There is nothing sensational in the evidence of the case. It is merely a case where two young people do not seem to have got along together."

Ex-Kaiser, Weak, Has Quiet Birthday

DOORN, Holland, Jan. 27.—(INS.)—Wilhelm II, former kaiser of Germany, nominally celebrated his 73rd birthday today, in his castle exile here. There was no party and it was perhaps the quietest birthday in his life.

He plainly showed the illness from which he recently recovered. The recent death of his sister, the former Queen Sophie of Greece, for whom he is in mourning, contributed to the somberness of the occasion.

GAR WOOD SETS SPEED RECORD

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Jan. 27.—(AP.)—Streaking his Miss America IX across placid waters of Indian Creek at an average speed of 110.785 miles an hour today, Gar Wood exceeded by a scant half mile an hour the world's speedboat record of 110.223 miles an hour, held by Kayne Don, of England.

Wood's speed was obtained by averaging his time for northbound and southbound runs over the measured nautical mile course. His first run was clocked by electric timing devices at 111.08 miles, with an elapsed time of 37.32 seconds for the 6,080-foot mile. The second run was at a rate of 110.49 miles, with an elapsed time of 37.52 seconds. He was accompanied by Orlin Johnson, mechanic.

Not yet satisfied with speed he attained, Wood said he would discontinue trials today in order to make repairs on the hull of the Miss America IX and probably would seek to raise his speed tomorrow.

Linda Watkins Quits Films, May Marry

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Jan. 27.—(AP.)—Fox studios having failed to take up the option on her contract, Linda Watkins, formerly of the New York stage, was en route to Chicago today. To some of her friends she hinted she was to be married.

America Reported Prepared To Send Fleet as Clash Threatens at Shanghai

In the wake of a "final ultimatum" given to the Chinese Mayor of Shanghai by the Japanese government came these developments today:

1—In Shanghai, American and British Marines were preparing to defend the international settlement.

2—In Manila, rumors circulated that the Asiatic Fleet of the United States Navy was ready to sail for Shanghai.

3—In Washington, Secretary Stimson was considering "a firmer stand" against Japan than any before taken.

SHANGHAI, Jan. 27.—(AP.)—A force of about 2,400 United States and British Marines prepared today to take over the defense of the international settlement in Shanghai as approximately 10,000 Chinese troops were deployed, apparently determined to defend the city from occupation by the Japanese.

Kuramatsu Mural, Japanese consul-general, handed a new note to Mayor Wu Teh-Chen today demanding unconditional acceptance of the Japanese demand for dissolution of anti-Japanese organizations in Shanghai.

The note was in the nature of an ultimatum and gave the Mayor until 6 p. m. tomorrow to reply.

Chinese reports later said the municipal government had ordered the Bureau of Public Safety to close the local branch of the National Salvation Society, an anti-Japanese organization whose dissolution has been demanded by Japan. This action would mean that the Chinese had decided to accede, at least in form, to the Japanese demand.

AMERICANS NUMBER 1,200

The force of American Marines numbers about 1,200 and has been here since 1927, when Chiang Kai-Shek's Nationalist northern drive menaced Shanghai. The British have a similar force.

The United States troops began to erect barbed-wire entanglements along the boundaries of the settlement during the afternoon. British and American authorities emphasized, however, that the action was "purely precautionary."

The Chinese forces showed a determined attitude to bottle up the city, and began open efforts to meet a possible invasion. They established military patrols outside the city in a long line en-

Hunt Insane Gunman After Prison Break

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Jan. 27.—(INS.)—Every available peace officer in San Antonio and Bexar County plunged into an intensive manhunt today following the discovery that Pete McKenzie, insane two-gun desperado, had escaped from the death cell in the county jail here during the night.

Survey of Welfare Needs Started

Administration Tax Plan Would Prolong Depression

CONGRESS SHOULD avoid being seduced by a spirit of panic into fastening a needlessly onerous tax system upon the country.

In these days of government by whispering, there is a manifest danger of rushing through important economic legislation without mature deliberation.

Obviously, President Hoover, who has been putting over a campaign of haste in legislation, perceived no need for hurrying during the long period of critical months when he refused to call Congress in special session.

The administration recommendation of increasing tax rates on incomes and profits tends further to discourage businessmen at a time when they need stimulus.

CONGRESS SHOULD NOT levy additional tax burdens without studying their effect on business recovery and opportunities for re-employing idle labor.

From a strictly fiscal standpoint, higher rates on shrinking incomes are likely to give a disappointing revenue yield.

Scientific economists recognize that the occasion calls for a system of taxation which will lighten the burden on productive industry.

A well conceived sales tax and an excise tax on liquor, for example, would supply sorely needed revenue without sapping the life-blood out of business.

DR. E. R. A. SELIGMAN, distinguished Columbia University authority on taxation, recently estimated that restoration of state and national liquor imposts, with the repeal of prohibition, would yield $1,500,000,000 a year, or three times as much as is expected from federal income taxes next year.

Instead of deepening the depression through excessive taxation, the expert recommended that the federal government provide for part of its needs through borrowing.

Dr. Seligman, in differing with the administration tax program, succinctly said:

"EVERY ADDITIONAL TAX WHICH IS TAKEN OUT OF THE INCOME OF THE INDIVIDUAL, OR OUT OF THE BUSINESS OF THE COMMUNITY, MEANS A STILL FURTHER DEFLATION OF PRICES. THE GREAT THING THAT WE, AS ECONOMISTS, ARE EAGER ABOVE ALL TO AVOID IS A FURTHER DEFLATION AND TO BRING ABOUT AN EQUALIZATION OF THE PRICE LEVEL, WHICH SOME WOULD CALL INFLATION.

. . . "In the crisis of war, we had no difficulty of maintaining the credit of the United States. We borrowed about eighty per cent and taxed about 20 per cent in order to raise those thirty-five or forty billions of dollars that we shot away in a year and a half of warfare. Why is it not desirable to go a little more heavily on the debtor side and a little more lightly on the tax side?"

ECONOMISTS WHO can see further ahead than their noses recognize that in the interest of stability, governments in time of boom should spend lightly, tax heavily and reduce debt, while in periods of great depression they should spend freely, tax lightly, and increase their debt.

If Congress follows intemperate advice on taxation matters, IT WILL SHARE RESPONSIBILITY FOR PROLONGING THE SETBACK WHICH DEPRIVES MILLIONS OF ABLE AND WILLING CITIZENS FROM GETTING JOBS.

The economic crisis warrants an intelligent use of federal credit, instead of an orgy of destructive taxes.

REORGANIZE TO AID ALL IN NEED

Leaders Plan Single Board To Direct Relief With Help Of Community Groups

A survey to determine the full needs of the unemployed and the needy of Allegheny County has been put in motion by the leaders of welfare agencies, Frank R. Phillips, chairman, said today.

On the results of this survey, action will be taken to meet the requirements, he added.

Yesterday Phillips admitted relief requirements were not being met.

Following a meeting of representatives of the various relief and employmen agencies with W. L. Mellon, E. W. Mudge, Frank Bell, F. J. Chesterman, Edgar J. Kaufmann, Roy A. Hunt, D. L. Stewart and others exchanging ideas, the group decided, Phillips said, to form one unified committee with representatives of all agencies.

2,000 TO GET WORK

In turn relief agencies, under their federation, he said, will likewise form a larger organization, securing a representative citizen, a clergyman and a school principal from each district to aid direction of relief work locally.

The county has lacked any central office which consolidated relief estimates. There has been no way to determine how many persons needed help, how much money would be needed to help them or how the money would be raised.

Each welfare organization went about its own work. If it lacked the money to grant relief, the names of applicants simply reposed in card indexes awaiting a time when money possibly would be available.

More than 2,000 additional men, enrolled on the lists of the Allegheny County Emergency Association will be put to work immediately. The rate basis will be $3.20 a day, until each earns $100. The rate formerly was $4 a day.

Thene xt meeting of the committee will be held next Wednesday in Phillips' office.

THOUSANDS AWAIT CALL

Teh Federation of Social Agencies, represented yesterday by Dr. Edward N. Clopper, director, and others, offered the plan of larger representation in districts, and its county-wide extension.

How much additional money will be needed to carry on adequate relief, Phillips said, was not decided. He added:

"The result of the survey which a sub-committee is conducting will decide. The investigation is proceeding quietly.

"The $1,250,000 the Poor Board expects to get ought to help out considerably, if judiciously expended. There are more than 2,000 men being put to work in the county, in addition to the 7,500 already benefitting by the emergency loan. This is being made possible by the $500,000 promised by the County Commissioners, which releases $800,000 we had tied up in contingent funds."

Thousands of men still remain on the records awaiting call.

Hoover Invited To Honor Cardinal

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(INS.)—President Hoover was asked today by Martin Carmody, supreme knight of the Knights of Columbus, to dedicate a statue erected here to the late Cardinal Gibbons next August 14. The President took the invitation under consideration.

VARE AND G. O. P. CHIEFTAINS CONFER ON DAVIS' CANDIDACY

SEE SENATOR FAVOR DRY ACT REFERENDUM

First Day for Circulating Nomination Petitions Stirs Politics in State

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 27.—(AP.)—The "open season" for politics in Pennsylvania started officially today—the first day for circulating nomination petitions for the April primaries—and to the hunters who train their sights on penciled X marks the United States Senate seat which James J. Davis occupies is the biggest prize.

Although the season officially opens today the boys figuratively have been oiling their guns for some time. Last night Republican leaders gathered at Atlantic City for an unannounced conference with William S. Vare, Philadelphia party potentate.

DISCUSS DAVIS

What they discussed and what they decided is a secret. Philadelphia papers, however, said it was learned they discussed Senator Davis' chances of re-election and the qualifications of several prospective candidates and predicted that Davis will come out for a prohibition referendum and a personal expression favoring modification.

The Senator recently said he "stood on the Wickersham report as far as prohibition was concerned."

The political leaders here are represented unanimously as holding that only an anti-dry can be elected Senator this year and importuned Davis to take a stand against prohibition.

McCLURE IN RACE

State Senator George Woodward has been urging Representative James M. Beck to run. Beck has been suggesting that Vare be a candidate and petitions are reported in circulation for State Senator John J. McClure.

McClure attended the Atlantic City conference last night. Others present included Gen. W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad; Jay Cooke, Philadelphia banker who succeeded Atterbury as a member of the National Committee; State Treasurer Edward Martin, chairman of the State Committee, and Recorder James M. Harlett, chairman of the Philadelphia Republican Committee.

State G. O. P. to Back Hoover Delegates

HARRISBURG, Jan. 27.—(INS.)—The entire strength of the Pennsylvania Republican state organization will be thrown behind delegate candidates who are friendly to the re-nomination of President Hoover, Gen. Edward Martin, Republican state chairman, said today.

As in former years, Pennsylvania's delegation of 75 will go to the Republican national convention nominally "uninstructed" but actually for the re-nomination of the President.

While there are some differences yet to be settled regarding the state-wide ticket, Gen. Martin forecast that it will be possible to frame a slate which will receive the backing of all elements of the Republican party. The big problem, Gen. Martin said, is to select the proper candidate for the United States Senate.

The announcement of Gov. Gifford Pinchot last night that he is not a candidate for nomination as a delegate-at-large to the convention helped to clear the situation regarding the selection of the seven candidates.

CHURCH BODY TO BACK DRYS

HARRISBURG, Jan. 27.—(AP.)—Candidates for public office, regardless of party, must be "100 per cent" for prohibition and its enforcement, if they hope for the support of the Pennsylvania Council of Churches.

A resolution "serving notices on all political parties" to that effect was adopted by the council at its two-day convention, which closed last night, as part of a comprehensive program of national and international significance.

The council admitted the prohibition law "has not yet been enforced as it should be," but went on record as opposed to any slackening of enforcement efforts, increase in the legal alcoholic content of liquors, or to any referendum on the prohibition question.

FIND MAN DEAD AFTER SHOOTING

In the belief that an unidentified man found dead in a creek along the Jefferson road, near Rodi, Penn Township, might have fallen victim to shots fired by a farmer at a chicken thief, the coroner's office late today was preparing an autopsy to determine the cause of death.

The man, described by county detectives as being about 50 years of age and poorly clad in sweater and overcoat, was found lying in the creek near the farm of Herbert Swift. Swift told Detectives Thomas Calig and Samuel Whisner that when a burglar alarm sounded about 8:30 last night from his henhouse, he fired two shots into the darkness. Swift said he observed the fleeing form of a man and fired two more shots. He said the man appeared to stumble, then disappeared.

VOTE MACHINE 'BRIBE' QUIZ ON

HARRISBURG, Jan. 27.—(INS.)—The Senate voting machine investigating committee reconvened this afternoon with George O'Brien of Philadelphia, scheduled to testify in connection with a charge of bribery made against him by Secretary of the Commonwealth Richard J. Beamish.

Senator Frank J. Harris, of Allegheny, chairman of the Senate Committee, promised startling developments in the probe but declined to divulge details.

The committee promised a probe of every case in which county officials have refused to buy voting machines after electors approved their use. With Senator Harris on the committee are Senators Joseph G. Armstrong, of Allegheny; John W. Howell, of Scranton; C. W. Parkinson, of Waynesburg, and Warren R. Roberts, of Easton.

McAllister, Aide To Vare, Dies at 75

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 27.—(AP.)—Joseph R. C. McAllister, 75, staunch supporter of the Vare organization when it was battling Boies Penrose for political supremacy in Philadelphia, died last night.

McAllister had been a Republican ward leader here 30 years, and at one time served as chairman of Council's Finance Committee.

FIVE-DAY WEEK MINE DEMAND

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 27.—(AP.)—The six-hour day and the five-day week, coupled with regulation by a permanent federal commission, constitute the remedy proposed by international officers of the United Mine Workers of America for the ills of the coal mining industry.

These suggestions were included in a report submitted yesterday to the opening session of the biennial convention of the miners by John L. Lewis, international president; Philip Murray, vice president, and Thomas Kennedy, secretary-treasurer.

Reading of the report by Murray was partially completed yesterday and was the first convention business today.

The officers indorsed a bill introduced by Senator James J. Davis, of Pennsylvania, providing federal regulation of the coal industry, and noted that "reactionary leaders" have opposed it.

CREDIT CHIEFS APPROVED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(AP.)—The Senate Banking Committee today reported favorably the nominations of Charles G. Dawes, Jesse H. Jones and Harvey C. Couch to be directors of the Reconstruction Corporation.

Chairman Norbeck said the nominations probably would lie over a day and come up for Senate confirmation tomorrow.

A Democratic proposal that confirmation of Dawes, Jones and Couch be held up until the President has submitted the name of the fourth director, who must be a Democrat, was voted down.

Meanwhile, the $500,000,000 appropriations for the Reconstruction Corporation was sent to the White House today after Vice President Curtis had signed it, along with Speaker Garner of the House.

15 Found Guilty In Alcohol Plot

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—(INS.)—Fifteen defendants in the Middle West alcohol conspiracy case were found guilty today by a jury in Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley's Court.

Those convicted of conspiracy to defeat the prohibition laws included Robert W. Besse, of Sterling, Ill., former state's attorney of Whiteside County.

SMITH DENIES HE'S TO VISIT ROOSEVELT

Rivalry for Nomination Seen As Widening Breach of Former Political Allies

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 27.—(AP.)—The shadow of Alfred E. Smith lay fresh and sharp today across the path of Franklin D. Roosevelt's candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Just what the shadow would resolve itself into appeared to be Smith's secret.

The echo of Gov. Roosevelt's announcement that the former Governor would visit him in Albany had hardly died before there came from Smith's office in New York last night a brief announcement that he had no intentions of visiting the capital this month or next.

ROOSEVELT SILENT

Roosevelt refused to comment when informed of the Smith statement, which was entirely unexpected by political observers at the state capital, who generally had heralded the Governor's statement of the day before as a sign that the two old friends had not grown cold toward each other, as had been freely reported.

There have been many stories that the two had broken because their political ambitions had crossed. These stories were built on the assumption that Smith was hoping to again be named his party's presidential candidate.

CHEERED BY VETS

The two men met shortly after the election, supposedly to end reports of differences. They have not met since. Neither has taken cognizance of a split.

Gov. Roosevelt made his first public appearance last night since he announced his candidacy. He spoke at an American Legion dinner here, and his introduction as "the next President" brought long and loud cheers from the Legionnaires.

MRS. TED HEALY ASKS DIVORCE

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—(Universal.)—After starting a $250,000 alienation suit against Mary Warburton, the Philadelphia heiress, Mrs. Ted Lewis, the wife of the comedian, announced a suit for divorce today. She said she will name Miss Warburton as corespondent and cite "three specific instances of misconduct, giving names, dates and places."

Mrs. Healy said they were married in 1922 after a brief romance when she was Elizabeth Braun and he Lee Nash, "trouping through the sticks." He possessed talent, but she developed it, the wife said, until their salary as a team soared from $350 to $5,000 a week. With a shrug of her shoulders, she added:

"But when Ted met Miss Warburton, he was dazed by her cars, yachts, diamonds and luxury. All we ever earned together went to him. I did not ask him for anything, not even the luxuries that some chorus girls enjoy."

U. S. Rumored Ready to Send Fleet to Shanghai

MANILA, Jan. 27.—(AP.)—Rumors were circulated today that ships of the United States Asiatic fleet were prepared to sail from here to Shanghai, where clashes have been threatened between Japanese and Chinese and barricades have been built around the foreign section.

Rear Admiral Montgomery M. Taylor, declining to say whether the fleet would go to Shanghai, added:

"Whatever decision is reached depends upon developments. I am keeping an open mind regarding the situation."

Stimson Considers Firm Stand in Crisis

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(AP.)—A firmer stand in the Far Eastern situation than any which has so far been taken by the United States was being considered today by Secretary Stimson.

Te Secretary declined to discuss the Shaanghai situation beyond saying that he was devoting serious attention to it.

How far the United States will go in the tense situation there was not indicated, but some officials predicted that a move of a very definite character might be taken.

The Secretary has consulted Sir Ronald Lindsay, the British ambassador. A joint Anglo-American move to protect their interests was considered possible.

Chinese Soldiers Plunder Homes in Harbin

HARBIN, Manchuria, Jan. 27.—(AP.)—This city was in the grip of a reign of terror tonight as marauding soldiers allied with Ting Chao, former ally of Chang Hsiao-Liang, plundered the homes of wealthy Japanese and Koreans, attacked the Japanese hospital in Fuchiatien, and cut the electric light wires, plunging the town into darkness.

The Renzo News Agency correspondent said two Japanese and 16 Koreans had been killed, and that four Japanese and 10 Koreans were missing. Chinese soldiers were reported to have abducted a number of Japanese and Korean women.

One mob wrecked the plant of the Japanese newspaper, Taihoku Shimpo, in the Japanese quarter.

The foreign consuls, including the American representative, held a special meeting to consider the situation.

Demented Trapper Eludes Pursuers

EDMONTON, Alberta, Jan. 27.—(INS.)—Albert Johnson, demented Rat River trapper, sought by a Royal Canadian Mounted Police patrol for the wounding of Constable A. W. King, has eluded the posse of 12 men which set out from Aklavik, N. W. T., more than a week ago, according to radio report today. The man has vanished from his lonely cabin, 80 miles from the northern post, into the semi-darkness of the Arctic winter.

RELATIVES SEEK NEWS

Relatives of the officers and men who went down when the M-2 sank in some mysterious disaster crowded naval stations and police headquarters throughout the day, seeking latest reports of the rescue efforts.

Periodically, hopeful news was flashed from some one of the rescue vessels, reporting a floating circle of oil on the surface of the channel or the clank of metal against a steel net or grappling iron. Each report aroused some hope that the sunken ship might be located in time to rescue the crew before the supply of precious oxygen is xhausted.

But at no time did hopes run high. Inured to tragedies of the sea, the wives and mothers of Dorsetshire have acquired a certain fatalism. They know that the men who go down into the sea in submarines face hazards often too great to be overcome. They fear the worst—and hope for the best.

'DEAD MAN'S BAY'

The portion of the English Channel near the spot where the M-2 went down is known locally as "Dead Man's Bay." Countless vessels have piled up on the rocks near Portland Bill or foundered in the wild storms that beat about the Dorsetshire coast and gone to a watery grave.

The admiralty reported as one ray of hope the fact that the Davis life saving equipment the craft carried had not been used. The device, known as a "safety lung," would bring the men individually to the surface, and it was pointed out that its not having been used may indicate the men were in no danger, but may have been trying to save the submarine by repairing whatever was wrong.

HOUSE TO STUDY RELIEF BILL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(AP.)—The House Labor Committee today directed a subcommittee to begin immediate consideration of the LaFollette-Costigan bill to make a $375,000,000 federal contribution for relief work.

Chairman Connery named Rep. Jacobsen (Dem.), of Iowa to head the subcommittee to hold hearings. A bill by Rep. Lewis (Dem.), identical to the bill approved by a Senate committee, is before the committee.

Jacobsen said he would start work on the bill tomorrow. Also under consideration will be the Huddleston bill for a $100,000,000 relief appropriation.

CUBAN HEAD'S KIN LINKED TO LOAN

Machado's Son-in-Law Got $500,000 to Distribute, Senate Probe Informed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(AP.)—The Senate Finance Committee dug into the financial affairs of Cuba today and learned that a son-in-law of President Machado had a part in a $50,000,000 loan made to that country by the Chase National Bank.

Carl J. Schmidlapp, a vice president of the bank, said $500,000 had gone to Jose Obregon as an official of the Chase Company's Cuban branch for distribution to the banks that took part in the loans.

He said the relative of the Cuban president had only a minor part in negotiating the loan and denied he was employed for that purpose.

REPORT CHANGED

Earlier, Herbert D. Brown, chief of the United States Bureau of Efficiency, testified that a report he had made of conditions in Panama had been changed by officials of the National City Bank. He said his report had pointed out a way by which the country could avoid borrowing, but that the bank went ahead and loaned it $4,000,000.

Senator King (Dem.) of Utah placed in the record an document showing $500,00 paid to Obregon.

DISTRIBUTED TO BANKS

Schmidlapp said Obregon had received no part of the commission, but that the money had been paid on behalf of the bank and was distributed to the banks that participated in the loans as profits.

The total of loans to Cuba by Chase and its associates, the witness said, was $30,000,000, of which all but $10,000,000 were made while Obregon was in charge. Senator King asked:

"Why was the commission not paid the joint managers of the bank?"

The witness replied:

"It was not customary."

U. S. EXPECTS NO DEFAULT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(INS.)—France, Great Britain and Italy will hesitate long before defaulting in their debt payments to the United States, according to the opinion expressed by a high government official today.

A more likely course to be pursued by the foreign debtors would be postponing principal payments for three years, an option available to them under the funding agreements. If advantage were taken of the option, a total payment of $265,000,000 for the 1933, 1934 and 1935 fiscal years, would be postponed, not including interest payments for the years of $605,000,000.

The extra interest payments on the postponed debts would amount to $13,200,000 a year, the rate in such cases being 4½ per cent.

In the 1933 fiscal year $74,881,881 in principal and $195,094,700 in interest is due from the foreign governments.

HOME LOAN BILL URGED BY BEST

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(AP.)—William E. Best, of Pittsburgh, president of the United States Building and Loan League, today advocated passage of President Hoover's home loan bank bill, in testifying before a Senate Committee. He said:

"The normal functioning of the home financing and thrift institutions is essential to general business recoveries.

"Building and loan institutions are unable to refinance many existing mortgages to avoid foreclosure and the resulting forced sales and general distress. These mortgages were not originally made by building and loan associations, but the owners of these homes are coming to the associations requesting to be refinanced on a long-term monthly repayment basis. The importance of meeting this demand is obvious."

Opposing the hom bill, Rome C. Stephe president of the Am ers' Association, told the committee:

"Home building has been overdone in all communities."

entered upon the hateful road of old age."

WITH ALL ITS progress we can still say of science what Flammarian, the French astronomer, said to this writer just before he died: "Nous ne sommes que sur le seuil de la science." "We are only on the threshold of science."

He was talking of the thousands of great suns that move through billions of miles of space in the "little" Pleiades group.

WHAT WOULD he say of the 85-ton magnet that has just been set up at the University of California in Berkeley? One of the four most powerful electro-magnets ever built, its terrific force will be used to "shatter the atom."

And the atom that is to be shattered, with its electrons revolving around their nucleus, trillions of times in a second, is so small that a million like it, more or less, would not be noticed in your eye. Men may eventually know enough to keep them from swindling, cheating and cutting each others' throats.

Ohio Episcopalians Clash Over Anti-Saloon League

SPRINGFIELD, O., Jan. 27.—(AP.)—Charges that the Ohio Council of Churches is "the tool of the Anti-Saloon League," and that the council attempts to dictate in state politics, were hurled at the fifty-eighth annual convention of the Ohio Diocese of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

The charges were voiced yesterday during a heated argument of the question whether Episcopal churches of the state should continue to support the council.

The Rev. David Barre, of Columbus, said:

"I object to the literature of the Anti-Saloon League being issued from the same office as that of the Ohio Council of Churches."

He voiced strong opposition to the Episcopal Church allying itself with the council.

In reply the Rev. Thomas Donaldson, of Columbus, said it would be a disgrace to withdraw." But he was drowned out by shouts of "No! No!"

The question was carried over until today.

PARENTS TESTIFY TO SAVE TRUNK SLAYER FROM GALLOWS

TELL OF EARLY LIFE TO PROVE INSANITY

'Tiger Woman' Impassive as Aged Couple Aids Defense In Battle for Her Life

By ARTHUR L. MAREK
International News Service.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 27.—The mother and father of Ruth Judd, poker-faced "trunk murderess," today testified in her trial in the defense battle to acquit Mrs. Judd on the grounds of insanity.

The father, the Rev. Harvey Joy McKinnell, superannuated Free Methodist minister from Darlington, Ind., followed the mother on the witness stand while the blue-eyed defendant impassively watched the milling spectators in the back of the courtroom.

TELL OF EARLY LIFE

The quavering voice that had been raised in prayer for 49 years in the pulpit was raised in explanation today as Mr. McKinnell added his plea to that of the stooped little near-sighted mother to save the "tiger woman" from the gallows. Mrs. McKinnell testified regarding Ruth's early life, relating her escapades and delusions of motherhood.

Dr. McKinnell, who spent his first few weeks in Phoenix in preaching at rescue missions and small churches, told the jury of the little eccentricities of his daughter and the psychopathic histories of his relatives.

Te aged minister, with great simplicity, gesturing toward Mrs. Judd, said:

"I'm her father. I'm 72 years old. Ruth will have her twenty-seventh birthday the day after tomorrow. I've been a minister for 49 years. I've preached the Gospel 40 years and have been superannuated, but am still a member of the Free Methodist Church."

BROKE DOLL, CRIED

Judge Speakman and the attorneys waited patiently while this explanation was made.

Then, by gentle questioning, Defense Attorney Herman Lewkowitz, turned the grief-weary old man's thoughts to the murder trial. The father said:

"Yes, Ruth as a girl was out of the ordinary. When she was 2 years old she broke her doll and cried. When she was 7 years old she told neighbors we had a baby at our house, but there was not a bit of truth in it and there were no prospects of a baby."

The jurors, who have been called "hard boiled," listened sympathetically to Mrs. McKinnell, as she testified:

"Ruth was a bright pupil, but she was moody and wrote poems at times. She had a pretty quick temper."

A girl fainted in the audience as Mrs. McKinnell testified. Judge Speakman gave a sardonic touch to the unusual proceeding when he warned:

"It is early todayt o be starting that. If anyone else feels like fainting, he had better leave the courtroom now."

Dr. William C. Judd, the defendant's husband, also was expected to testify.

ALLEN TO DROP 'HONOR' PLEA

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 27.—(INS.)—A boy, beside himself with resentment at the intrusion of threatening strangers into his home, brandished a gun—and somehow it went off.

That will be the defense offered for Edward H. B. Allen, youthful slayer of his sister's sweetheart, Francis A. Donaldson III.

International News Service learned today that the story of a murder to avenge the honor of Rose E. W. Allen, Eddie's sister, will not form the basis of his defense when he comes to trial Monday.

The contention of Horace Allen, father of the accused man, that Donaldson betrayed 18-year-old Rose probably will form no part of the defense. Rose never has corroborated her father's revelation that she spent a week-end with Donaldson in Scranton, Pa., and rumor has it that she will deny it from the witness stand when she is called to testify by the state.

RUSH TO SAVE KIDNAP VICTIM

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Jan. 27.—(INS.)—Panic-stricken relatives of Howard A. Woolverton, 52, wealthy manufacturer, raced time today in an effort to avert his threatened execution.

He will be killed unless $50,000 is delivered at a designated spot in Chicago Heights at 8 o'clock tonight, the industrialist's kidnapers declared.

Meantime an intensive manhunt for the desperate abduction gang spread over Northern Indiana, into Chicago and through most of Northeastern Illinois.

It was learned by International News Service that the victim's wife, Mrs. Florence Woolverton, from whose side her husband was taken at midnight, communicated with relatives and friends in a determined attempt to raise the ransom money. Instructions for payment of the money were in a note flung by the kidnapers into the Woolverton car at a lonely roadside spot three miles northwest of here after they had forced the captive into their machine.

Joan Lowell Charge Gets Man 14 Months

BOSTON, Jan. 27.—(AP.)—Morris Levine, a theatrical booking agent, was given a sentence of 14 months in the House of Correction yesterday on charges brought by Miss Joan Lowell, author of sea stories and now a Boston newspaper reporter. The hearing was private.

Miss Lowell said that while gathering information for a series of newspaper articles on the conditions encountered by girls looking for work she went to Levine's office, and he attempted to attack her.

Denny, with Robert Montgomery and other film players, was practicing at the Riviera field when the accident occurred.

Baby Now Facing Loss Of 1,000 to 1 Chance

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—(INS.)—Even the 1,000 to 1 chance of an operation which, if successful, would enable baby Diane Moore to escape idiocy when she grows up, today seemed to be lost to her.

Surgeons who again examined the 13-month-old infant with the abnormal brain found she suffered from a far different disease than at first diagnosed. X-ray pictures must be developed before a final decision is reached, but physicians said indications were tissues of the brain had been destroyed at the time of birth.

If this is so, they declared, an operation would be useless to enable the child to develop into a normal, happy girl.

Diane's mother, Mrs. James Moore, 18, declared she would keep on trying to have her daughter operated upon until she found someone who would take "the great risk."

SOCIETY WOMAN FACES HAWAII TRIAL ALONE

Navy Expected to Take Cases of 3 Men Held for Killing Attack Suspect

By GILBERT PARKER
International News Service.

HONOLULU, Jan. 27.—Alone, Mrs. Grace Fortescue, eastern society leader, wife of Maj. Granville Fortescue, must face murder charges in a civil court of Honolulu.

The grand jury, after three days' hectic deliberations, returned second degree murder indictments against Mrs. Fortescue, her son-in-law, Lieut. Thomas H. Massie, and two naval enlisted men, E. J. Lord and Albert Jones, charged with killing Joseph Kahahawai.

Kahahawai was one of five natives accused of criminally attacking Mrs. Thalia Massie, pretty 20-year-old bride of Lieut. Massie, and daughter of Mrs. Fortescue. A civil case against the five natives resulted in a mistrial after which Mrs. Fortescue and the three naval men were charged with slaying Kahahawai.

TRANSFER OF CASES

Return of the indictments paved the way for transfer of the case against Lieut. Massie, Jones and Lord, from civil authorities to U. S. naval authorities at Pearl Harbor, leaving Mrs. Fortescue to stand trial alone.

All question of the death penalty was removed by the second degree indictment verdict. Gov. Lawrence Judd, Special Prosecutor Barry Ulrich and Navy Department legal officials were to confer today on transfer to the Navy of the case against the three male defendants.

The grand jury returned its verdict after Territorial Circuit Judge Albert Cristy had instructed it to return a verdict in accordance with testimony of witnesses.

Defense Counsel Montcomery Winn said he would move at once to have the indictments quashed on the ground of jury coercion. Reports in the building in which the jury had deliberated indicated the jury had favored returning no "true bills."

ACQUITTAL EXPECTED

Confidence they would be acquitted of charges of killing Kahahawai today was expressed in messages Mrs. Fortescue and Lieut. Massie sent to relatives on the mainland. To her husband, ill in New York, Mrs. Fortescue sent the following cablegram:

"We have been indicted dearest and I'm glad only don't want you to worry. Thalia's trial was a mockery on justice. (She referred to the mistrial of five natives charged with attacking Mrs. Massie.) Now the American people here and in the states will see that we get fair play. All my love is with you.

"GRACE."

To his mother in Winchester, Ky., Lieut. Massie cabled:

"Mother, darling, the Hawaii grand jury indicted as which will make the final result a better vindication. Don't worry. Love,

"TOMMY."

BANK CLOSES IN M'KEESPORT

The Pennsylvania Deposit Bank, 401 Jerome avenue, McKeesport, failed to open its doors this morning, a notice stating it had been taken over by the State Department of Banking.

According to J. D. Swigart, chief bank examiner for this district, the bank had deposits of about $1,200,000, and had been a private bank until January 17, 1928. Frozen assets were given as the cause of suspension. It was not connected with any other McKeesport banking institution, he said.

At Harrisburg William D. Gordon, secretary of banking, said:

"This action was necessitated to protect the depositors, creditors and stockholders and to conserve assets so that a preference might not be obtained by withdrawing depositors."

Weather Conditions.

The low that was centered over the plains states yesterday morning moved rapidly northeastward to the St. Lawrence Valley. It produced light to generous rains over practically all of the states east of the Mississippi and snow over the central plains. Another low is spreading over the West from the Canadian Northwest, causing a rising temperature condition, but as yet no precipitation except along the Pacific coast. High pressure is centered over the Lower Mississippi Valley states and extends northward over the plains states.

There was a rise in temperature over the eastern states since yesterday, and a slight drop over the plains states and the Mississippi Valley. The rising barometer will bring a slight drop in temperature over this section tonight, but it will rise again tomorrow. There is no change in weather indicated for the next several days.

Chaplin and Menjou Swiss Dance Judges

ST. MORITZ, Switzerland, Jan. 27.—(Universal)—Charlie Chaplin, Adolph Menjou and Lord Louis Mountbatten were judges last night at the Palace Hotel dancing competition, which was won by Bonka Dolly, of the famous sisters, and Harry Hays Morgan.

Chaplin previously had auctioned off choice wines and liquors for the benefit of the Bobsleigh Club. Among the bidders were Lady Mountbatten, Gloria Swanson, Mrs. Cooper Hewitt and Menjou.

SEEK MYSTERY GIRL IN YALE DORMITORY

Campus Stirred by Tale of Feminine Visitor Fed by Students, Kept in Hiding

Universal Service.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 27.—A mystery girl has been living in a Yale University building for the last five days.

So went a report in the Yale student newspaper today, and with it the breath of scandal blew hotly across the campus.

Whence the girl came no one knew, but no one has been found yet to deny that she made her home in Dormitory, one of the largest and most luxurious at the school, with knowledge and sanction of a group of undergraduates—and without permission of the dean. She was reported to be young and pretty.

Officially the Yale administration this afternoon laughed at the report. But campus police were poking around with descriptions of missing girls in their hands and strict orders to get to the bottom of the affair.

Students openly and officials secretly gossiped and wondered. This was obviously the boldest student "prank" at Yale in years.

There was no indication that the students themselves had brought the girl into the dormitory, but there were indications that her half dozen hosts had brought in meals to her thrice daily.

She was even said to have used the shower bath on the top floor of the dormitory.

CLUB STRIPPED IN 2ND RAID

The Lotus Club, Sydney street, the South Side's most exclusive club, was just another dingy house today after having been stripped of the costly furnishings that filled it during the years in which it stood out as a Mecca for the thirsty.

In the second raid in three weeks, federal prohibition agents last night said they removed everything from the building except the bedroom furniture and kitchen equipment. The furnishings removed were valued at $6,000, agents said.

The Lotus Club was the second place here to be stripped under the federal ruling which permits confiscation of all articles used in the manufacture and sale of illicit liquor, agents having stripped a club in Tunnel street last week.

Agents said the raid prevented a banquet which was to have been attended by politicians and businessmen.

Joseph Maier, steward, was arrested, and whisky, beer and wine were seized, the agents reported.

Sprinklers Put Out Duquesne Way Fire

ZONING HALTS SAND YARD JOB

Work on a sand and gravel yard adjoining Brilliant Pumping Station on the Allegheny River leased from the city by John W. Hubbard, manufacturer, has been stopped by H. Lawrence Ley, superintendent of the Bureau of Building Inspection, because no building permit has been obtained.

The proposed dock is opposite the intersection of the new Allegheny River boulevard and the Washington boulevard at the edge of Highland Park. It is zoned for one and two-family dwellings only.

Members of the City Planning Commission, hearing of the alleged infraction of the law, were preparing today to take the matter into City Council. Heretofore, new building operations, whether on city property or not, have been subject to the decisions of the Zoning Board.

The work of driving piles on the site has been going on for more than a week. Superintendent Ley, informed of the project, went to the job in person and stopped the work. No application had been filed for a permit. When this is done the case will go to the Zoning Board of Appeals.

MOB IN BOMBAY PERILS NOTED JOURNALIST

Gandhi's Orders Invoked And Sir Percival Phillips Escapes Injury in Riot

BOMBAY, Jan. 27.—(AP.)—The third anniversary of Mahatma Gandhi's proclamation of Indian independence was over today, but it was marked by nearly 1,000 arrests throughout the country, including many women, and by sentences of many of the Mahatma's followers of up to three years at hard labor for defying the government's ordinances.

Last night was a night of terror in the Hindu residential section. Crowds of irresponsible elements, joining in the Nationalist movement, burned down the police shelter and then extinguished the city lights to make a more striking setting for huge bonfires of British cloth.

The clanging of fire engines mingled with the crack of police rifles and the shouts of the crowds.

Sir Percival Phillips, American-born correspondent for a British newspaper, narrowly escaped violence at the hands of the mob when he was mistaken for a police official because he carried a club for self-protection. He was saved only by the timely intervention of congress volunteers who pleaded with the rioters to remember Gandhi's sacred injunction against injuring any foreigner. The window of his automobile was smashed, but he was unhurt.

Sir Percival is a native of Brownsville, Pa., and a former Pittsburgh newspaperman.

Indian Girl Slayers Exiled for Life

CALCUTTA, Jan. 27.—(AP.)—Sentences of transportation for life were imposed today upon Santi Ghose and Sunity Chowduri, Indian girl students, following their conviction in a local court of the murder of C. G. B. Stevens, British magistrate, last month.

Wearing bright-colored sarees and with fresh flowers in their hair, the two girls seemed not perturbed by the sentence to the penal colony. They said:

"It is better to die than live in a horse's stable."

EX-TECH CO-ED DIES IN CRASH

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Jan. 27.—Slippery highways were blamed today for the death of Mrs. Dorothy Chalmers McFarlin, 26, girls' physical director of Easton High School, formerly of Pittsburgh.

The car which Mrs. McFarlin, a Carnegie Tech graduate, was driving to Easton after refereeing a girls' basketball game at Catasauqua, near here, last night, skidded through the guard rail of the Airport road crossing above the Lehigh and New England Railroad, and plunged onto the tracks below.

Mrs. McFarlin was dead when taken from the wreckage. Her companion, Mrs. Paul Ellenberger, 30, of Allentown, is in a hospital with slight chance for her recovery.

The dead woman, whose father, Robert Chalmers, is commissary superintendent at the Allegheny County Workhouse, came to Easton from Pittsburgh following her graduation from Tech in 1924. Three years ago she married Francis J. McFarlin. She continued her work in the schools after marriage.

In addition to her parents, who left Pittsburgh for here this morning, her husband and an infant son, she is survived by a sister, Olga, of Hollywood, Cal.

Cobra Perils Indian In Cell Near Gandhi

POONA, India, Jan. 27.—(AP.)—L. B. Bhopatkar, a Nationalist leader confined to the Yeroda jail near Mahatma Gandhi's quarters, faced death for 10 minutes today while a big cobra reared and swayed before him within striking distance.

Bhopatkar was sitting on the floor reading. He had nothing with which to protect himself except his bedding and the snake was between him and the bed. He sat without moving a muscle until the warden came with the cell keys, burst in and killed the snake with a club.

GIRL'S TRANCE BRINGS BAN ON HYPNOTISM

Allegheny College Faculty Acts When Students Fail In Control of Subjects

MEADVILLE, Pa., Jan. 27.—Officials of Allegheny College today had placed a ban on further experiments in hypnotism by students, as a result of two demonstrations said to have been conducted recently before audiences of classmates, in which two girls were placed under hypnotic influence by other students, one of whom failed for a time to come out of the spell.

The subject of the first demonstration was reported to have been Miss Margaret Herr of Ben Avon. This demonstration was said to have been conducted by Bramer Carlson of Warren, Pa., who although not a member of the class on abnormal phychology conducted by Prof. Frederick G. Henke, discovered he had the power of hypnotism although he never had gone very deeply into the subject.

45-MINUTE TRANCE

The second demonstration was said to have been conducted by David Whitsett of Monessen, and Marion Sleeman of Warren, Pa., was reported to have been the subject. According to reports, when Whitsett attempted to bring his subject out of the trance he was unable to do so for 45 minutes. Miss Sleeman suffered no ill effects, it was reported, but Miss Adalene Bowie, dean of women, immediately placed a ban on further experiments.

Prof. Henke, explaining his teachings in his class on abnormal psychology, said he had repeatedly warned his students against such experiments, although he declared he believed no lasting ill effects could result from such demonstrations.

WARNS OF DANGER

He said:

"I have told my students it is dangerous to practice hypnotism without being absolutely certain of their control over the subject, and I have warned them repeatedly that any such experiments must be given on their own responsibility."

Prof. Henke, an authority on psychological research, said no more experiments in hypnotism would be given in the classroom, the work for the year in that line having been completed.

Dr. William O. Tolley, president of the college, had just returned from an out-of-town trip and had not been apprised of the experiments.

PINCHOT SIGNS STEEDLE BILL

HARRISBURG, Jan. 27.—(AP.)—Gov. Gifford Pinchot has signed the Steedle bill creating a $2,000,000 revolving fund to aid school districts, but he announced he would oppose the expenditure of an additional $530,000 which the measure appropriates.

The bill provides $300,000 for development of the new military reservation at Indiantown Gap and $230,000 for legislative printing expenses and janitor service. The Governor said he would veto budgets calling for the expenditure of these items until the courts rule on the constitutionality of the Talbot bill.

The Talbot measure appropriates $10,000,000 for direct unemployment relief. The Governor said that if it is held unconstitutional the state will have overappropriated its estimated revenue by $755,364 and that if it is declared constitutional the overappropriation will amount to $10,755,364.

Warburton Silent On Ex-Wife's Suit

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—(INS.)—Back from his honeymoon today, C. Egerton Warburton, of Philadelphia, refused comment on the non-support suit filed against him by his first wife, who divorced him in 1930.

His bride is the former Mrs. Marie Louis Hatch, of Detroit.

Woman Suffocated In Folding Bed

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 27.—(AP.)—Mrs. Elizabeth Tryon, 87, mother of Edward K. Tryon, sporting goods dealer, was suffocated when her folding bed sprang into its wall compartment. Her body was found last night.

Employes of State Under Quarantine

HARRISBURG, Jan. 27.—(AP.)—Discovery of scarlet fever among employes in one section of the State Department of Agriculture has resulted in four young women being quarantined and daily inspections being ordered for others.

The Departments of Health and Agriculture, announcing the discovery today, said no further spread was feared.

FIREMEN'S PLAN GETS HEARING

A public hearing on a plan proposed by the City Firemen's Protective Association to restore 100 pensioned firemen to duty on a curtailed program, will be held by City Council this afternoon. Fire Chief Richard L. Smith has been ordered to be present.

Smith and Public Safety Director James M. Clark disapprove the firemen's plan to restore the pensioned members to duty, according to President John Heinz, of the association. Smith and Clark assert efficiency of the department would be impaired if the entire personnel was placed on a part-time basis, as proposed by Heinz and his committee.

Heinz has pointed out that under the curtailed program, 893 firemen each would lose 44 days' time this year. Of this period, 30 days would be an enforced furlough and 14 days for a vacation, totaling 75,892 days lost, plus the time lost by the 98 pensioned.

The program outlined by the association provides that each of 993 firemen—including the 98 restored to duty—would result in only 51,615 days lost. This, according to Heinz, is 30 per cent less than Smith's plan.

Orders Sanity Test In 'Mercy' Slaying

MILLERSBURG, O., Jan. 27.—(INS.)—Two Millersburg physicians were named members of the special commission today to test the sanity of James S. Stenhouse, 39, British war veteran, who has allegedly confessed slaying his 2-year-old son, Oscar David, as an act of mercy.

The physicians appointed by Judge R. B. Putnam are Dr. J. M. Jones and Dr. J. C. Elder. Judge Putnam will serve as presiding officer of the commission, which will meet Saturday for an examination of Stenhouse.

Steel Firms Pay Taxes Early to Aid Schools

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Jan. 27.—(INS.)—Coming to the aid of a dwindling county treasury, four of the largest steel companies in the Mahoning Valley today had arranged to pay an advance on their annual taxes so that funds will be available for the payment of public officials and school teachers of Mahoning County.

The steel concerns, including Youngstown Sheet & Tube Company, Republic Steel Corporation, Carnegie Steel Company and the Sharon Steel Hoop Company, reached an agreement with County Treasurer Warren A. Steele to pay $370,000 of their tax bills which are not due until May.

CLUE IN KNIFE MURDER FOUND

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 27.—(INS.)—The first tangible clue in the investigation of the murder of Norman S. Bechtel, model young Mennonite church worker, was in the hands of police today.

The clue was a weather-worn keyring bearing a card on which appeared the partly obliterated name and address of a woman.

On the card, torn and dirty, was a smudged notation that appeared to be "Miss K—." Police believe the name is Miss Katie or Miss Kathie. The blurred address, on another notation, they maintain, is Wissahickon avenue and Hortter street, a block from the Stokes estate, where the mutilated body of Bechtel was discovered, and where the keyring was found.

$70,000 LOSS IN LATROBE FIRE

LATROBE, Pa., Jan. 27.—Damage estimated at $70,000 was caused when fire swept through a two-story frame building at 322 Main street, owned by Samuel Frankel and occupied by the Diamond Furniture Store, late yesterday.

About 25 families were driven by smoke from the Frampton Building, a two-story structure, and the Ober Apartment Building, a five-story brick structure, adjoining the furniture store. Both buildings were slightly damaged by water. For a time the blaze also threatened the Olympia Theater. The Tewes Store and Meat Market was also damaged by water.

Another fire, thought to have been caused by sparks, was discovered at the height of the furniture store blaze, in the garage of Frank Laucionke on Washington street, five blocks away.

Firemen were dispatched from the scene of the first fire to the garage blaze, which resulted in damage estimated at $1,800.

Latrobe firemen were assisted by the Derry fire department, under the direction of Fire Chief Charles Fagan, of Latrobe. The fire was said to have originated in the rear of the second floor of the furniture store.

FAKE PRISONER TERM FOUGHT

Joseph D. Donovan, of Erie, an automobile dealer, convicted in Federal District Court for conspiring to substitute a government prisoner, through counsel, made a motion before Judge Nelson McVicar for a probation sentence instead of the six months' term in Allegheny County Jail. The Circuit Court set aside the conviction of Attorney Samuel Y. Rossiter in the same case.

Counsel for Donovan said the latter was suffering from pulmonary tuberculosis and confinement in jail would prove injurious to his health. Judge McVicar directed Assistant United States Attorney James I Marsh to designate two physicians to examine Donovan.

COX FUND GIVES 888,000 MEALS

The four largest items on the report of the Father Cox Relief Fund, between November 10, 1930, and January 24, 1932, were meals, provisions, men's shirts and coal.

More than 888,000 meals have been served by the relief group; 98,757 baskets of provisions distributed; 3,012 men's shirts given away, and 527 tons of coal delivered to 853 families.

Auto Thief Begins 2-7-Year Sentence

John C. Murphy, 27, of 7617 Tioga street, today began serving two to seven years in the workhouse for the theft of two automobiles, following his plea of guilty before Judge James H. Gray in Criminal Court.

Murphy admitted taking the machines of Charles H. Felton, Holmes street, and W. Irvin Short, Uniontown, last October. He said he defaced the engine numbers and sold the cars.

PLAN TRIBUTE TO WASHINGTON

Mayors and burgesses of cities and boroughs of Allegheny County, with representatives of patriotic and historical societies, will be guests at the Washington bicentennial commemorative service Sunday, February 21, in the First Presbyterian Church, Sixth avenue.

The Rev. Dr. Clarence E. Macartney will present a special sermon, and tribute will be paid to Washington. Six of the original trustees of the church were officers in Washington's army. They were Gen. James O'Hara, Maj. Ebenezer Denny, Maj. Isaac Craig, Col. Stephen Bayard, Col. John Gibson and Capt. John Wilkins.

The Washington Infantry will hold a banquet and parade February 22 in honor of the Washington bicentennial.

The committee arranging the program includes Norman W. Morgan, Walter Forster, Karl Gerlitz, Ellsworth A. Rush, Samuel L. Meminger, Maurice Caldwell and Mrs. Charles H. Sallada and Mrs. Gertrude Trevis, representatives of the 102nd Regiment, Pennsylvania Veteran Volunteers.

Gasoline Cleaning Fire Peril Stressed

Demonstrating the accumulation and ignition of gasoline vapors, T. K. Franklin, fire prevention authority of the Aetna Insurance Company, Hartford, Conn., condemned the use of gasoline as a cleansing agent as a dangerous practice at the second session of the Chamber of Commerce "Fire School" in the chamber last night.

Pointing out that with the multiplicity of electrical appliances in the household today, circuits are constantly overloaded, Franklin attributed many fires of electrical origin to the misuse of electricity. He also demonstrated how explosions may be produced through dust accumulation and mixture of common chemicals.

STATE TRADE BODIES SCORE HIGH TAXES

Chambers of Commerce Open Convention; Johnson Sees Sounder Business Basis

HARRISBURG, Jan. 27.—(AP.) — Economy in government, opposition to new taxes and close co-operation between local and state chambers of commerce were urged today by Alba B. Johnson, president, at the opening session of the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce's annual convention. He said:

"The people who have to pay the swollen taxation out of greatly reduced incomes properly demand reduction of public expenditures corresponding to reductions which changed conditions have enforced upon them and all private business."

In response to an unprecedented movement demanding economy in the administration of the nation, the states, the cities and other taxing agencies, he said, the state chamber should give "effective support and leadership" by creating a statewide committee to work in the field of state taxation and expenditures. It should also set up local agencies to extend "the same careful scrutiny" to cities, towns, counties, boroughs and every agency which expends public funds.

SEES SOUNDER BUSINESS

Despite the suffering the business depression has brought, Johnson said:

"We are emerging from it as though purified by fire. Banks, industries, merchandising and other lines of business will be upon a sounder foundation than they have been for years. The new economic structure will be sounder, stronger and more permanent."

Analyzing taxation in Pennsylvania, Henry W. Van Pelt, director of the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of Internal Affairs, said the state taxes have been lower than the per capita average for all states. Local taxation, however, has maintained a higher average, he said.

Of the billion dollars and more of local net bonded debt outstanding at the close of 1930, Van Pelt asserted, the city of Philadelphia alone owed over 41 per cent, thus exceeding the 36 per cent owed by all the other counties, cities, boroughs, townships and poor districts of the state put together. School districts accounted for the remaining 25 per cent.

The Allegheny County per capita average of $154.49, plus the Philadelphia County debt, the speaker said, comprised $686,717,672, or two-thirds of the Pennsylvania local debt.

DEBTS COMPARED

The extent to which the bonded indebtedness could be increased within the limits of the state was stressed by the speaker. He said:

"A detailed computation discloses that townships in Pennsylvania have borrowed only 9.37 per cent of the legal maximum, and counties 21.42 per cent.

"On a comparative basis, the tax rate of Philadelphia in 1931 was $24.64 as compared with $24.48 in New York and $22.76 in Chicago. The Pittsburgh rate was $25.89 per thousand, compared with $17.62 in St. Louis, $24.36 in Baltimore, $28.35 in Boston and $15.35 in San Francisco, to mention cities of similar size."

OBITUARY

JOHN F. KEENAN, 21

Gun Fired by Blow In Christmas Holdup Here

John F. Keenan, 21, of Youngstown, who confessed that he killed his companion while holding up Morris Wolfe's Center avenue shoe shop on Christmas, today began serving a sentence of seven to 20 years in the penitentiary.

Sentence was imposed yesterday by Judge James H. Gray, who fixed the crime at second-degree murder after Keenan had pleaded.

A bullet from Keenan's gun discharged accidentally when he struck Wolfe, according to Keenan, entered the head of Austin Cullinan, 26, of Youngstown, Keenan's companion.

JAPANESE HERE SEES NO WAR

As Japanese troops take control of Harbin and Chinese regulars mass troops in Shanghai, the Col House of Japan" explained in Pittsburgh that no war existed and the strife was a mere misunderstanding of policing disorders.

Count Kabayama

Count A. Kabayama, leading liberal influence of Japan and son of a late minister of the navy, explained Tokio had not declared war and he did not expect serious developments with the League of Nations or this country. He said:

"Japanese troops stationed to guard railroad property in Manchuria have been seeking to restore order several years. Bandits were troubling us. When some of the Chinese regular troops joined with the bandits, the Japanese were forced to shoot into their ranks. The presence of our ships at Shanghai does not mean a threat—merely a display of strength."

The visitor was the guest of Bishop Herbert Welch here yesterday. They had attended Wesleyan College, Middletown, Conn., together and renewed their friendship when Bishop Welch was stationed in Japan for 12 years. Count Kabayama is engaged in the steel business in Japan.

Traffic Engineer Kiwanian Speaker

Lewis W. McIntyre, chief engineer of the Bureau of Traffic Planning, will be the principal speaker at tomorrow's noon luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis Club in the Fort Pitt Hotel. His subject will be "Make Pittsburgh the Safest City in 1932."

4 HIGH SCHOOLS GIVE MID-YEAR DIPLOMAS

197 in Peabody Class; South, South Hills, Westinghouse Also Hold Ceremonies

Graduating classes of four Pittsburgh high schools last night received diplomas at commencement exercises. Dr. J. Freeman Guy, first associate superintendent of Pittsburgh Public Schools, presented diplomas to 197 students of the Peabody High School in Soldiers' Memorial Hall. Invocation was said by the Rev. J. Frederick Virgin, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church.

South Hills High School's mid-year commencement was held in the school auditorium with William G. Kestner delivering the president's address. Other speakers included Sidney Schwartz, John Fronhertz and Louise Thomas.

WASHINGTON THEME

"George Washington" was the central theme of the exercises of the South High School in the school auditorium. Speakers were Margaret Allebrand, Glen A. Newmyer, Frank H. Gallagher, Stanley C. Letsky and Henry Gorges.

Dr. S. E. Weber presented diplomas to the senior class of George Westinghouse High School at ceremonies in the auditorium of the school. Invocation was said by the Rev. Russell L. Murphy and the Rev. Richard M. Fowles, pastor of Homewood Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church, gave the benediction.

Addresses were given by Rowland Stevens, Frances Weale, Vivian Wagner, Robert Thompson, Alexander Tomer and David Fisher.

OLIVER CEREMONIES

Graduation exercises will be held at the David B. Oliver High School tonight at 8 o'clock. Diplomas will be presented by Edward Rynearson, director of vocational guidance. J. E. Bailey, principal, will present the class.

Orations will be given by Lee J. Arderson, Laura Margaret Rodgers, Lulu R. Kern and Rudolph Joseph Sunal. Invocation will be given by the Rev. Joseph Horky.

STEEL OFFICIAL HURT IN CRASH

William E. Troutman, 56, of 6620 Dalzell place, vice president of Continental Roll and Steel Foundry, was injured early today when two automobiles crashed in the Boulevard of the Allies at Seneca street.

Troutman was riding in a car driven by George E. Madden, 45, of 315 Broadmoore avenue, Mt. Lebanon, when the machine was struck in the rear by a car driven by James O'Brien, 17, of 440 Climax street, according to police. The three men were taken to Mercy Hospital and treated for cuts and bruises. Both drivers were arrested on reckless driving charges.

District Biologists Meet Here Feb. 6

The biology section of the Western Pennsylvania Education Association will meet February 6 in the Hotel Schenley. Dr. D. R. Sumstine, director of research and curriculum study, will speak on "The Status of Biology."

Fifth Victim Dies Of Food Poisoning

FRESNO, Cal., Jan. 27.—(AP.)—One more death from thallium poisoning has pushed the total to five as authorities learned today 45 Mexican laborers partook of tortillas containing the substance, for which there is no known antidote. The fifth death occurred yesterday. Mrs. Nicholas Nunez, 32, mother of four children who preceded her as victims, succumbed.

Twelve persons, all Mexicans, are receiving treatment.

Arizona Convict Bolts Fourth Time

FLORENCE, Ariz., Jan. 27.—(AP.)—Jack Hunter, serving 15 to 30 years for assault with intent to murder, last night made his fourth escape from the Arizona State Prison, and took along three other fellow-prisoners.

Hiding in the tank of an oil truck, Hunter, Alton Self, William Hill, prison librarian, and William Hartz, left the prison. They kidnaped the driver of the oil truck, but later released him.

'Topsy' Doesn't Know Where Wealth Went

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 27.—(AP.)—Rosetta Duncan, creator of the stage and screen character of Topsy in "Topsy and Eva," has balked a bankruptcy referee's inquiry into what became of the reported $900,000 net profit earned by her and her sister, Vivian.

"Gosh, judge, I really don't know."

So replied Rosetta to questions as to what became of the money and the Duncan automobiles.

Voters Defeat Widow Of Murdered Sheriff

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Jan. 27.—(AP.)—Mrs. Maude Hendrix, widow of Sheriff Marcel Hendrix, who was one of six officers killed by the two Young brothers, January 2, was defeated yesterday in her race to fill the unexpired term of her husband.

Scott Curtis, a constable, was elected as Sheriff to serve until December 31. He won by a majority of 34 votes.

Pitcairn Chorus To Give Program

The twelfth performance of the Stephen C. Foster Community Chorus of Pitcairn, will be given tomorrow evening in the Pitcairn High School Auditorium. Alberta Kessinger will accompany the chorus of 35 voices, under the direction of Prof. Robert J. McDowell. The program consists of a group of four popular songs, a piano duet by Miss Kessinger and Sara Elizabeth Wonders, and "The Song of Thanksgiving," by Maunder.

Beef Steaks

And such beefsteaks! Husbands take them home for dinner! What could be better proof of their goodness?

Tender Rounds

Round Steak will repay in deliciousness for the time required to prepare it. Cut thick and cooked as you would a pot roast, it becomes meltingly tender and you can make oodles of brown gravy for the mashed potatoes. And who doesn't like "gravy bread?" lb. 25c

Juicy Sirloins

Steak and onions! How long since you served this heart-warming dish? A sirloin's the best cut to use . . . it sautes nicely and the onions can be cooked right in the same pan. Serve with a baked potato . . . a regular man's dinner! Priced 18 cents less a pound. lb. 27c

Tenderloins

When friend husband stops at McCann's for a steak, he usually buys a tenderloin. Probably because he wants to cook it himself and a McCann tenderloin couldn't help but be good . . . regardless of the cook. This is the week to eat tenderloins—25c less a pound. lb. 30c

Vitamins at a bargain price

SPINACH 5c a lb.

You may eat Spinach because it's good for you, but McCann's Spinach is really good. Young, tender leaves free from sand. We sell more of it than any other vegetable.

Save money on Favorite

COFFEE 3 lbs. 49c

Favorite is roasted on our premises . . . it's fresh. And the price you pay is for the coffee . . . not the container. A blend for those who prefer a mild flavor.

DIOCESAN FUNDS WILL ASSIST PARISHES

Episcopalians Vote Aid To Units; Bishop Sherrill Talks at Missionary Service

A resolution empowering the board of trustees of the Pittsburgh Diocese of the Protestan Episcopal Church of America to employ funds to relieve the indebtedness of parishes was adopted yesterday by the sixty-seventh annual three-day convention in session in Trinity Church.

Holy communion was celebrated by Bishop Mann, assisted by the Rt. Rev. Henry Knox Sherrill, bishop of Massachusetts; the Rev. Homer A. Flint, executive secretary of the diocese; the Rev. William F. Boyle, general missionary of the diocese; the Very Rev. N. I. High Moor, dean of the cathedral, and the Rev. Thomas J. Bigham, secretary of the convention.

Bishop and Mrs. Mann gave a reception in the afternoon. At 7:30 a missionary service in the Cathedral was followed by an address by Bishop Sherrill, who discussed the place of the church in civilization, saying:

"The world has become a geographical unit. Despite the nationalism of the political isolationist, we must consider peace and war and trade in world terms. The task of the church is not only to reach every child of man, but to penetrate every problem of life everywhere."

RESCUE CALLED FAKE; 2 HELD

MONONGAHELA Pa., Jan. 27—The heroic rescue of Frank Gable, 59, by William Mylan, 44, roomer, when Gable's house and service station burned a few days ago, had been pre-arranged, it was reported as Gable and Mylan were held for court on charges of arson and attempt to defraud an insurance company. The hearing was before Alderman Thomas Ward.

Police say Mylan confessed that gasoline was sprinkled about and set on fire and the rescue was pre-arranged.

The secret conferences that Mayor Walker had with the New York bankers had most of us wondering who was trying to borrow from whom. . . . Headline: Marie Saxon, wife of theatrical weekly editor's son, has baby boy. . . . Another critic?

Donald Meek, Veteran, Cast in 'Wayward'

Donald Meek, veteran character actor of stage and screen, has been given an important role in "Wayward," the Nancy Carroll-Richard Arlen screen play being produced at the New York studio.

Stuart Erwin Has Role In Colbert Film

Stuart Erwin, film comedian, arrived in New York recently with his bride, June Collyer. Erwin will go to work soon at a New York studio in Claudette Colbert's next picture, "Sensation."

Kidded by Everybody Else, Screen Now to Poke Fun at Itself

By HARRISON CARROLL

(Copyright, 1932, by King Features Syndicate)

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 27.

Kidded by everybody else, Hollywood now is getting ready to poke fun at itself.

And this picture has nothing to do with the long-discussed Universal production of "Once in a Lifetime." It is a brand new story being prepared by a staff of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer writers. If okayed, it will incorporate the unreleased "March of Time" revue, over which M. G. M. officials have been wrinkling their brows for many moons.

As I hear it, the screen treatment will be completed in a short time. This done, Harry Rapf and other studio officials will have to pass upon it. Once given their approval, the picture will go into early production with Charles (Chuck) Reisner directing and with Jimmy Durante and several other names added to the cast.

Just to freshen your memory, the "March of Time" was withheld from release because of the public's sudden rejection of musicals. It was a gorgeous production and featured such stars as De Wolfe Hopper, Marie Dressler, Fay Templeton and Weber and Fields.

If M. G. M. pulls this coup, it will be the second time it has enjoyed the last laugh at the wiseacres. When W. S. Van Dyke returned from Africa, Hollywood decreed "Trader Horn" a total loss. It ended up one of the years biggest money-makers.

GOSSIP OF CELEBS

Dorothy Lee goes into the hospital the first of the week for X-rays of her appendix. . . . Remember Frank Mayo? These days, he's managing a suburban motion picture theater. . . . Creighton Chaney, son of Lon, wanted to do picture work under the name of Lon Chaney, Jr. Studio officials persuaded him not to. . . . Saw Jackie Cooper showing Kermit Roosevelt around the M. G. M. lot. . . . Ronald Colman's picture has been delayed so he can meet Dick Barthelmess in China. They'll leave Mrs. Barthelmess in Shanghai and take a side-trip to look the war over. . . . Bill Powell has given Mervyn Leroy an ice-bucket with this inscription: Motion picture workers' contest. Second prize awarded to Mervyn Leroy by the champion Bill Powell. . . . Over in Albuquerque they still mutter about the way Greta Garbo hung sheets over her window when the train passed through. . . . A knowing little urchin in this town has developed a swell racket. When feminine passengers get off the train, he comes up, "Pardon me, Miss Bennett," he says, "won't you buy a newspaper?" Flustered, but pleased, milady invariably buys the paper and usually pays for it with a dime.

When he has finished directing Ann Harding in "Westward Passage," Robert Milton will go to London to produce a play and realize a dream.

The red-haired director (he's getting a bit bald) will dramatize Patrick Hamilton's novel, "Midnight Bell." The scene of the story is a tavern near London, and Milton will take his completed play there for its first staging.

During his stay he plans to buy an estate which he has had his eye on for a long time. It is 22 miles from London. With the deed in his possession, the director plans to spend as much of his time there as he can.

Plan Stock Burlesque For Academy

The Academy, Pittsburgh burlesque house, will install its own company next Sunday midnight, following the completion of a successful season of Columbia circuit attractions. "Footlight Flashes" will be the first of the stock shows, each of which will open with the customary midnight performance. The Academy cast will be headed by Georgia Sothern, dancer, and Eddie "Nuts" Kaplan, Yiddish comedian, and will include Mildred Cozierre, Eddie Lloyd, Mildred Hart, Bee Craig, Frank Mallahan, Les Sponsler, Sid Rogers and Billy Joy.

Four Marx Brothers Prepare New Film

The Four Marx Brothers are in Hollywood preparing for their next Paramount picture. With the comedians are Herman Mankiewicz and S. J. Perelman, who worked on their last picture, "Money Business," and Bert Ruby and Harry Kalmar, Broadway writers, who will collaborate on the coming production.

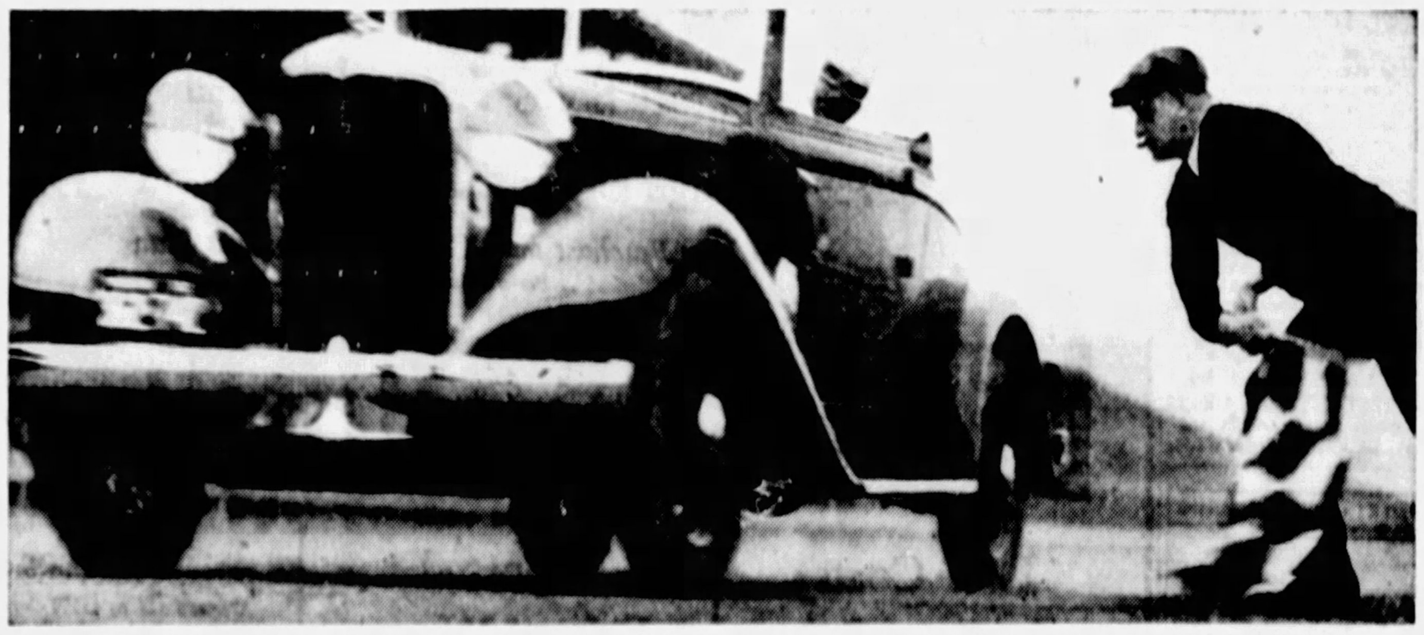
"I'VE NEVER HAD A RIDE LIKE THIS" SAYS Peter De Paolo



ABOVE: PETER DE PAOLO, HOLDER OF THE WORLD'S SPEED RECORD FOR 500 MILES AT INDIANAPOLIS, MAKING SPEED TEST OF NEW DESOTO SIX

● "I've driven thousands of cars. Won races. Broken records. But I've never had a ride like this.

"They told me to put the new DeSoto through its paces. Go the limit and get the truth. I did.

"Ten thrilling days. 3000 cross-country miles. Over the worst of the Alleghenies. With a final 300 mile sprint at as high as 70 m. p. h. on a track.

"What a car! Better writers than I have tried to describe the thrill of Floating Power. But when I say this car has no vibration . . . I mean it.

"You sense it instantly . . . right from the getaway. Increase your speed . . . 20, 30, 40 . . . it's always the same uncanny smoothness. And wide open you just 'float' along. I tell you . . . it's the easiest car I've ever driven. No effort. You just relax.

"And imagine the thrill of driving without touching the clutch. It's automatic . . . your left foot is free. No buttons to press. No gadgets. I've seen lots of miracles . . . but this automatic clutch of DeSoto's is the prize of them all.

"I'm not an artist . . . or a beauty expert either. But another thing that delighted me was the front view of the new DeSoto. It gives the impression of speed that I always associate with racing cars.

"Yes, Sir . . . this car has everything. And if you doubt it for a second . . . take a tip from a man who's been making a living driving automobiles for the past twenty years. Go and see it. You've got a big thrill coming."

How Old?

He doesn't look a day over fifty.
And feels like forty.
At the age of 62.

That's the happy state of health and pep a man enjoys when he gives his vital organs a little stimulant!

When your system is stagnant and you feel sluggish, headachy, half-alive—don't waste money on "tonics" or "regulators" or similar patent medicines. Stimulate the liver and bowels. Use a famous physician's prescription every drug store keeps. Just ask them for Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin.

This appetizing syrup is made from fresh laxative herbs, active senna, and pure pepsin. One dose will clear up almost any case of headache, biliousness, constipation. But if you want to keep in fine shape, feel fit the year 'round, take a spoonful of Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin every few days. You'll eat better, sleep better and feel better in every way. You will never need to take another laxative.

Give the children a little of this delicious syrup two or three times a week. A gentle, natural stimulant that makes them eat and keeps the bowels from clogging. And saves them from so many sick spells and colds.

Have a sound stomach, active liver and strong bowel muscles that expel every bit of waste and poison every day! Just keep a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin on hand; take a stimulating spoonful every now and then. See if you don't feel new vigor in every way. Syrup pepsin isn't expensive.

Plays, Players, By-Play

By WILLIAM J. LEWIS

From tomorrow on one may box-office for "The Merchant of Venice," next attraction in the Nixon, opening Tuesday, February 2, for five nite and two matinee performances. That veteran actor, Otis Skinner, who played Shylock when many of us didn't even know how to spell Shy's name, will be seen as the Venetian merchant. Portia, defeater of his pound-of-flesh idea, will be portrayed by one of the stage's most revered ladies, Maude Adams.

Small Timer says you gotta have a pull these days to even draw your own money, if any, from the bank.

The Alvin, yawning after its hibernation, will come to life about the same time as the groundhog. That is the big front doors will be thrown open next Monday so the folks can get to the box office, where tickets will be on sale for the next Professional Players' production, "Experience Unnecessary." Described as a sophisticated camedy, it will have Verree Teasdale and Walter Woolf in the stellar roles and Rex O'Malley heading the supporting cast. February 8 is the date of presentation.

Small Timer says all these recipes for long-life have some catch to them, like behaving yourself—or sum'p'n'.

We've been quite a while without a musical show, so we ought to be about ready for a couple of 'em in one week when February 15 rolls around. Well, ready or not, we're going to get them. One will be Fred Stone's merry concoction, "Smiling Faces," which will bring Fred and his daughter, Paula, to the Alvin. At the same time "The Band Wagon" will come blaring into the Nixon with the New York stars, Fred and Adele Astaire, Frank Morgan and Helen Broderick.

Small Timer says there may still be guys with money to burn, but they're not going around and saying "gimme a match" any more.

A double chin's no fun —if it's your chin

★Julia Foster, whose news flashes tell you what's what in beauty culture.

TO INCREASE YOUR "EYE APPEAL".....
You can't languish in appropriate fashion, after candle-light, unless your eyes are touched up with eye shadow. There's a new eye shadow "silver flecked," just out. Here it is being applied the right way. (Blue eyes, use blue shadow; brown eyes, use green; both may use "silver flecked".)

WHEN CHINS PLAY DOUBLES.....
The game of doubles is no fun when it concerns your chin. Most women don't know how to manage the chin, so I'm told by Myndall Cain, famous beautician. They toss the skin recklessly back and forth, in a vain effort to remove the surplus fat. Use a gentle, rotating motion, says Miss Cain, as you see it demonstrated here. And P. S. . . . In order that any skin treatment be effective, the pores must be receptive. They must function to lubricate the tissues and stimulate circulation. Therefore, this nationally recognized beauty expert insists on a thorough Palmolive Soap cleansing first and she dips the cotton pads in Palmolive lather before giving this chin treatment.

TST, TST! LOOK AT THOSE FINGERS.....
Broken finger nails? My dear, you haven't been oiling your finger tips properly. Dip them in olive oil for a minute every night and again when you have your weekly manicure. Also—here's a hint from the world's favorite beauty salons—if you use Palmolive Soap for your manicure you'll find its oily lather soothes, softens and flatters the whole hand, not only the finger tips.

"YOU DON'T KNOW HOW TO WASH YOUR FACE".....
Wouldn't you be startled if anyone made that accusation to YOU? Yet, my dear, it may be only too true. For instance, you should always use luke-warm water. Never hot. That reddens and shrivels delicate skin. Use the hands, a soft cloth or a flesh brush (pictured here) to work Palmolive lather into the pores. And—if you're going to listen to some 20,000 of the world's beauty experts—always use Palmolive Soap.

Beauty in a test-tube

OLIVE oil for the complexion! Always known to keep skin soft, supple, youthful. In thousands of years nothing has ever been found to surpass this beauty secret of the ancients.

But can you get enough olive oil in soap? How much, actually, goes into Palmolive? Here is the exact amount—in this test tube at the right. The exact amount used in every cake of Palmolive. To this generous olive oil content can be directly traced the great benefits of Palmolive Soap to the complexion.

Do you know what is in any other soap you may be using on your face? Palmolive tells you. Palmolive is the only large-selling soap made of vegetable oils exclusively—the only one using olive oil as a base. Other Palmolive ingredients are simply oils from palm trees, necessary to produce a richer, creamier, more workable lather than possible with olive oil alone. Palmolive's green color comes from the natural oils of which it is made. There's not a drop of artificial coloring added.

Knowing the value of a liberal amount of olive oil in soap, more than 20,000 of the world's leading beauty experts have for years urged women to use Palmolive Soap as the finest possible safeguard for lovely skin.

Patricia Pitt's Sprightly Comment on Pittsburgh's Society Events

Now that a round of gay evening affairs, keeping the smart set up until all hours, is over, late morning affairs are increasingly popular.

An informal morning event tomorrow will be the musicale to be held in the home of Mrs. Joseph W. Marsh, Woodland road.

Ann Vernon Root, soprano, will sing two groups of songs. The first will include three old French songs, and the second songs by Pearl Curran, Jamie Rogers and Deems Taylor.

Patti Rude Baldridge, contralto, will sing a group of songs and Salter's "The Cry of Rachel."

Compositions by Grieg, Verdi-Liszt, Leschetizky, Liszt and Liszt-Busoni will be played by Anthony Caputo, pianist. The accompanists for this morning of music will be Martha Meyers Murdoch and Earl Mitchell.

Have you heard that Thomas Marshall Scott, of Claybourne-on-the-Miles, Md., formerly of Maple avenue, Edgewood, has been elected commodore of the Maryland Yacht Club? Mr. Scott has many friends here, and so have his three children, Thomas Scott, Jr., Charles Scott and Elizabeth Ann Scott.

Among the Pittsburghers who have summer homes near St. Michael's-on-the-Miles, where the Yacht Club holds a regatta each year, are the E. W. Mudges, the R. Templeton Smiths and the John O. Millers.

Mearns Tells Council Of Educational Work

Something of the educational experiments which he has conducted among children and which have brought out "the voice of the individual spirit" was related to the Pittsburgh Council of Jewish Women yesterday by Hughes Mearns, noted educator and author. Some were eighth grade experiments, others were conducted among very little children, but in all cases interesting results were obtained.

By establishing a sense of equality and sympathetic understanding with the children and by asking no questions, indeed using more of the usual teaching methods, children were put at ease in their association with their "teacher," who, as he said, had a struggle to keep from teaching them. The children were encouraged to speak and write their thoughts with illuminating and at times amusing results, several examples of which Mr. Mearns read to his audience.

The children spoke with a language all their own, a language of irregular cadences such as was probably used for centuries before regular speech was taken over, Mr. Mearns said. The speaker holds that the urge to write is more important than what is written, and that the way towards perfection is through a tremendous amount of blundering.

Sharpsburg Girl, East End Man Married

Dr. and Mrs. David Handmacher, of Cleveland, announce the marriage of their niece, Miss Willa Handmacher, of Sharpsburg, to E. N. Rosenthal, son of Mrs. Lottie Rosenthal, of South St. Clair street, which was solemnized yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, by Dr. Samuel Goldenson, of Rodef Shalom Synagogue, in his study. Mr. and Mrs. Rosenthal will reside in the Embassy Apartments, Mt. Lebanon.

Federation to Sponsor Bridge Lesson Series

The pressing need for financial assistance in order to keep students in school lest they join the ranks of the unemployed has prompted the Allegheny County Federation, through its department of education, to sponsor a series of six contract bridge lessons. The department is at present in receipt of 15 calls for scholarship assistance and the proceeds of the lessons will go towards answering those calls.

The series will begin Monday, February 15, in the Oppenheim-Collins auditorium with Florence Chisholm Douglass as instructor. It was Mrs. Douglass who introduced contract to Pittsburgh five years ago and she was the first woman chosen for the Work-Whitehead radio games in 1925.

Dr. Holmes to Be Guest Of Rev. and Mrs. Amos

During his stay in Pittsburgh, the Rev. Dr. John Hayes Holmes will be the guest of the Rev. and Mrs. Waldo Amos. Dr. Holmes comes here to speak before the Friday morning club and the Women's International League for Peace on Friday evening. It was at the suggestion of Mrs. Amos that an advertising company has given $1,000 worth of space throughout the state to peace posters. The Women's International League, the League of Women Voters, American Association of University Women, Rodef Shalom Sisterhood, Council of Jewish Women, the Council of Catholic Women and a number of other organizations have co-operated in the advertising movement.

FAWN HEADS LIST OF SPRING COLORS

Sketched in Paris

Paris Bureau,
Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

PARIS, Jan. 27. — Fawn leaps to the front of the color parade this spring. In every house one sees dress and sports coats and suits in the lovely soft shade of fawn that is so becoming and flattering. It is a splendid compromise between brown and gray with the good points of both. Beige is another color that looks like getting a good play this season. It hasn't been very popular for some seasons, but of course there are always some women who think of their spring clothes in terms of a beige outfit. Those of you who get a suit or coat of fawn with brown fur will find that you are right in the right picture for spring. As usual there will be some inordinately smart suits richly befurred and grand for wear at smart places from luncheon on. A richly furred suit is decidedly out of place in the morning and the woman who buys only one suit should be careful to see that the model is not of the lavish type. Otherwise its usefulness will be limited, while that of a simple, perfectly cut and detailed suit is endless. Better to be underdressed than overdressed at any function—that's half the secret of being a good dresser.

* * *

SHOWN TODAY is a sketch of a new spring suit. It is by Paquin and is typical of that house. The short, fitted jacket is of pale fawn colored duvetyn, the skirt, also of duvetyn, is a shade or two darker than the jacket, while the blue fox trimming cleverly links the different shades. A decided circular flare is noted in the jacket peplum, while the skirt has a slight flare. There is a satin blouse that matches the jacket in tone.

DUQUESNE GAS DEAL AIRED

HARRISBURG, Jan. 27.—(AP)—An allegation that a banking firm made more than $2,000,000 profit in financing the Duquesne Gas Corporation was being studied today by attorneys for the Public Service Commission and other interested parties preparatory to a further hearing February 10.

The charge was contained in a report of the Public Service Commission's Bureau of Accounts at a hearing yesterday. The report analyzed complicated transactions by which, it said, Purland, Reuter & Co., of New York, acquired the property for $2,844,344 and disposed of it through subsidiaries for $6,673,307.

The investigation was an outgrowth of an inquiry to determine whether the concern is a public service company under the state law. The Duquesne Gas Corporation sells natural gas to wholesale distributing companies and large industrial plants.

AKRON DEFECTS AGAIN CHARGED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(AP)—The House Naval Committee was told today that an investigation of the materials used in the Akron which two men had charged were faulty led to the dismissal of the men and that many defects were left in the airship.

E. C. Davidson, of Mount Ida, Va., general secretary of the International Association of Machinists, related the story after Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, chief of the Naval Bureau of Aeronautics, had said the Akron was far superior to any other airship ever built.

BERLIN, Jan. 27.—(AP.)—Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the Graf Zeppelin, told the newspaper Mittag Zeitung today that he could not understand the campaign of criticism in the United States against the airship Akron, unless it was due to anti-aircraft faults.

The aeronautical expert, who has inspected the Akron and gained an excellent impression, admitted it was heavier than the original specifications, but contended this was not a technical fault because it was caused by strengthening parts in accordance with the wishes of the Navy Department.

SLEUTH HELD ON ATTACK CHARGE

Precinct Detective Edward Pritchard, attached to Carrick police station, was held for court by Alderman Jacob Yeager, after Mrs. Grace H. Edwards, 26, 308 Nobles Lane, Carrick, testified he had attempted to attack her in a Carrick apartment. Pritchard made no defense. He has been suspended by Police Inspector Dennis Hennessey pending action by the trial board.

Mrs. Edwards, pretty, mother of two children, testified last Friday Pritchard offered her a job as a private detective. He arranged for her to meet him, and then escorted her to an apartment in Linview street, Carrick, she said. In the apartment Pritchard is alleged to have made advances. She escaped and notified her husband, who in turn had Pritchard arrested.

BURGOYNE BOND SUIT LOOMS

Action may be brought by George F. Taylor, Jr., deputy state secretary of banking, to recover $125,000 in bonds exhibited by Arthur G. Burgoyne, chief investigator for Roy D. Schooley, deposed City Treasurer, as surety for deposits in the closed Franklin Savings and Trust Company.

Taylor, when asked if any action would be taken to recover the bonds, since he learned yesterday where they came from, said:

"If we do, that will be made a record of the court."

The bonds, it was learned, were never the property of the Franklin Savings and Trust Company, but who lent them to the City Treasurer's office has not as yet been revealed. There have been rumors that they were lent by a private individual, after Controller James P. Kerr had repeatedly inquired of Schooley if the bonds in the bank in question were properly protected by personal surety bonds or corporate bonds.

District Attorney Andrew T. Park said today that county detectives had served subpenas on nearly all of the 60 witnesses who will be needed at the trial of Mayor Charles H. Kline and his deposed director of supplies, Bertram L. Succop, at Butler, March 14.

TAX ON FOREIGN OIL PROPOSED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(INS.)—An excise tax on imported oil and gasoline, designed to raise $102,571,200 revenue annually, was proposed to the House Ways and Means Committee today by Wirt Franklin, of Oklahoma, president of the Independent Petroleum Association.

He said he spoke for all the domestic producers who are suffering from competition with imported oil. The tax urged by the oil producers would replace their proposal for a tariff on oil for the present session of Congress.

Franklin suggesting a tax of 84 cents a barrel on imported crude oil, 2 cents a gallon on fuel oil, 4 cents a gallon on gasoline and 4 cents a gallon on lubricating oil, charged that big importers, including the Mellon interests, are awaiting until they can buy up American oil companies "at sheriff's prices."

BLUE LAW RAIDS ON IN MIAMI

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 27.—(INS.)—America's winter playground stood in jeopardy of losing that reputation today as county officers moved vigorously forward to wipe out gambling, whisky selling and "open" Sundays in Miami.

A campaign to enforce all laws, including the Sunday "blue" laws, was announced unexpectedly last night by County Solicitor Fred W. Pine and Sheriff M. P. Lehman simultaneously with a series of raids on suspected gambling establishments.

Pine said Sunday "blue" laws will be invoked to keep closed on Sunday in the future all gasoline stations, cars for hire, street cars, golf courses where admission is charged, motion picture theaters, fruit stands and every other business except newspapers, restaurants and hotels.

17 Men Gathered 'Round a Conference Table

IT was last December—in the Executive Offices of May Stern & Co., Pittsburgh—and the purpose of this meeting was to discuss plans for a merchandising event in February.

Around this table sat the merchandise managers, buyers and executives of May Stern & Co. and affiliated stores. They had come from many parts of the country—each with facts and figures from a careful survey made in their respective cities, to find out exactly what the public wanted in February.

The result was startling! There was such an unanimity of opinion, public demand was so definitely outspoken—our way was clear.

And, therefore, while you were buying Christmas presents on that self-same day last December, we were planning for an event that will not be "just another February Sale."

Safety Contest Cuts Truck Accidents

The fourth inter-fleet truck contest sponsored by the Western Pennsylvania Safety Council has resulted in 4,278 vehicles from 94 fleets, traveling 32,383,389 miles and reducing accidents to 35.2 per 100,000 driving hours. This is a decrease of 27.7 per cent in accidents since the first contest was held.

Dicky Offers Disapproval of a Comedy Line

As I had secretly feared, Dicky's being in the room made me so self-conscious over the revision of my third act that, when I took my pencil and started to read what Lillian had typed, I found myself unable for the first minute or two to get any coherent idea of what I myself had dictated. Dicky, himself, came to my rescue. Ostensibly taking up a magazine he turned his chair so that his back was toward me.

"You won't have anything for me to look at for a half hour or so, I know," he said comfortingly. "There is an article in here I have been wanting to read for a week and haven't found the time. If you need me, yell; otherwise I'll Browse among the green pastures of Literature, with a capital B and a capital L."

It was fully five minutes, however, before I could release myself from the inhibition of his presence so near me. It seemed as though he were looking over my shoulder, waiting for each page to come from my blue pencil. Finally, however, I realized that he was not pretending to read the magazine, but was genuinely absorbed in it and was paying no attention whatever to what I was doing.

Fortified by that knowledge, I attacked the revision as wholeheartedly as I had done my dictation. I was distinctively apprehensive, for it did not seem possible that any work dictated at such speed as I had used, could be worth anything. But soon it dawned upon me that Lillian had been right when she said that creative work done "hot off the griddle" was often the best.

I could not judge of my work as compared with that of other playwrights, although I was heartened by Lillian's dictum that it was the finest thing she had read in many a day, but I realized that this third act of mine which I had begun and completed between midnight and morning was distinctly better in my opinion than my first two acts had been. Whether Philip Veritzen, who had approved the first part of the play unqualifiedly would subscribe to that opinion was, of course, upon the laps of the gods.

I was about half through my revision as this conviction came to me, and I suddenly felt the need of another opinion. I knew Dicky's high critical faculty, and I spoke his name with the feeling that if he approved my work, even if he were not as enthusiastic as Lillian had been, I should be doubly armed for my interview with Mr. Veritzen.

"Will you read these now?" I said, thrusting the pages I had revised into his hands.

"Dee-lighted!" he quoted smilingly and took the pages eagerly while I went back, ostensibly to my revising but in reality to a furtive searching of his face as he read over the revised pages.

I had found so few errors in spelling or construction, thanks to Lillian's skilled professional training which enabled her to turn out perfect copy, that I was well ahead of my time limit and could afford to rest while I tried to determine Dicky's verdict.

He was evidently approving. He read down each page attentively, smiling occasionally as some line of dialogue pleased him. Then I noticed his face became more intent and his eyebrows knitted in patent disapproval. When he suddenly glanced up, so quickly that I had not time to resume a pretense of work, he forced his lips to a smile, laughably incongruous with his frowning eyebrows.

"I agree with Lil," he said heartily. "You have done a mighty good piece of work here."

I rose from my chair, pushing my manuscript to the back of the desk and crossing to him before he could rise, put my hands upon his shoulders and looked down into his eyes.

"Don't try to fool me, Dicky," I said earnestly. "You may not disapprove of the thing in its entirety, but there is something about it, you don't like. What is it? Please tell me!"

"Suppose that there is some little thing," he parried, for where Dicky's critical judgment is concerned, he will not indulge himself in the "little white lies" or rather the deep ivory ones which he uses to round off the sharp edges of his social problems. "Why look for trouble? Lil hasn't seen it or she would have spoken of it. Neither have you or you'd have blue penciled it. It's a hundred to one that old man Veritzen will share your opinion and Lil's. In all probability I'm blood brother to the lad who claimed that the whole regiment, barring himself, was out of step. So let's forget it!"

"Not, let's not!" I said vehemently, for in addition to my desire for honest criticism, my feminine curiosity was aroused, and that, as everyone knows is a thirst which must be slaked forthwith. "I insist upon knowing, Dicky. I—I—can't go on with the work until you've told me."

"Remember! you've brought it on your own head," he yielded. "It is not much, except that in this give and take between two of your minor characters, where the husband looks at the photograph of a former spouse of the lady and says he looks like a chimpanzee with the croup—of course, it's a comedy relief line, and you need one right there, but I'm afraid it will fall flat, because no man would ever say anything like that. A woman might, but never a man."

I had hard work to control a gasp of astonishment. Was it possible that Dicky had forgotten?

A FAMILY THAT'S "HAPPY TO REPORT"

MISS HELEN KEASER

that REM ends coughs quickly

The story of the Keaser family's experience with REM could well begin: "We're happy to report." "Since we started to use REM, all seven of us, myself, my husband, my four children, and my sister, wouldn't be without it," reports Mrs. Richard Keaser of 2469 Newkirk St., Philadelphia. "All of us get colds-and-coughs during the winter. Sometimes I have to keep George home from school on that account, and Helen, too, gets a cough once in a while, but REM ends it quickly. The whole family finds it good. I guess Mr. Viner the druggist at 28th & Cumberland thinks we use REM like candy, but there are a lot of us who take it." One member of a family tells another--and REM soon becomes the family cough medicine.

Insist on REM-because it ends coughs quickly
Insist on REM-because it's pleasant to take
Insist on REM-because it's perfectly harmless

Authorities Say 2 Million School Children Are Suffering From Serious Forms of Malnutrition Which Sustaining, Vitamin A-Rich Meat Fats Will Help Correct

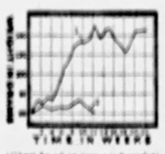
The chances are one out of three or four, child specialists say, that your child is malnourished. Fully ⅓ of the energy value of a normal child's diet, they say, should be derived from fat foods. Fats are sheer energy, 2¼ times more nourishing in this respect than any other form of food. Yet so often children avoid fats and refuse to eat the nourishing fatty part of meats.

Don't let your child be fat-starved. Authorities warn against letting fat-starvation continue through the young, formative years. Symptoms of malnutrition, left unchecked, may develop into lifelong handicaps. Begin today serving Good Luck meat fat margarine at every meal.

Good Luck Margarine contains the finest of meat fats. Its economy enables you to let the children spread it on thick. Just note how they relish its delicious flavor. And observe how they thrive under its sustaining energy. In university tests, Good Luck was found rich in the important growth vitamin A and also found to contain the valuable bone-building vitamin D. The Committee on Foods of the American Medical Association has given it the Seal of Acceptance. Thus it is an ideal food in the daily diet of growing boys and girls. Buy a pound today.

Warning: Cheaper Margarines Lack Good Luck Health and Food Values

Lack of vitamin A is a common cause of malnutrition. Line 1 shows growth rate of standard test animals fed Good Luck meat fat margarine, proving high vitamin A content of Good Luck.



Line 2 shows growth rate of standard test animals fed vegetable "nut" margarine. Marked loss of weight indicates serious absence of growth vitamin A in this kind of margarine. (Further tests proved Good Luck richer in vitamin D than any other spread for bread tested.)

Woman Says Our Hearts Get Sprained, Not Broken

Is yours a blasted life—and are you determined to stay that way?

Johnny's was—

And he indignantly refused any suggestions on how to get over it.

Having been in pouts like that ourself, we suspected that he was really getting a Big Bang Out of considering himself a Tragic Hero—and said so. Which didn't add to our popularity.

But here's Bettina—and she's on our side.

When you read her letter you'll snicker—

And then, if you have sense, you'll apply its courage and common sense to your own life. No matter who you are or what you have, it will be good for what ails you.

JUST A SPRAIN

"Dear Miss Martin:

"Can a broken heart be healed? My answer is emphatically yes. An irreparable loss, such as death, may cause grief that only time can heal, but a heartache over a love affair, though as painful as a sore thumb that throbs unceasingly for a time, is never really serious—unless we let it be. That is because it is never a real break. It isn't even a crack! It is a sprain, more than anything else. Listen, and I'll tell you of my own experience.

"To be brief, I was young. I loved him—and I married him. I knew there were certain rather glaring faults to contend with, but I felt that my benign influence would overcome these (the old story!).

"After three years, I woke one day to discover that for a good many weeks he'd been having an affair with another woman. It was none too fragrant, either. Everyone, it seemed, had known of it, except myself. Everyone wondered what I would do.

LOST WEIGHT

"I left him—which was apparently exactly what he wanted. At any rate, I was as thoroughly forgotten, once outside his door, as though I had never existed. I took an apartment by myself, locked myself in, and contemplated suicide—for a while. But the desire to live beat me to it.

"I decided that I must go on, a broken, disillusioned, heart-sick woman. There was an ache, in what I supposed was my heart, worse than any physical pain. I could neither eat, sleep nor weep. I walked the floor of that apartment for four days and most of the nights. I refused to see anyone. I felt that the end of all things had come.

"Well, at the end of four days, weary, exhausted, but too nervous to remain indoors any longer, I dressed to go out. As I stood before the mirror, fastening my dress, I noticed I was losing weight. My dress was hanging loosely, where before it had been snug. Walking down the street, I saw a scale, fished for a penny, and got on it.

"Sisters, I had lost 15 pounds! And I found room in my aching heart to rejoice! Over and above the wretchedness which engulfed me I heard myself chortling—'15 pounds! You've lost 15 pounds! Oh, boy!' And right then I came out of hiding! I felt the relief of tears at last. When the storm was over, I sallied forth (still with an aching bosom, remember), and bought some new clothes!

SPARED FROM DRUNKARD

"For several months I cherished my sorrow. But I made myself laugh. And in the laughing, I regained both common sense and my sense of humor. The 'busted heart' healed. Looking back now, it is clear that I was spared by a kindly fate from a life as the wife of a drunkard and a libertine. At the time I couldn't see it, but it was true.

"Take heed, you who are grieving. If you just must suffer, all right. But don't let it lick you! If some man has done you dirt, don't forget that he's having a swell time waiting for you to die of grief over him—and fool him! You can do it if you'll use a little grit and pep. I did. And it took the wind all out of his sails.

"If you'll just look ahead for some new interest in life, you'll find the sprain is soon healed!

"BETTINA"

Bravo, Bettina! Atta girl! A "busted heart" can mess your life up plenty—if you let it!

But if you get up and get going, you'll leave it behind you before you know it!

Girls Play Unfair and Dangerous Game in Toying with Young Men—Fay King

GEE! I COULD GET TO CARE FOR YOU IN A BIG WAY!
WHAT'S THE IDEA OF THROWIN' ME OVER—LIKE THIS? THERE MUST BE SOME OTHER GUY!
THERE ISN'T ANYONE ELSE— JUST WANT TO BE FREE!
FAY KING

By FAY KING

The other day a young man killed a girl and then committed suicide.

The girl's mother explained that the young couple had been going about together, but that the girl broke off the friendship when the young man grew serious in his attentions.

Some girls make a great fuss over every new young man they meet. They encourage and kid him along so that he will escort them about, spending money on entertainment and gifts.

They are quite clever at keeping these young men at a safe distance while at the same time they lead them on.

But breaking off such friendships is much more difficult than beginning them.

It is an unfair and dangerous game and too often ends in tragedy of some sort.

How to Keep Well

By DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

Thyroid Gland May Cause Backwardness of a Child

Many children are backward in their school work. When they come home with poor reports, they are often severely scolded. The parents forget that a poor school record is not always the fault of the child. It may be due to some physical disability, perhaps to a glandular disturbance.

Dr. Copeland

The body possesses several varieties of glands. Among them is the thyroid gland, associated with the "Adam's Apple" in the neck. When it operates normally this gland secretes a substance which greatly influences mental and physical health. When there is a lack of this substance, the child is slow in development and does not quickly grasp new things.

I do not mean to say that every backward child is suffering from a glandular disturbance. However, I do not believe most children are fundamentally lazy. They are willing and anxious to learn. Unfortunately, other factors may cause them to be backward in school work.

A simple physical defect, like enlarged tonsils or adenoids, vision, poor hearing or undernourishment, is sufficient to cause a child to be backward in school. When the defect is corrected, there is always an improvement in the general health and in school. I believe the possibility of a glandular disturbance should not be overlooked.

When the thyroid gland does not function properly, it interferes with the development of the body. Trouble in this gland may disturb the action of other glands of the body. Thus the "pituitary gland," the "adrenal," or "thymus gland" may suffer as a result of trouble in the thyroid gland.

The glandular condition can be determined by an examination. In this examination the height, weight, pulse rate, blood pressure and mental reactions are carefully studied. By means of a special test called the "basal metabolism test," it is possible to determine whether the thyroid gland is deficient in its action.

Since absence of the thyroid secretion is responsible for symptoms, treatment is directed to the feeding of extracts made from the thyroid glands of animals. This makes a powerful drug and should never be given without the supervision of a physician. He must determine the accurate dose.

The results obtained are gratifying and in many cases almost miraculous. After treatment the child makes tremendous strides in his physical and mental development. In many cases the medicine can be discontinued within a short time and the child continues in good health.

Backwardness of a Child age and height as determined by examination of a large number of persons. A few pounds above or below the average is a matter of little or no significance.

Z. H. Q.—Will application of very hot, alternating with very cold water, be injurious to the face in any way?

A.—This treatment is usually suggested in the case of enlarged pores and excessively oily skin—the applications may be used twice daily for about five or ten minutes, with good results.

Answers to Health Queries

Miss Gladys G. Q.—What should a girl of 17½ years of age, 5 feet 8 inches tall weigh, also a girl of 20, 5 feet 6 inches tall?

A.—They should weigh, respectively, about 137 and 132 pounds. This is about the average weight for people of this the high-flyers. Even so, we dunno!

-:- -:- The Beauty Box -:- -:-

By HELEN FOLLETT

When the body takes on an awkward posture, when walking is not brisk, but slouchy, the straightest, loveliest legs will get out of form; muscles of the calves go slack and fibers that cover ankle bones thicken. Carriage is an important element of beauty and one about which women don't think half enough.

Annoint frown lines with a heavy massage cream. Place thumb at lower end, first finger above. Keep the finger stationary and use the thumb as an iron, pressing upward. Three minutes of this treatment night and morning, followed by an ice rub, will help eradicate the mean little furrows. But the frowning habit must stop. That makes 'em.

Need more weight? Pile in bread and butter, olives, olive oil, nuts, cheese and cream. Every morning lap up a bowlful of cereal with plenty of sugar. Honey is good for skinny honeys. So is milk.

Calloused spots on the feet are produced by pressure and friction of the shoe. Soak the foot in warm water for five minutes, rub the heavy cuticle away with the flat, smooth side of a pumice stone. Keep in mind that the shoe will go immediately to work to produce more tough cuticle, so when shoe-buying time arrives, get broader kicks.

Eye shadows in cream form are to be preferred to the compacts; they blend in better and are more easily applied. The most popular colors are blue, green, mauve and brown, with blue leading all the others. Silver and bronze shadows are to be had, with finger nail varnish to match. All right, mebbe for

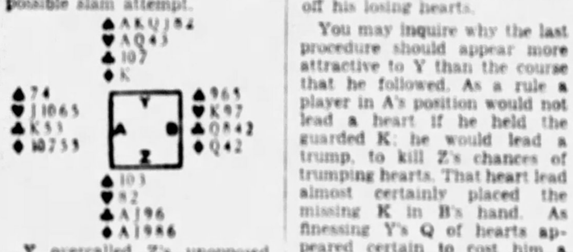
Contract Bridge -:- OFFICIAL SYSTEM As Adopted by Leading Authorities

By E. V. SHEPARD

Never Overbid Your Playing Ability

When your partner has made an opening bid and no opposing bid has intervened, your bid of one trick more than necessary in another suit is a demand bid, obligating your partner to keep contracting open until game can be bid. The next hand illustrates this point; it also shows how an optimistic bidder may venture so high that a certain game may be lost for an impossible slam attempt.



Y overcalled Z's unopposed bid of 1-Diamond, with 2-Spades. Z bid 3-Clubs, which Y answered with 3-Hearts. Thereupon Z shifted to 3-Spades, and Y jumped to 6-Spades. He lost one club and one heart trick. More expert play would have enabled him to make his small slam contract. Never bid beyond your expectations or skill.

The opening lead was B's lowest club, plainly showing fourth best. A won the low play from dummy with his K, and returned a low heart through the declarer. Instead of taking a losing finesse, Y might have put up his A. Then he could have gone game as follows: lay down his K of diamonds; put dummy in lead with its 10 of spades; lead the A of diamonds and discard a heart; lead a low diamond and trump it, leaving dummy's J-9 of diamonds good for two tricks. All he would then have had to do would be to pull trumps; lead and overtake his 10 of clubs with dummy's A (so as to run no risks that an overplay of dummy's J might entail); lay down the two good diamonds in dummy, and cast off his losing hearts.

You may inquire why the last procedure should appear more attractive to Y than the course that he followed. As a rule a player in A's position would not lead a heart if he held the guarded K; he would lead a trump, to kill Z's chances of trumping hearts. That heart lead almost certainly placed the missing K in B's hand. As finessing Y's Q of hearts appeared certain to cost him a penalty; the declarer should have tried to establish diamonds.

A played the next hand at 4-Spades. Before tomorrow decide whether or not A can fulfill his contract against any subsequent procedure open for Y-Z.

Correct Manners

By MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

The Formal Call

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

My son, who is just 19, has a position away from home. Friends of my sister's, whom I have never met, invited him to dinner, which invitation he accepted, and spent a very pleasant evening. They have very kindly invited him to call up and come to dinner again.

1. Is it not proper for my son, before accepting another invitation, to make a formal call, leaving a calling card for each adult member of the family?

2. What are my social duties? Should I write a note of appreciation? MOTHER.

1. Yes, this is the courteous and polite thing for him to do. It would be especially charming, too, if he would send flowers to his hostess the morning or afternoon of the day when he is to dine with these friends, or the day after he has dined with them.

This was such a hospitable gesture for these friends to make that it would indeed make the hostess happy, I am sure, if you wrote a note of appreciation for their friendliness to your son. This is the kind of note that can be so especially gracious.

Note of Sympathy

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

When sending a few words of sympathy to a family where the wife and mother has passed away, should one send the father and daughter each a separate word of sympathy, or should one address the envelope like this:

Mr. John Doe
Miss Alice Doe
Miss Ruth Doe

I have never met the daughters. M.

The note of sympathy would be addressed to the father, who is the chief mourner, and in it we would send, too, our sympathy to the daughters.

Household Hints

If your stockings continually wear out at the toes try buying a half-size larger and see if this will not remedy the difficulty. Stockings are not as full in cut these days as in the gay nineties.

Dirty dusters can be cleansed much more easily if a little paraffin is added to the water in which they are washed. Allow about a tablespoonful of paraffin to a gallon of water, rinse in hot water after washing and a second rinsing in cold.

HOLMES RADIO SKETCH :-: Married Couples Succeed :-: GLADYS RICE

WE NOW PRESENT

By Darrell V. Martin
Radio Editor

LISTENING TO Julia Sanderson and Frank Crumit on WCAE last night inspired us to check the number of successful husband-and-wife teams on the radio . . .

Darrell V. Martin

. . . sweethearts of the air, of course, please, and we were surprised to find that there are no less than 25 married couples being heard over local stations . . . Crumit and Sanderson, Mary Small and Bernard Brissette, Ireene Wicker and Ed Wynn, Jack Parker and Ethel Shutta, Gale and Carlos Lockhart, Lee Sims and Ilo Marley Bailey, Peter Dixon and Anne Berry, Alice Mock whose husband, Bob Dwyer, is her accompanist . . . Pat Barnes with a new tribute to Mr. and Mrs. Sail and Peale (Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sail, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cleveland) Ed Harvey and Nora Kaufher, Mr. and Mrs. David Olson, Bernice Armstrong and Dorothy Bushey and Gene and Patti Hyde Baldridge . . .

We have more "sister trams" in Pittsburgh than either network . . . the Lawson Sisters, Johnson Sisters, Galbraith Sisters, The Schoolmarms, Peggy and Betty and the Stewart Sisters . . . against the network array of Harding Sisters, Irene and Mathilda, Boswell Sisters and Bray Sisters.

We can think of only one big brother act . . . the Four Mills Brothers.

Only one father and daughter act, Jean and Her Dad.

Only one mother and daughter act, Louise Homer and Louise Homer Stires.

No brother and sister act and no father and son act . . .

ALICE WHITE TO ANSWER FANS

Pittsburgh movie lovers who often have wished for a real chat with the film stars, to hear the actual inside of the life of Hollywood and their favorite actors, are going to have their wish fulfilled.

Alice White, petite and vivacious blonde screen star, who will be in Pittsburgh for the week beginning Friday, for a personal appearance at Loew's Penn Theater, will answer the questions of film enthusiasts.

Miss White has consented to do this under the auspices of the Sun-Telegraph.

Thousands may listen in to this conversational treat, as Miss White will broadcast her answers from WCAE the day and hour to be announced tomorrow in this newspaper.

Just write your questions and mail them to Alice White, Sun-Telegraph, Pittsburgh, Pa. She will answer them in the order received.

Remember, the questions first received will be answered first, so do your Alice White mailing early.

COLDS

Use KLEENEX

Disposable Tissues—and destroy!

Your handkerchief is more than disgusting during colds. It is dangerous! If you've used it once, it contains thousands of germs. Don't carry these germs back to your face. Give your cold a chance to get well. Use the handkerchief you can destroy—Kleenex disposable tissues.

Softer than cloth

You will prefer Kleenex to handkerchiefs in every way. It is softer, finer, more absorbent, because made of downy rayon-cellulose. Though superior to handkerchiefs, Kleenex costs much less. Costs less, indeed, than laundering.

And now you pay a third less for Kleenex! The generous box—formerly 50c—is now but 35c.

Highest quality

You get the same smart, convenient package. The same number of tissues. The same soft, cloth-like quality. Only the price has changed!

At this new low price you'll find more uses than ever for Kleenex. Use it to remove cold cream—to apply make-up—to polish spectacles, furniture, shoes! Sold at all drug, dry goods and department stores.

KLEENEX disposable TISSUES

Germ-filled handkerchiefs are a menace to society!

SPRAY-SHIELD TUBES

A short time ago, Majestic introduced the Spray-Shield Tube in America, and now comes the Duo-Diode. It makes reproduction far more free from "background" noises and permits more sensitivity without loss of quiet operation.

Twin Grand Opera Speakers

● In the DeLuxe models. One for notes of low frequency, another for higher frequencies. Gives perfect reproduction of the entire musical scale.

Automatic Volume Control

● A distinct scientific advancement over other forms now made obsolete. No more blasting as you tune through powerful local stations. Eliminates fading on distant stations.

Image Rejector Circuit

● The latest scientific development. Eliminates practically all of those extraneous noises that have been an irritating background to radio reception.

Full Range Tone Control

● Enabling the listener to secure any desired shading of tone. A touch of the finger and you obtain a deep, medium or high pitch . . . the tone suitable to the program.

Floating Chassis

● The entire chassis "floats" on rubber, so that it is not affected by jars or similar outside disturbances.

Full Vision Dial

● Dial is illuminated and marked in kilocycles. It makes the tuning and location of distant stations easy.

Lost Ugly Fat

Her Husband Says She Looks Five Years Younger!

There is a certain weight at which every woman looks her loveliest—not skinny underweight, but pendulous overweight, but normal weight. We find artists, dress theatrical producers and husbands all agreed upon this point. My husband says I look five years younger. Wives (the lady of the house) thanks to her daily dose of Kruschen Salts has unburdened from body of 15 pounds of ugly fat. Read her letter:

"Having heard from a friend of mine that she lost considerable weight since taking Kruschen Salts I started using them in July last when I weighed 177 lbs. I have lost weight steadily since then, and am now 150 lbs.—my normal weight. Moreover, I feel brighter and more energetic in every way.

I have inquired of my dressmaker my measurements which in August last were Bust 40, hips 42, waist 33½ inches which is normal for my height which is 5 ft. 5 in. My age is 29. My husband is a very severe critic. He says I look 5 years younger. There is no other reason for my loss of weight except Kruschen, as I do not take any particular diet."

Mrs. S. K. London, England.

A bottle of Kruschen Salts that will last four weeks costs but a trifle, less as directed, every morning. Wise ones go on a diet and see how many pounds they can lose. Attention to diet should be paid with oil, pastry and fatty meats, and potatoes, butter, cream and sugar.

So, remember, if you want to take off fat harmlessly, be sure to get a bottle of Kruschen Salts at any druggist in the world and see how many pounds you can lose. Don't diet foolishly and injure your health. Just get a bottle of Kruschen Salts and take one teaspoonful in a glass of hot water first thing every morning. Or, if you prefer, you can take Kruschen Salts in tablet form, but the salts method is the most pleasant. Results are guaranteed in every case or money refunded.

PROTEST I. C. C. COAL RATE RULE

A formal protest against the recent decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission upholding the present rates on lake cargo coal held unjust to the coal industry of Western Pennsylvania, has been made to Senators David A. Reed and James J. Davis, of Pennsylvania, by Thomas A. Dunn, president of the Chamber of Commerce. Dunn announced yesterday in a talk over Station KDKA.

Senators Reed and Davis were asked to demand a reason for the "discriminatory" decision of the I. C. C. Dunn said. He pointed out that southern fields are permitted to ship coal for four mills per ton mile, while the northern fields must pay nine mills per ton mile for carrying coal to the same lake points.

The Pittsburgh district has lost sales of more than 20,000,000 tons of coal annually by the rates, Dunn said, declaring that this loss has paralyzed the coal business of the northern fields for the last 10 years.

PRINCIPAL SHOT, SUES HUNTER

William F. Johns, of Dorseyville, charged he was shot when he raised his arm as a warning signal to a hunter during the recent game season, in his suit for $50,000 against Michael P. Thomas in Common Pleas Court. Johns said he was crippled so that he is unable to continue his work as supervising principal of county public schools.

Johns said that while hunting November 17 in Indiana Township near his home he saw Thomas approaching and raised his arm to signal his presence. Johns charged:

"Whereupon defendant slowly raised his gun, took careful aim and either wilfully or through gross negligence fired a load of buckshot."

Grease goes—dishes shine

Millions wash them this easy way

YOU KNOW what a work-saver Rinso is on washday—how it gets clothes much whiter and brighter without scrubbing or boiling.

Well, it's just as wonderful for dishwashing! Grease soaks off by itself in thick, creamy suds. Just soak your china and glassware for a few minutes—rinse in hot water—and let them drain dry. Wash greasy pots and pans this easy way, too.

And Rinso is economical, too. Granulated, compact—it gives twice as much suds, cup for cup, as lightweight, puffed-up soaps. Rich, creamy, active suds, even in hardest water. No grit.

Use Rinso for tubs, basins, floors, woodwork. Get the BIG package.

Poor Directors Seek Advance on Increased Tax Fund

PINCHOT SEES COAL TRADE CO-OPERATION NEED

LOAN ON TAXES FOR POOR FUND TO BE ASKED

Levy Increased 1½ Mills, but Board Lacks Cash to Carry On Relief; Jobs in Peril

Encouraged by the County Commissioners granting of a 3-mill poor tax—double that of last year—the Poor Directors today were planning to negotiate for an advance on the taxes, which will not reach them until late next summer.

Attorney Harry McIntosh, solicitor for the directors, explained that while the 3-mill rate would call for $2,000,000 as the poor district's share, it probably would not reach more than $1,200,000 this year.

Most of this, he said, would be paid to the county during July, the last month in which a 5 per cent discount is allowed.

FUNDS NEEDED

Due to pressing need for funds to carry on relief work at present, McIntosh continued, immediate negotiations will be opened with Pittsburgh banks to loan the Poor Directors sufficient money to "carry on" until the tax money reaches them in August.

The Allegheny County Emergency Association is "broke" and cannot continue its work and the County Commissioners by a subterfuge are illegally diverting $500,000 in county funds to the organization, according to a statement McIntosh issued last night after the Commissioners had spent hours in digging into the fiscal affairs of the Poor Board yesterday.

At a night session of the board the Commissioners passed the resolution granting the directors' request for the 1½-mill increase of the poor tax.

BARR MOVES INCREASE

The resolution was presented by Commissioner C. M. Barr, who said:

"After an investigation, and not wishing to take any chances with human misery rampant in the county, I move that the demand of the Poor Board be granted and the poor tax be increased to 3 mills."

Commissioner W. D. Mansfield seconded the motion and it was carried unanimously.

In his statement McIntosh said:

"Now that our pictures have been published in the papers with all the derogatory publicity possible, along with opposition to our request for an increase of millage from the Allegheny County Emergency Relief Association, we believe that it is high time we assert ourselves.

"The Emergency Association publicly admits that they are broke and that they have nothing but suggestions for an organization. They propose to form local committees of a school principal, a minister and a doctor, all of whom no doubt are very busy people.

CITES ACCUSATIONS

"Many accusations have been made against the present Poor Directors. The newspapers threatened through certain taxpayers to institute mandamus proceedings, quo warranto proceedings, charges of criminal malfeasance and finally a grand jury investigation to defeat the present Directors. None of these actions was taken. Meanwhile, they have gone right along doing their job relieving distress.

"This Board of Commissioners, while questioning our request for the increase in millage, has passed a resolution which, by subterfuge, is giving a $500,000 donation to the Welfare Association. This donation is, we believe, an effort illegally to divert funds which properly belong to the poor district."

When McIntosh tried to voice his sentiments at the meeting yesterday, he was silenced by the Commissioners, who said his remarks were irrelevant.

Neville Island Fire Destroys Factory

An unoccupied building at Switch No. 4, Neville Island, formerly used as a soap factory, was destroyed by a fire which routed several families in the vicinity of the structure, according to Fire Chief Edward Ferguson, who placed the damage at $5,000.

Ferguson said he was unable to learn the cause of the fire, but declared that it was probably of incendiary origin. Persons living near the building told him that they heard several shots and saw an automobile being driven away from the place before the fire was discovered.

FOUR BANKERS INDICTED BY U. S. JURY

Ex-G. O. P. Chairman Faces Trial on Narcotic Charge; Fight Referee Accused

Four bankers, charged with embezzlement, a former Republican district chairman, accused of violating the narcotic law, and a fight referee, Joe Keally, were indicted by the federal grand jury today.

Frank V. Pisula, former assistant cashier of the Peoples National Bank of Latrobe, was indicted also for misapplication of funds totaling $34,323.

George A. Gibson, former assistant cashier of the Marine National Bank at Erie, was charged with embezzling and misapplying $50,708.

LEECHBURG BANKER

James W. Saulters, former cashier of the Farmers National Bank of Leechburg, was charged with embezzling $25,750 of the institution's funds.

Charles Schepis, former manager of the foreign department, Citizens National Bank of Connellsville, was charged with embezzling $3,230 in 1930.

Joe Keally, the referee, was indicted separately on a charge of violating the Mann act and, jointly with Mrs. Mary Anderson, charged with conspiring to violate the Mann act. Keally and Mrs. Anderson, it was charged, went to South Bend, Ind., for the Pitt-Notre Dame football game, taking Mrs. Anderson's 11-year-old daughter, who was a witness against them.

DOPE SALES CHARGED

James Lancia, 922 Bedford avenue, former Republican district chairman, Second Ward; Salvatore Corsello, 535 Suismon street, and James Lacastro, of Bustrick way, were indicted on charges of violating the narcotic laws in the sale of drugs.

Forty-two indictments, more than half charging violations of the dry laws, were returned by the grand jury yesterday.

Second Victim of Gas In Roadhouse Dies

Mrs. Bertha Stewart, 35, of Hill avenue, Wilkinsburg, found unconscious from carbon monoxide gas in a Glenshaw roadhouse in which her companion, Thomas Hogencamp, 55, of 909 North St. Clair street, was found dead, died last night in Allegheny General Hospital, according to a coroner's report.

Mrs. Claude Allen, proprietor of Our County Home, a roadhouse, found Hogencamp dead and the woman unconscious. Hogencamp was president of the Clydesdale Press, Blawnox. A gas stove was burning in the room.

Police Matron Hurt By Car at Crossing

Mrs. Sarah McCann, of 2929 Harcums way, the matron of East End Police Station, was injured seriously last night while she was crossing Carson street at South Twenty-second street.

Samuel Salut, of 157 Chesterfield road, was arrested, charged with reckless driving, according to a police report. Mrs. McCann was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital where she was reported suffering from a fractured leg and head injuries.

MINES CLOSED, BUT COMPANY AIDS IDLE

Indianola Employes Live Rent Free With Food, Fuel, Medical Care Provided

For 18 months the Inland Steel Company mines, Indianola's only industry, have been shut down.

But, thanks to a generous policy the company has maintained, no one has gone without food or clothes.

GET RENT FREE

For 18 months those miners in the hamlet which lies hidden in the valley beyond Harmarville have lived rent free in company houses, worrying not about their gas, water, electricity or food bills.

When the families need food they go to the company store and charge it.

When they need coal one of the idle members of the family goes to one of the coal piles set up conveniently by the company and takes as much as he wants.

A relief committee, headed by Johnnie Allen, 71-year-old retired miner, and J. C. Luyten, company representative, knows the problems of each of the families and takes steps to meet those problems.

DOCTOR GIVES AID

In addition, the company physician is on hand to give medical service free.

More than 100 families have continued to live in Indianola despite its almost total absence of jobs. A few years ago every two of three families owned an automobile; now there are few.

Some of the miners have been able to get part-time work occasionally in nearby mining towns. The houses of families who have departed have been boarded up, not to be used until the mine is reopened.

38-MILE GALE BRINGS DAMAGE

A 38-mile-an-hour wind early today, which brought a marked temperature drop, caused damage in different parts of the city.

Two 20,000-volt wires were blown down at West General Robinson and Corry streets. Police barred traffic while linemen replaced the wires. A window in the Philadelphia Company Building, Sixth avenue and Cherry way, was shattered. The gale had subsided to 20 miles an hour today.

Fair and moderately cold weather tonight, with a low mark of around 26 will give way tomorrow to rising temperature and rain Forecaster W. S. Brotzman predicted.

January continues the mildest in 50 years according to weather bureau records. The excess temperature over normal to date is 317 degrees, making it the warmest since 1880. No severely cold weather is in prospect.

JOHN SYMANSKI, 21

ADMITS THEFTS FROM WOMEN

John Szymanski, 21, of New York, admitted in North Side Police Court today that he held up two women store managers, and clubbed one of them, in the last two months.

He and Joseph Lamare, 24, arrested at 805 Western avenue last night, were held over by Magistrate Ray E. Schneider.

Szymanski said he had robbed Mrs. Olive Smith, proprietor of a grocery at 1020 West North avenue, three times, twice within 10 minutes, and that he had beaten Mrs. Pearl Barrett, manager of a store at 1335 Sheffield street, which he held up twice. He absolved Lamare.

The two were arrested on a tip from Carl Lange, grocer, of 820 Allegheny avenue, who shot and killed a young robber who held him up last month.

Etna Independents Elect New Officers

The Independent party of Etna was reorganized last night, with the election of Jack Katz and Mrs. Ella Ewing, borough chairmen; W. H. Ewing, vice chairman, and George C. Kuntz, Robert Beck, William Clouse, Mrs. Agnes Thompson, Mrs. J. Neff, Mrs. L. McElhone, district chairmen.

AGREES PENNA. CAN'T EFFECT CURE ALONE

Governor Undecided as to Action on Proposals Made By Pittsburgh Committee

Gov. Pinchot agrees with coal operators of the Pittsburgh district that the ills of the business are not limited to one state, and that the co-operation of the others is needed to solve the problem, he announced in Harrisburg yesterday.

Further than this, the Governor declined to comment on the report submitted to him by the leaders of the industry in this district. The report, made by a committee named by Gov. Pinchot, was revealed in detail yesterday, though submitted to the executive December 27. The Governor commented:

"I have read the report carefully. My principal regret concerning it arises from the fact that I do not believe the soft coal business can be pulled out of the hole it is in now by any form of action limited to Pennsylvania alone."

CONSIDERS STEPS

No decision has been reached, he added, whether the administration will take action on recommendations made by the committee. The Governor is considering that with Secretary of Mines Walter H. Glasgow.

Pennsylvania coal producers lost to other coal fields or to other competing fuels or sources of power a total of 79,900,000 tons per year, a volume in excess of the entire production of the state during the first nine months of 1931, the report brings out.

This picture, a description of a crippled industry, is followed by recommendations for revision of freight rates, tariff on imported oil, mergers along natural lines, interstate planning, stabilization of wages at the highest possible levels and the formation of district councils.

URGES TAXATION

Taxation of coal lands should be studied with the idea of relief in mind, the committee believes. Strong opposition to the expansion of state or federal governments in the coal industry is expressed. Pinchot, questioned directly regarding this stand, had nothing to say.

The report is signed by John M. Jamison, chairman; J. T. M. Stoneroad, R. Templeton Smith, C. F. Hosford, Jr., and Walter A. Jones.

Pennsylvania's annual loss of production includes 47,900,000 tons lost to southern coal fields, 26,000,000 tons to oil and gas and 6,000,000 tons to hydro-electric stations. Much of the loss to other fields is due to freight rates.

CRIPPLING RAILROADS

The committee believes freight rates on coal should be lowered for the good of the carriers themselves. The report says:

"Coal is being sold at the mines at less than the cost of production, but the transportation charge is now two-thirds of the delivered price. The coal industry has been carrying the railroads to the point where the load has broken the industry's back, and now the loss of tonnage is crippling the railroads."

In all parts of the country, considerable coal consumption has been lost due to increased efficiency in using it. Improved methods of burning coal should be encouraged, the committee says, but every effort should be made to stop the substitution of less economic fuels.

Congress Tries To Relieve Us-- Of Everything

By ARTHUR 'BUGS' BAER

We call attention to Congressman Dibbdabb's speech on the economic situation:

"We are going strong for relief. We are going to relieve you of everything."

Like an Old Mother Hubbard, that speech covers everything except the feet and ears.

The boys have been working for two months passing legislation that will bridge the gap.

The question is can you arrest a country doctor for writing prescriptions when he knows there is no medicine in the drug store?

If that be treason, we agree with Patrick Henry, whose bunions came to a slow boil over the lamp of experience.

All we know is that the boys are backward about coming to the front.

Maybe they don't know the Christmas holidays are over.

40 ASSERT NEED OF BUS LINE TO INGRAM

After 40 witnesses had paraded before Examiner William E. Best of the Public Service Commission to tell the transportation needs of residents of Ingram and parts of the Twentieth and Twenty-eighth Wards, the hearing on the application of the Oriole Motor Coach Lines Inc. to extend their lines was continued. Examiner Best conducted the hearing yesterday in the City-County Building.

More than 200 residents of the communities affected attended the hearing and those called as witnesses told of long walks to the nearest railway or trolley lines.

PROPOSED ROUTE

The Oriole Motor Coach Lines Inc., according to its president, William Supan, plans to run buses from Liberty avenue and Ferry street through the West End along Noblestown road to Obey avenue to Middletown road and on to Ingram.

Plans of the company were announced after the Pittsburgh Railways Company made public its intention of curtailing trolley service to Thornburg, to which point the bus company originally planned to extend its proposed route. Yesterday Supan said the line would not enter Thornburg as the railways company had dropped its scheme to curtail trolley service there.

Witnesses heard yesterday were concerned with the proposed bus route to Ingram, which would split at Prospect avenue and Berry street, Ingram, one serving Fairywood, a part of the Twenty-eighth Ward, the other continuing through Ingram to the edge of Thornburg. Both lines would serve the Middletown road section of Pittsburgh and Ingram.

OTHER PHASES DELAYED

Due to the large number of witnesses called, Best was unable to hear testimony on a proposed line to Mt. Lebanon and extension of a C[illegible] to Bethel Cemetery.

Chicago's Teachers To Get 2 Weeks' Pay

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—(AP.)—It wasn't Thanksgiving today, but 15,000 payless school teachers were happy. They were informed by Mayor Anton Cermak last night they would receive two weeks salaries within two days after having been paid for only six weeks since last April.

A melon of $2,600,000 from the city's aggregate fund will be sliced to bring cheer to the teachers and other employes.

Restaurant Man Slain by Bandits

CANTON, O., Jan. 27.—(AP.)—Frank L. Denny, 65, proprietor of an East Sparta Restaurant, was held up and slain today by six young bandits. Denny and his wife were preparing to close the place.

Denny was shot when he resisted. Before he fell, however, he stabbed one of the robbers in the shoulder with an ice pick, his wife said.

BABY FRETFUL, RESTLESS?

Look to this cause—

Does your baby have nights when he frets, tosses and seems unable to go quickly, quietly to sleep? Look for one common cause, doctors say. A constipated condition.

To get rid quickly of accumulated wastes which cause restlessness and discomfort, nothing is better than genuine time-proven Castoria.

Castoria, you know, is made specially for children's delicate needs. It is a pure vegetable preparation; contains no harsh drugs; no narcotics of any kind.

It is mild and gentle enough to relieve a young infant's colic pains, yet is an effective regulator for children of school age.

When your baby is upset and unable to sleep, or has a little cold or fever, it is wise precaution to give him the gentle but sure regulative help of Castoria. With regulation come relaxed comfort and restful sleep.

Keep a bottle always on hand. Children like the taste of real Castoria which always has the name, Chas. H. Fletcher, on the package.

AUTO DEALERS AT SHOW SCORE PROPOSED TAX

Attendance Expected to Exceed Mark for 1931; 25 Makes Are on Display

C. S. Klugh, manager of the Pennsylvania Automotive Association, has taken the occasion of Pittsburgh's Automobile Show, which closes Saturday night at Motor Square Garden, to urge dealers, distributors and salesmen to protest against the proposed 5 per cent tax on the sale of cars. He declared:

"Motor car owners are today paying almost $1,000,000 annually in special motor vehicle taxes, and under the present business conditions it would seem to be entirely unfair and unjust to impose additional taxes at this time. The imposition of a sales tax would undoubtedly affect sales and retard business at a time when every incentive should be given."

With the Pittsburgh show beginning its fourth day, attendance figures are mounting, with every indication that this year's show attendance will exceed that of 1931, according to W. N. Owings, secretary-manager of the Pittsburgh Automobile Dealers' Association.

He points out that the 1932 show is greater than past shows partly because all of the motor car companies withheld their new models for show openings in December and January. There are 25 makes of machines in the Motor Square Garden exhibit.

GRAVEL DEALERS STUDY LABOR

Increasing employment by displacing machinery with hand labor is a destructive policy, disrupting the efficiency of industry instead of decreasing unemployment, Willard T. Chevalier, of New York, today warned delegates at the opening session of the National Sand and Gravel Association convention in the William Penn Hotel.

Urging that additional employment be sought, not by reducing the efficiency of regular public improvement programs, Chevalier declared that many unsightly points in a city can be improved. By continuing the efficiency on regular work more funds are available through the savings for use in extra programs. He said:

"If we carry the idea of replacing steam shovels with hand shovels to creat more jobs, there is no reason why teaspoons should not be used and wheelbarrows displace the motor truck. That would be as foolish."

The convention continues through Friday, with sessions devoted to trade discussions.

SCRANTON, Pa., Jan. 27.—(AP.)—Mrs. Worthington Scranton, this city, will seek re-election to the Republican State Committee, she announced today. Some time ago there were reports that Mrs. Scranton would retire from the state committee on which she has held membership since 1920.

Mrs. Scranton is Republican national committeewoman from Pennsylvania.

Penna. Man Found Hanged in Chicago

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—(AP.)—T. J. Moorehead, 40, of Indiana, Pa., was found dead from hanging in his room in a North Side hotel yesterday. He registered under the name of "S. Jackson" two days ago. He had $1.13 in his possession.

Police said they found a card to notify Fred Weitzel, commander of the American Legion post in Indiana.

Film Producer, Wife Separate

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 27.—(AP.)—Separation of Ephriam M. Asher, motion picture producer, and Mrs. Lillian Asher, formerly known on the screen as Lillian Bonner, is disclosed by Attorney Milton Cohen, who said he had filed a separate maintenance suit on behalf of Mrs. Asher charging mental cruelty. They have two children.

Cohen said "an elaborate" property settlement had been reached.

UBANGI WOMEN SHIVER HERE

Eight duck-billed women of the Royal Household, Ubangi tribe of Africa, and their king and prince today cowered and shivered when they changed trains at the Pennsylvania Station this morning en route to Hollywood to make jungle pictures.

Queen Na-go-ta, suffering from a cold contracted during the two weeks she and her tribe have been in America, grunted answers to questions put to her by an interpreter. She doesn't think it right that Pittsburgh should have such tall buildings, because "they are against the gods."

Lew Du Four, in charge of the savages, said the Ubangi women once were captured for slaves by rival tribes on account of their beauty. Their men decided to deprive them of beauty by stretching their lips like saucers, he said.

ALABAMA BOMB SUSPECT HELD

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Jan. 27.—(AP.)—Chief of Police Fred McDuff today announced the arrest of a man he said was the sender of a letter to state officials at Montgomery, warning of a bomb plot. McDuff said the prisoner has been taken to Montgomery for questioning by authorities there.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Jan. 27.—(AP.)—A heavy guard patrolled Alabama's historic capitol today following a report of a plot to bomb the governor and three state officials.

A detail of more than a dozen plain clothesmen was stationed in the building yesterday after State Auditor John Brandon turned a letter describing the purported plot over to Gov. B. M. Miller.

Vendors Near School Freed at Hearing

Three vendors of apples, pretzels and candy, who said they were unemployed, arrested yesterday near the Oliver High School on complaint of the school authorities, were discharged with a warning to keep away from the school in the North Side Police Court today. APPROVE CURB ON INJUNCTIONS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(INS.)—A bill to limit drastically the injunction powers of Federal Courts was favorably reported by the Senate Judiciary Committee today. Senator Norris (Rep.), of Nebraska sponsored the measure.

It would outlaw the so-called "yellow dog contracts" under which employes are prohibited from affiliation with labor unions; it would prohibit the widespread use of injunctions in labor disputes and curb the power of courts to cite newspapers and newspaper workers for contempt for actions outside the court.

Norris gave notice he would press for early enactment of the bill. Its provisions were the broadest ever approved by a congressional committee to restrict the use of injunctions.

POWERFUL FIGURE LOST TO BASEBALL

ONE OF THE really big men of baseball is lost to the game in the death of William Wrigley, Jr., owner of the Chicago Cubs and the Los Angeles Angels. He was among the few major league operators who put sport above dollars, a progressive magnate, an upbuilding clubowner who wanted the best players available no matter what they might cost, and a liberal employer who was second to none in the size of the salaries he paid to his athletes.

William Wrigley, Jr.

After gaining control of the Chicago club, in which he had first purchased an interest in 1917, Wrigley launched a building and spending campaign that lifted the Cubs from last place in 1925 to fourth place in 1926 and 1927, to third place in 1928 and to the pennant in 1929. It was due to his successful operations and popular methods, including the broadcasting of games daily, that Chicago became the capital of baseball a couple of years back, with a club that smashed all attendance records both at home and on the road and that helped the entire league by making money for the owners of every other team in the loop.

THE ONLY MOVE made by Wrigley that did not meet with the approval of the fans at home or elsewhere was the dropping of Joe McCarthy as manager following the season of 1930 in favor of Rogers Hornsby. After winning the pennant in 1929, McCarthy finished second in 1930 won 90 games and lost out for the flag by only two box scores. His showing was pronounced "unsatisfactory."

Last year, under Hornsby, the Cubs barely finished third, won only 84 games, and were 17 games behind the pennant winners at the end, strengthening the opinion of the fans that the release of McCarthy had been a mistake. But at that the officials running the club for Wrigley were generally held responsible for the unpopular shift, rather than the owner himself.

AT ALL TIMES it had to be admitted that Wrigley was doing what he thought best for the future of his club. And no price was too steep to pay for what he believed the Cubs needed. He gave five players and six figures in money for Rogers Hornsby, $40,000 for Bob Smith, and correspondingly large sums for Jakie May, Lester Sweetland, Bill Herman, Vince Barton, Stanley Hack, Mike Krevich and others.

It may be a long time before baseball can fill the place of a figure as powerful and popular. The passing of the Cub owner is a heavy loss not only to Chicago and the National League but to baseball in general.

THIS IS THE first time death has taken the owners of two major league baseball clubs in one city within such a brief period, as it was only three months ago, on October 26, that Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the White Sox, passed on. And about the same time death also claimed Charles W. Murphy, who owned the Cubs before Wrigley, while last March the final summons came to E. S. Barnard, president of the American League, and Ban Johnson, his predecessor, who had made their headquarters in Chicago since the organization of the junior major body in 1900. Death has laid a heavy hand on the Windy City baseball colony during the last 10 months.

Dr. J. B. Sutherland

PITT'S ABLE FOOTBALL coach, Dr. J. B. Sutherland, continues to be an important figure among his fellow mentors. Recently came the announcement that he had been appointed chairman of the membership committee of the National Coaches Association by Dr. Mal Stevens, of Yale, president of the association.

And now Jock has received a telegram from Allen M. Holman, head football coach at Franklin and Marshall College in Lancaster, asking if it will be possible for the Panther chief to conduct a football coaching school there the latter part of June.

A COUPLE OF years ago this coaching school was held at Bucknell University, in Lewisburg, with Bob Zuppke, veteran Illinois gridiron tutor, in charge.

Dr. Sutherland is still unable to reply definitely as to whether or not he can accept the invitation, not being sure that he will be free from his professional duties at that time.

HOMESTEAD SPORTSMEN DECIDED to give Old Man Depression a kick by forming an athletic association sponsoring numerous branches of sports. The United States Steel Corporation has given the new body permission to use the playgrounds in Second avenue and also in Nineteenth street, with all the equipment. Howdy Evans, old-time baseball player, is secretary, and Johnny Pearson, former Pirate, will act as athletic director. Pearson, by the way, is an all-around sports leader. On top of his athletic prominence, he has become one of the best trapshooters in the state.

THE BUSINESS MEN of Homestead are giving their strongest support to the project and are hopeful that with the new impetus that will be given to sports in general by the association the borough will regain its old heights in the athletic world.

Cup Jenkins, well-known police official, sponsor of baseball, football and basketball teams playing under that name, is contributing his best efforts toward the reorganization of athletics in Homestead, and will be an important factor in the uplift movement.

IS THE MATCH between Battling Battalino and Freddie Miller on the bill for tonight in Cincinnati planned as a means of transferring the world featherweight Battle championship? It is widely suspected in boxing circles that such a scheme is on foot.

Battalino forfeited his crown only in New York. The N. B. A. still recognizes him and Ohio is an N. B. A. state. It is believed that Bat has no chance of making the class weight limit, so unless he has been scared into making an honest effort to win, the plot may be to have him just bluff at doing the weight and then keep the title in the family by losing to Miller, who is said to be under the same management.

Tommy Loughran

AFTER HIS MONTH of rest in Mexico, Tommy Loughran expects to spend another month in the mountains, and is hopeful that at the end of that period will be able to come back and convince the fight world he is far from being done. Loughran believes he was simply overworked. In a little more than a year he fought 13 times, defeating Dick Daniels, Dave Maier, King Levinsky, Jack Gross, Victorio Campolo, Tuffy Griffiths, Ernie Schaaf, Max Baer, Johnny Risko, Joe Sekyra and Pauline Uzcudun, and losing to Levinsky and Steve Hamas. "I have no intention of retiring," Loughran says. "My friends advised me before, when Sharkey knocked me out, to hang up the gloves and call it all off, but I came back and showed them I still had life in me, and I think I can do it again. The first boxers I want to meet are Levinsky and Hamas. In the past I always was able to come back and win over the men who had defeated me, and I feel that I'll be able to do it in the case of [illegible] too." Joe Smith, manager of [illegible] have no doubt that Tommy can come [illegible] has been in the gymnasium ten mo[illegible] ing contenders for the heavyweight title don't fight more than once in six months, you can see that Loughran has been going a bit too fast."

NATIONAL LEAGUE

LAST NIGHT'S RESULTS

N. Y. Americans	3—Mont. Canadiens	1
Montreal	4—Boston	3

By CARL W. SHATTO

The last probably will be first when the Yellow Jackets meet the Buffalo Bisons, International Hockey League leaders, at Duquesne Garden tomorrow night.

In the local skaters' last start at Cleveland Coach Charley Reid used Ty Arbour at center and Norman Locking and Stu Dunning at the wings, as his third front line. In addition to bagging the Jackets' only goal against the Indians this line showed so much speed and fight that Reid is seriously considering using it as his starting line tomorrow.

The local coach also is well pleased with his Miller-Rommes-Barton and Proudlock-Fields-Gregg forward combinations in recent drills and may introduce a new procedure by starting a different set of forwards at the opening of each period.

Leo Reise, obtained within the past week to bolster the Jackets' defense, has attained top form so rapidly that he will be counted upon to provide relief for both Gordy Fraser and Joe Matte, who will continue to perform as starting lineup guards.

BISONS, BULLDOGS TIE

WINDSOR, Ontario, Jan. 27.—(AP.)—The Windsor Bulldogs and Buffalo waged an even fight for 70 minutes last night and wound up their International League struggle in a 2-2 tie.

After taking a one-goal lead in the first period on a solo dash by Gross, Buffalo had to come from behind to gain a tie in the third period. Brown had tied the score at 1-1 in the second period and Carl Roche put the Bulldogs in the lead with a goal after five minutes of the third period. Voss then deadlocked the count for Buffalo late in that session. Neither could break the tie in the overtime. The lineup:

Windsor		Buffalo
Hart	G.	Vaughan
Brown	R. D.	Lederman
Beckett	C. D.	Morris
Jewell	C.	Voss
Laird	R. W.	Marini
Riggin	L. W.	Gross

Windsor scores: Dr. Roche, Harmon. Penalties: Chevrier, Slaughter, Arbour. Buffalo scores: Gross, Lauder, Roth. Cain, Clair, Brigadin, Jackson. Referee: Jerry LaGamma. IRV FREW INJURED

CLEVELAND, Jan. 27.—(AP.)—Crippled by the loss of Irv Frew, who suffered a broken collar bone in the fray, the Cleveland Indians downed the London Tecumsehs, 1 to 0, last night, when Milt Halliday rammed home the lone goal with only four minutes to play in an International Hockey League game here.

Fownes, Morrison Win at Pinehurst

PINEHURST, N. C., Jan. 27.—(AP.)—Henry C. Fownes, 2nd of Pittsburgh, the medalist, paired with Donald Parson of Youngstown, O., today in the semi-final round of the annual St. Valentine's golf tournament here.

Fownes defeated F. T. Keating, of New York, 6 and 5, in the quarter-finals, while Parsons was winning from Howard G. Phillips, of New York, 4 and 3.

Robert G. Morrison, of Pittsburgh, last year's runner-up, defeated F. L. Scofield, of New York, 6 and 5, and paired today with Halbert J. Blue, of Aberdeen, N. C., who defeated C. B. S. Marr, of Carnoustie, Scotland, 6 and 4.

Jeannette Lad Is Barred From Kansas Quint

LAWRENCE, Kan., Jan. 27.—(AP.)—Ernest Casini, sophomore athlete from Jeannette, Pa., was declared ineligible by the University of Kansas authorities yesterday for the remainder of the basketball season.

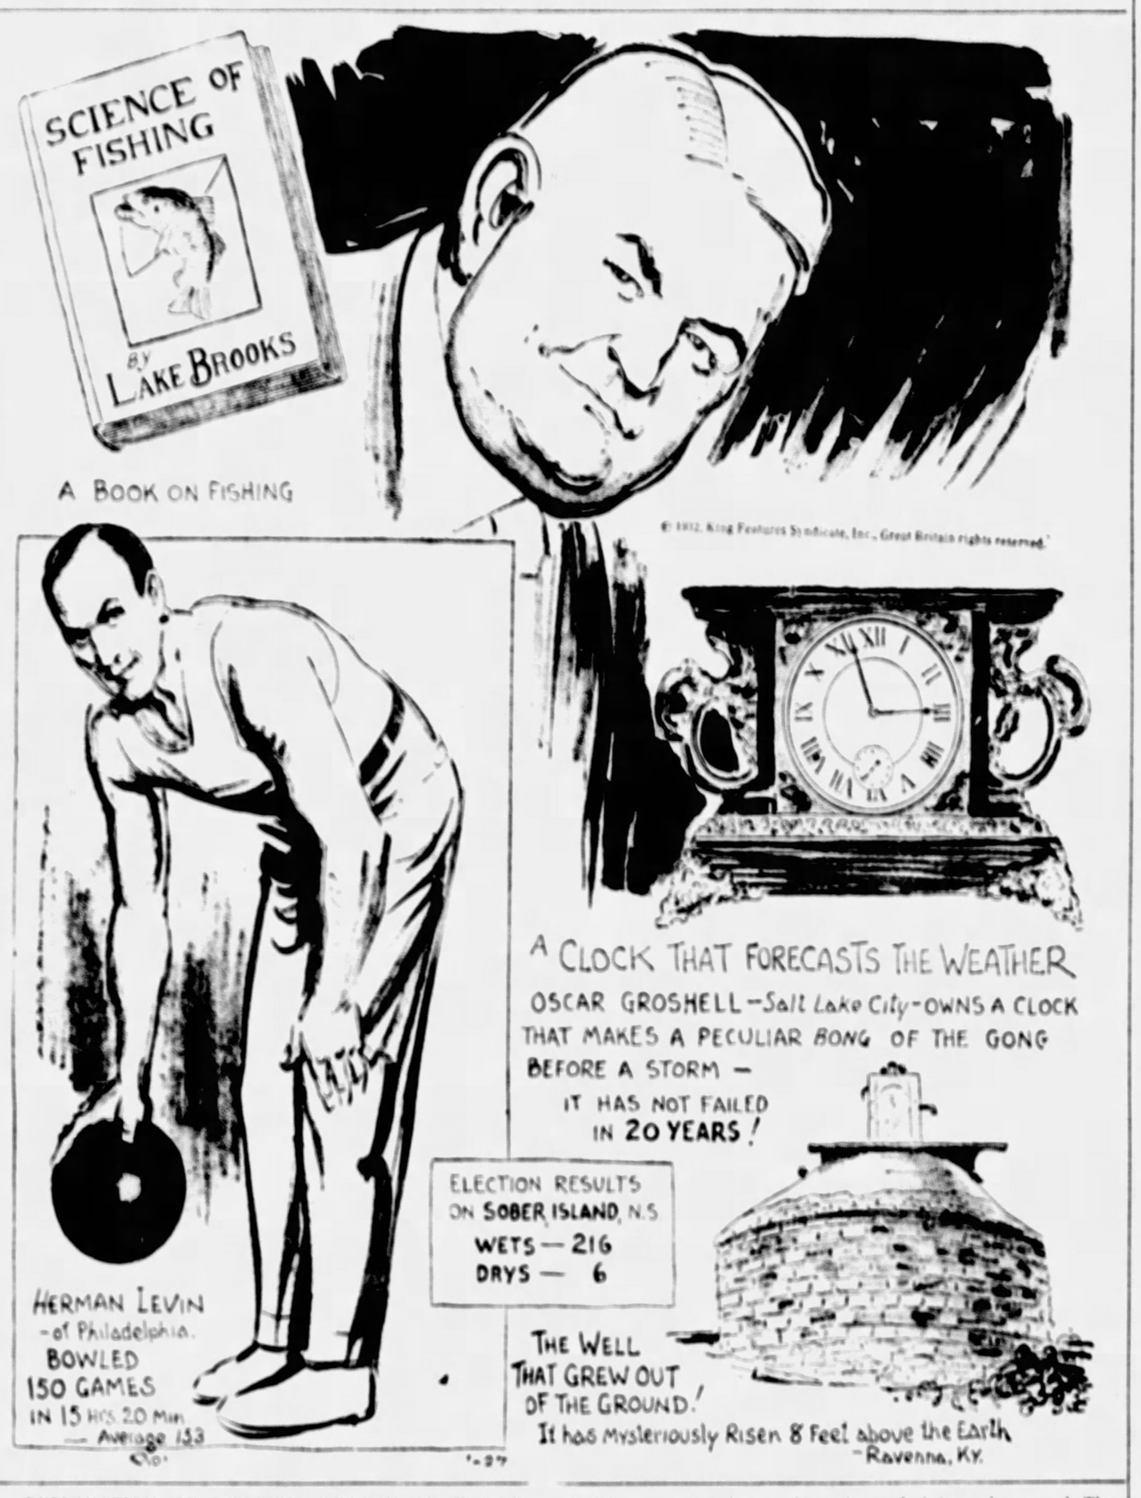
Casini, a promising guard in both basketball and football, failed in five hours' work while carrying a total of 13 hours. Regulations require athletes to carry [illegible] at least 12 hours.

The sophomore athlete plans to attend summer school in an effort to become eligible for the 1932 football campaign.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT — By RIPLEY

(Reg. by U. S. Patent Office)

(On request, sent with stamped addressed envelope, Ripley will send proofs and details of anything depicted by him in these cartoons.)



EXPLANATION OF RIPLEY'S CARTOON OF YESTERDAY: STOLEN HOUSES—An amazing story of how modern "pirates" stole six two-story houses and gutted eight others came to light in December, 1931, in Washington, when the razing company sent the District of Columbia a bill for stolen property. The piracy took place at First and L streets, where 14 houses had been purchased on a site to be made into a playground. The police of the precinct were the first to discover the "theft" when it was noticed that the wreckers were leaving the demolished houses in a dangerous condition. Complaint was registered with the contractors, but it developed that they had not at all started operations. The house thieves then were arrested and held for investigation.

WIZARD SMITH SETS RECORD

AUCKLAND, N. Z., Jan. 27.—(AP.)—Norman (Wizard) Smith, automobile racer, drove his car at an average of 164.084 miles an hour over a 10-mile course on Ninety Mile Beach near here yesterday for what was claimed a new world record for the distance. In two dashes his average time was 3 minutes 29.401 seconds.

The roughness of the beach made the going hazardous, Smith said.

AFTER CAMPBELL'S MARK

Smith, noted Australian driver, shipped his automobile from Australia to Ninety Mile Beach, Northern New Zealand, six weeks ago in preparation for attacks upon world records.

Besides the 10-mile record he planned to better the mark of 1 :65 seconds for a flying start one mile made by Sir Malcolm Campbell, of England, at Daytona Beach, Fla., February 5, 1931, while traveling 245.733 miles an hour.

Smith's car is set very low, equipped with stabilizing fins behind each rear wheel. Before making his tests, Smith said he believed the 12-cylinder racing airplane engine would develop speed of 300 miles an hour.

He said the hard sand course of Ninety Mile Beach was one of the best in the world. The Australian said he felt his chances of beating Campbell's one-mile record were "a million to one" in his favor.

BETTERS SPEED MARK

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—(AP.)—Norman (Wizard) Smith's average speed of 164.084 miles per hour yesterday bettered by almost 30 miles the 10-mile speed record for automobiles, according to records of the contest board of the American Automobile Association.

These records list the 10-mile mark at 137.21 miles per hour, set December 13, 1930, at Montlhery, France, by Mrs. Shepard, piloting a Derby-Miller car.

Nine Baseball Leaders Lost Since 1930

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—(AP.)—With the death of William Wrigley, Jr., yesterday, major league baseball has lost nine leaders since December, 1930. They are:

December 4, 1930—William Baker, owner of the Philadelphia National League club.

February 11, 1931—Samuel Breadon, vice president and treasurer of the Pittsburgh National League club.

March 27, 1931—Ernest Sargent Barnard, second president of the American League.

March 29, 1931—Byron Bancroft Johnson, one of the founders and first president of the American League.

April 15, 1931—Garry Herrmann, promoter of old National Commission and former owner of Cincinnati National League club.

April 29, 1931—James McAleer, one of founders of the American League.

May 18, 1931—Charles Webb Murphy, owner of Chicago National League club during "Baker to Evers to Chance" days.

October 26, 1931—Charles Albert Comiskey, owner of Chicago American League club and one of founders of the American League.

January 26, 1932—William Wrigley, Jr., owner of Chicago National League club.

GIBSON, BUCS' PILOT, HERE

George Gibson, manager of the Pirates, arrived here this morning from his home in Canada and promptly went to the headquarters of the Pittsburgh Baseball Club to discuss the cases of Corsairs who have returned unsigned their 1932 contracts, and to take a leading hand in the work of preparing for the Bucs' departure for their Paso Robles (Cal.) spring training camp. The first squad is to head westward three weeks from tonight.

Gibson said that his stay here would be for an indefinite period. He said that he anticipated no serious trouble in getting Paul and Lloyd Waner, Larry French, Ervin Brame and Tony Piet, holdouts, into line.

JOCK TO SPEAK

WHEELING, W. Va., Jan. 27.—(AP.)—Jock Sutherland, University of Pittsburgh football coach, has accepted an invitation to address a banquet of the Tiltonsville, O., football squad to be held February 4.

JAKE SCHAEFER ADVANCES

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—(AP.)—Young Jake Schaefer, the San Francisco balkline artist, has crowded himself into the running for the world three-cushion billiards title with the most brilliant performance of the tournament.

Schaefer had trouble getting started, but in his last two games has played masterly. Yesterday he scored his third triumph of the tournament, requiring only 31 innings to defeat Bud Westhus, of St. Louis, 50 to 23. It was the fastest game of the competition, bettering Arthur Thurnblad's mark of 34 innings.

Gus Coupolos, of Eugene, Ore., another veteran who got off to a wobbly start, won his third straight, after losing two in a row. Copulos' victim was Jay Bozeman, of Vallejo, Cal., who bowed, 50 to 42, in 44 innings. The defeat was Bozeman's fourth, and just about accounted for his chances in the tournament.

Frank Scoville, of Buffalo, recovered from a slump and defeated Johnny Layton, of Sedalia, Mo., 50 to 37, in 46 innings. The victory gave Scoville four in six starts, and it was Lafton's third defeat in five matches.

Arthur Thurnblad, of Chicago, the defending champion, went into a tie with Reiselt for the first place with four victories and one defeat, by defeating Tiff Denton, of Kansas City, 50 to 32, in 51 innings.

Denton fell into a tie for last place with Bud Westhus, of St. Louis, with one victory and five defeats.

In today's matches, Denton will meet Scoville; Len Kenney, of Chicago, tackles Bozeman; Westhus plays Copulos, and Augie Kieckhefer, of Chicago, will have a chance to tie for first place by beating Allen Hall, another Chicagoan.

WILSON IS THROWN

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—(AP.)—Herb Freeman, 219, New York, threw Ralph Wilson, 206, Philadelphia, in 38 minutes 18 seconds of their wrestling match at the Coliseum last night.

THREE LOCAL GOLFERS WIN

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Jan. 27.—C. M. Scott, E. J. Dettling and J. F. Sullivan all of Pittsburgh, are playing their second round matches in the annual Miami Beach amateur championship golf tournament over the La Gorce Club course here today. Scott's opponent is H. M. Purdy, of Windsor, Canada, and they are contesting in the third flight. In the same division Dettling is meeting Brooks Glenn, of Miami. Sullivan is tackling William Casparis, of Miami, in the sixth class.

Scott advanced yesterday at the expense of H. F. Bagby, of Kansas City, Mo., whom he eliminated by 2 up. Dettling disposed of R. E. Mott, of Garden City, N. Y., by 2 and 1. Sullivan defeated J. C. Wineman, of Washington, D. C., by 1 up. John D. Wallace, of Pittsburgh, defaulted to J. C. McGee, of Southampton, N. Y., in the fifth division.

T. Phillip Perkins, former British amateur champion and winner of the qualifying medal in the current competition, was forced to approach par figures to overcome H. B. Money, of Wilmington, Del., by 3 and 2. He was one stroke under par on the outgoing nine, on which he used only nine putts.

THREE LOCAL GOLFERS WIN

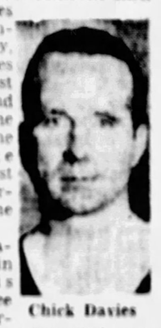
PITT, CARNEGIE, DUKES GIVEN HARD WORK

GAMES TONIGHT

Penn State at Pennsylvania.
Ohio U. at Marshall College.

By JESS CARVER

Messrs. Chick Davies and Red Carlson, the latter entitled to the dignified title of Doctor, are busily engaged at this time in perfecting offenses for very important basketball games that confront their varsity charges this week, beginning on Friday, when Pitt squares off against West Virginia and winding up the next night as the Dukes engage Tech in the first of a very important two-game series.



Chick Davies

An odd situation exists in Pittsburgh this week. All three of the local varsities, Pitt, Tech and the Dukes, go into their forthcoming frays with the uninspiring memory of a defeat their last time out. Pitt lost to Notre Dame, Tech to Geneva and the Dukes to George Washington.

The Duquesne-Tech contest is the most important fracas of the somewhat curtailed schedule this week. A win for the Dukes, and a repeater later in the season, will assure the Bluffites of the city collegiate title, inasmuch as they've already taken Pitt's measure. Carnegie, kicked around by Pitt and Geneva, has to meet these Dukers to add some color to a record that looks as though it might not be any too bright. Let the Dukes beat the Tartans twice and Pitt win the second game, and Carnegie's banners will be a drooping for fair.

MAY USE GRIDDERS

Coach Carlson may call on his footballers again for help against the big West Virginia team Friday night. The Panthers are going to benefit no little from the rest they've enjoyed since last Saturday, the first real layoff they've had since their campaign got under way December 19. West Virginia has been idle for an even longer period, and annually, the Mountaineers come to this city primed to the gills.

Chick Davies gave his Red and Blue team its first workout since the game with George Washington last week, when he called the boys together and sent them through a session yesterday. He'll repeat the dose today and tomorrow and let 'em taper off Friday. Meanwhile, Buzz Hogan is giving the Tartans the whip, seeking to bolster the Skibo attack, which stumbled against Geneva, and also to improve the defense.

The Tipoff

Jim MacMurdo tells a good one on Hoffman, the crackerjack Notre Dame guard and teammate of Big Ben's on the All-Lean team that went to the Coast this last autumn. While in San Francisco, several members of the Eastern squad were invited to one of the radio studios for a broadcast. Each was to step up to the mike and say a few words. When it came Hoffman's turn, the Irish gridder crossed 'em all up by warbling a song.

Charley Hodges, of Morgantown, former newspaper publisher and sports writer, [illegible] official in the race for the Democratic nomination for Governor, his candidacy was announced last week, and so well is Chilly liked and so wide is the extent of his popularity, that should the figure he has in the hearts of everything into the chief executive's mansion.

Luby DiMeolo today is receiving the congratulations of his pals on his being signed as associate coach of football to succeed Chick Meehan at N. Y. U. Luby will be at the Gotham institution more than a year, too, if this columnist's information isn't all screwy, and the N. Y. U. athletes will be ready in a day or so to announce his partner. Just as a gentle hint, the team to share the job with Luby was in Pittsburgh for a two or three-day stay not so very long ago, and it is NOT Bill Roper.

DiMeolo always has been a great pal of Chick Meehan's. Maybe it's because Luby, and mean it, too, that DiMeolo was one of the greatest guards that ever pulled out of a line or raced down the field to take out a tackler. He signed him as assistant coach as soon as Luby was through at Pitt and waited to take him along to Manhattan, where Chick will run things for the next two or three years.

Marc Read, Houston, former well-known Pittsburgh journalist, now editor of a South Bend sheet, a novelist, and contributor to various magazines, will do a special book on Knute Rockne, painting Rock as a business and sales executive.

Alley Owners Vote To Hold Tourney

Members of the Greater Pittsburgh Bowling Alley Owners' Association at a meeting at the Fort Pitt Hotel, yesterday voted to hold another duckpin tourney, similar to the one held on the Haus alleys, North Side, last year, sometime during the present season.

It was decided to meet again next Monday, at the Elba alleys, Fifth avenue, for the purpose of selecting a site for the tournament and of affording members delinquent in the payment of their dues an opportunity to settle in full.

Battling Dozier vs. Sammy Santos, 6 rounds, Seattle.

By HARRY KECK
Sports Editor

A good right hand punch to the jaw still remains the most authoritative instrument in the fight game, as Paul Pirrone, of Cleveland, demonstrated and Tiger Joe West, local middleweight, learned to his sorrow in the second round of their scheduled 10-round main bout featuring the revival of boxing at the Moose Temple, downtown, last night.

It was a return battle, the pair having fought to a draw in the Meyers Bowl late last summer, and during the first round it appeared very much as if West, a promising boxer and fighter of considerable seasoning, might win. Joe got off to a fast start and crowded the Clevelander and outscored him in the session.

END COMES SUDDENLY

There were only 27 seconds to the second round. They fiddled about a bit, and then over went Paul's right and down went the Tiger in a sitting position near Pirrone's corner. So badly dazed that he didn't realize what he was doing, West struggled immediately to get up, and, after falling back once, made it at the count of two. He was groggy, out on his feet, and it was a mere formality for Pirrone to walk over and, in cool, workmanlike fashion, send home a left to the jaw that toppled him again, this time flat on his back, arms outstretched, eyes rolling, for the full count.

After the bout, West is said to have confided to Pirrone in the latter's dressing room that he didn't feel the punch that floored him the first time. West weighed 165¾ pounds and Pirrone 160¼.

MALCO WEATHERS STORM

A good-sized crowd turned out on a miserable night to witness a corking card of bouts arranged by Apples Meyers.

Another Clevelander, Roger Brooks, stablemate of Pirrone, under the management of Eddie Mead, who handled Joe Lynch when the latter twice won the world bantamweight title, stole the show up to the time of Pirrone's sensational climax by dropping Tom Malco, of Soho, doing a comeback, six times in the first round of the six-round semi-final. In the confusion of the many counts, the lone timekeeper missed out and the round was a protracted affair, seemingly lasting an eternity. Almost knocked out by the first right hand that dropped him, Malco got up at the count of nine and weathered a terrific storm and came back to make a good uphill fight over the remainder of the route, although the sharpshooting, rangy Brooks had the edge all of the way. Malco weighed 145¼ pounds and Brooks 146.

WARNER-SENICH DRAW

Johnny Warner, of Clairton, 127½, had an edge over Steve Senich, of Homestead, 129½, in the six-round second bout, but the judges disagreed and the referee's vote ruled it a draw. Senich was handicapped by a badly cut eye from the third round on.

Max Elling, of the Hill, local amateur middleweight champion, although less than a welterweight in poundage, made an auspicious professional debut in beating the experienced Nick Susnell, of Rochester, Pa., in the six-round opener. He scored a knockdown for a count of seven in the fourth round. Elling weighed 145¼ and Susnell 153½.

BAXTER, SALERNO CARDED

It was announced that Charley Baxter and Guy Salerno, Jack Perry's middleweight from California, will be featured in two 10-rounders at the Moose next Wednesday night.

Red Robinson refereed all of the bouts and Frank Brown and Frank Ferris were judges, with Chappy Couch the timer and Dr. M. R. Goldman the commission physician.

TIGER JOE WEST — REFEREE RED ROBINSON — PAUL PIRRONE

West floored for a count of two in Pirrone's corner just before he got up to be knocked flat on his back for the full count at the start of the second round of their main bout at the Moose Temple last night. The round lasted only 27 seconds.

Between Rounds

Jim Mosier has completed the card for his show in the Palisades arena, Mohnsport, tomorrow night, by signing Leo Bumpetta, of Charleroi, to box Terry Regan, of Mt. Pleasant, in the six-round semi-final bout and Petey Jahos, of the North Side, to oppose Scotty Graham, of Donora, in the opener. Frankie Bauer, of Cleveland, meets Dusty Grove, of the North Side, in the 10-round windup, and Young Terry, of Akron, meets Johnny Orlando, of Johnstown, in another 10-rounder.

The Greater Pittsburgh amateur championship tournament is carded at McKeesport, February 17-18.

The wise men of boxing look for Battling Battalino, the world featherweight champion, to pass on his title to Freddie Miller, now under the same management in their 10-round bout in Cincinnati, Miller's home town, tonight.

Eddie Brannon, Negro lightweight, of the Hill, is under the new management of Morris Goldie, who may be reached by calling Grant 1011. Goldie also will direct the fistic destinies of Johnny Rinke, the amateur light-heavyweight, who is about to turn professional.

Jack Dempsey will head east for his exhibitions in Pittsburgh, Cleveland and other cities following his four-round battle with Bad News Johnson at Stockton, Cal., next Monday night.

Carmen Milarno, of Aliquippa, who recently arrived from Italy, will appear in one of the amateur bouts to be staged in the William Penn Hotel tonight for the delegates to the National Sand and Gravel Association convention.

Matchmaker Jules Beck today completed the card for his show in Motor Square Garden next Tuesday night. He signed Billy Brand, Hill Negro, to box Sailor Matti, of Shenandoah, Pa., and Homestead in the second bout and Sammy Paris, of the Hill, and Johnny Warner, of Clairton, for the opener. Sylvan Bass, of Baltimore, boxes Jimmy Belmont in a return bout in the windup and Joey Raymond, of Baltimore, cousin of Vince and Joe Dundee, meets Tiger Joe Randall, of Elizabeth, in the eight-round semi-final.

JIM LONDOS WINS

BALTIMORE, Jan. 27.—(AP.)—Jim London, claimant to the world heavyweight wrestling championship, defeated Ira Slagle with an abdominal hold in 53 minutes 30 seconds here last night.

CAREY MAY USE HERMAN AT FIRST BASE

By CHARLES J. DOYLE

Max Carey was successful in his long quest for Hack Wilson, but now that he has Hack the Whacker he must find a position for him. Perhaps he will solve the big question by calling Babe Herman into the first base position.

Hack Wilson

Herman has fine ability and in his brief career at the gateway post he showed he could handle a ball easily and gracefully. But Babe has been the victim of so much ridicule on account of his faulty baserunning that he has not been taken seriously enough. Carey may change all this.

Carey has three great hitters for outfield duty in Wilson, O'Doul and Herman, but none of the trio owns the all-around brilliance of Johnny Frederick, clever centerfielder.

MAY TRADE FREDERICK

It was reported in New York yesterday that the Dodgers might trade Frederick to the Phillies for Pitcher Phil Collins, a great pitcher. Carey would demand a star in return for the outfielder.

Scoops. I know, is sweet on Frederick.

"When I was a coach for the Dodgers a move was on tap to send Johnny to the American Association, but a few of us who saw big things in Frederick prevailed on Robbie to change his mind." Carey told me in speaking about the centerfielder.

Frederick, a southpaw batter with a real punch, is strictly an "inside pitch" hitter. Some of the hurlers were able to slow him down last season, but he ought to be a star this year.

WRIGLEY'S SON SUCCESSOR

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—(AP.)—The job of making the Chicago Cubs baseball champions of the world—William Wrigley's most cherished dream—has been left to his son, Phil K.

While there is no definite information concerning the disposal of Wrigley's vast fortune, his controlling share in the Cubs is believed certain to go to his son, Phil K., himself a sports enthusiast, already become president of the Wrigley gum interests.

Wrigley was busy just before his fatal illness, planning ways and means of realizing his dream of seeing the Cubs win a world championship, and thus wipe out the memories—bitter ones to him—of the club's failure to win in 1918 and 1929, after conquering the National League.

Hockey Chiefs Join Seals For Broadcast Tonight

Tory Gregg

Charley Reid, coach, and Tory Gregg, captain and star wing player of the Pittsburgh Yellow Jackets hockey team, will speak on their favorite subject as a feature of the weekly Sports Quiz period of the Trained Seals of the Sports Department of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph over Station WCAE at 7 o'clock tonight.

The hockey men will be interviewed by Carl W. Shatto, hockey expert of the Sun-Telegraph.

Other members of the Trained Seals staff will be interviewed on various topics by Harry Keck, sports editor, who will act as master of ceremonies.

FAVORITES WIN IN GOLF PLAY

PALM BEACH, Fla., Jan. 27.—(AP.)—Favorites advanced without difficulty in the first round of match play in the annual Lake Worth golf tournament here yesterday.

Albert R. Hakes, of Dunkirk, N. Y., medalist, easily eliminated William H. Hyde, Ridgeway, Pa., 4 and 3.

Arthur (Ducky) Yates, of Rochester, N. Y., defending champion, disposed of Dr. Edward Martin, of Media, Pa., 5 and 4.

Tommy Goodwin, of Monroe, N. Y., 18-year-old sensation of the early winter tournaments in Florida, was extended to win, 3 and 1, from Jack Butler, of West Palm Beach.

Other results in the championship flight:

George D. Lyon, New York, won from Blaine Boyer of Massillon, O., 3 and 1. Arthur Brown, of Boston, was carried to the twenty-first green before he eliminated A. R. Hamersley, of Long Island. William H. Langford, of Chicago, had little difficulty beating M. A. Carroll, Oshkosh, Wis., 6 and 4. O. L. Bradley, of Toledo, O., defeated Roscoe T. Anthony, of Palm Beach, 1 up, and John Whitman, of Palm Beach, won 4 and 3, from F. W. Gwynne, of New York.

Pairings for today: Hakes vs. Lynn, Brown vs. Whiteman, Langford vs. Bradley and Yates vs. Goodwin.

Fight Results

At Moose Temple—Paul Pirrone knocked out Tiger Joe West, 2 rounds; Roger Brooks defeated Tom Malco, 6 rounds; Steve Senich and Johnny Warner drew (referee's decision), 6 rounds; Max Elling defeated Nick Susnell, 6 rounds.

At Los Angeles—Ceferino Garcia defeated David Velasco, 10 rounds; Dynamite Jackson defeated Frankie Simms, 10 rounds.

At Indianapolis—Jack King defeated Billy Rose, 10 rounds; Young Stribling defeated Roxy Kid Baker, 8 rounds.

At New York—Jack Redman won by technical knockout over Jack Rosen, 6 rounds.

At West Palm Beach, Fla.—Maxie Rosenbloom defeated Gordon Fortenberry, 10 rounds.

CHRYSLER challenges with these questions . .

WHAT IS THERE TO MATCH CHRYSLER'S PATENTED

FLOATING POWER?

All of the finer, more beautiful new Chryslers have Floating Power, that great fundamental discovery which takes first place among engineering developments of modern times. Revolutionary in principle—sensational in results. Completely wipes out power tremor from both frame and body. Makes the flood of Chrysler power calm and quiet as a millpond. Creates an entirely different "feel" in performance. Yields a smoothness that is impossible to describe. Previously there had been nothing else like it—nothing nearly like it. Scientific minds regard it as the greatest single advantage a modern motor car could have.

WHAT IS THERE TO MATCH CHRYSLER'S
Automatic Clutch?

Completely Automatic. Makes driving supremely simple. Nothing for your left foot to do but be comfortable. You don't have to touch the clutch pedal when starting from a standstill, when changing gears, or even to use reverse. Makes driving easier for everybody.

WHAT IS THERE TO MATCH CHRYSLER'S
Silent Gear Selector?

It isn't gear-shifting in a Chrysler any more—it's gear-selecting. When you release the accelerator, you move the lever freely into place in any direction without touching the clutch pedal—with the car starting from a standstill or traveling at any speed, or when reversing. It's easy. It's effortless. A child could do it. There is no resistance, no sense of friction. The gears cannot clash.

WHAT IS THERE TO MATCH CHRYSLER'S
Free Wheeling?

Chrysler's Free Wheeling is an entirely separate unit at the rear of the transmission. When you are free-wheeling in a Chrysler, the transmission gears are at a standstill, disconnected from both the engine and the rear wheels. This not only provides real Free Wheeling, but makes possible the new kind of effortless shifting you enjoy with the Silent Gear Selector.

WHAT IS THERE TO MATCH CHRYSLER'S
Hydraulic Brakes?

Chrysler Hydraulic Brakes excel because they are simpler. They have fewer parts. They never need lubrication. They are always equalized because they equalize themselves. Quicker stops with greater ease. Safer stops because of absolutely equalized pressure on all four wheels. No "side pull." No swerving. Hydraulic Brakes are used for safety on buses and big trucks. All new taxicabs in New York are required by city ordinance to have Hydraulic Brakes. Try Chrysler Brakes and you will never want to go back to any other kind.

WHAT IS THERE TO MATCH CHRYSLER'S
Centrifuse Brake Drums?

New and larger brake drums of combined steel and cast iron. New type of construction. A steel drum with cast-iron lining—the drum and the lining permanently fused together. The combination of steel and iron fused together makes brakes that last longer, remain cooler, retain uniform efficiency.

WHAT IS THERE TO MATCH CHRYSLER'S
All-Steel Body?

With today's congested traffic conditions, steel motor car bodies are as vital to safety as steel railway coaches. Chrysler steel bodies are of all-steel construction, rigidly reinforced and welded into one piece—the kind of construction you should have and should demand. The entire body is sound-insulated. Wide, comfortable seats. Unusual leg-room and head-room. Beautiful upholstery, fixtures and trim. Strength, safety, smartness, luxury—it has them all.

WHAT IS THERE TO MATCH CHRYSLER'S
Double-Drop Girder-Truss Frame?

The modernizing of the motor car has imposed new demands upon automobile frames, as well as other units of the car. Chrysler engineers have developed a frame of entirely new design. It incorporates the Double-Drop feature, permitting a noticeably low, smart and fleet car appearance. By means of the new Girder-Truss construction, two extra steel members parallel the side channels at either side of the engine, giving twofold support and strength. Continuing, these members cross over diagonally and meet the opposite side channels at the rear. The result is multiplied strength and a stable, distortion-proof foundation for the body.

WHAT IS THERE TO MATCH CHRYSLER'S
Oilite Squeak-Proof Springs?

Regardless of mud, snow, ice or dirt, these springs will not squeak. An entirely new patented spring construction. The steel leaves of the springs are separated by Oilite—a patented metal that contains its own lubrication. Absence of interleaf friction gives a softer, more restful ride. These great springs are standard on all three new Chrysler Eights.

WHAT IS THERE TO MATCH CHRYSLER'S
Speed and Pick-up?

Chrysler cars are more powerful than ever—faster than ever. If you like real speed—Chrysler has it. You may never care to drive 75—85—90 miles an hour, but the great power that makes these speeds possible makes Chrysler performance, at any speed you choose to drive, the most enjoyable performance under the sun.

WHAT IS THERE TO MATCH CHRYSLER'S
Effortless Steering?

The new Chryslers steer with a touch. Women especially enjoy Chrysler steering. It not only makes driving easier, but it is so much easier to get in and out of parking spaces. And Chrysler steering is protected from road-shock.

WHAT IS THERE TO MATCH
All These Other Features?

Besides all its new outstanding superiorities, Chrysler retains the following important basic features—pioneered or popularized by Chrysler and features of Chrysler cars for years: In the Eights, a 4-speed transmission with internal Dual High Gears; in the Six, a Silent-Second Easy-Shift Transmission; all have the high-compression engine; full force-feed lubrication; ventilated crankcase; aluminum alloy Invar Strut pistons; counterweighted crankshafts; modern fuel system with fuel pump, oil filter, air cleaner and intake silencer; noiseless spring shackles; cowl ventilators; small base wheels and large tires; adjustable front seat; interior sun visors; indirect-lighted instrument panels; treadle-type accelerator—and many other features.

FOUR COMPLETE LINES—GREAT RANGE OF PRICES . . . 17 BODY MODELS

A new Chrysler Six with an 83-horsepower engine and five body models, $885 to $975. Automatic Clutch on all Sixes, $85 extra; a new Chrysler Eight with a 100-horsepower engine and four body models, $1035 to $1135; a new Chrysler Imperial Eight with a 125-horsepower engine and two body models, $1525 to $1945; a new Chrysler Imperial Custom Eight with a 125-horsepower engine and six body models, $2495 to $3595. All prices f. o. b. factory. Duplate Safety Plate Glass obtainable on all models at slight extra cost. We repeat—what is there to match these new Chryslers?

The title was deadlocked in Section I as the two-week old Allegheny-Fifth Ave. game ended after regulation City Senior League basketball play. Fifth Avenue and Schenley High Schools are tied for the top position in Section I.

Connelley Trade, which took an early lead in its group, dropped to third place when Fifth Avenue passed them 32 to 27 yesterday. In the most heated tussle of the season Schenley held its foes to a little above 27-20 triumph over Taylor Allderdice.

Allegheny easily defeated Oliver 38-27, it scoring its sixth consecutive win. In other contests South High tripped Peabody 33-26. All three Vocational wins came from Central, in the form of 26-24 and South Hills defeated Perry 30-27.

In the City Junior League victories were scored by Peabody, Herron Hill, Taylor and Connelley B.

The W. P. I. A. L. championship race became more involved than ever after yesterday's contesting.

In outstanding encounters Braddock tripped Rankin, Greensburg was swamped by Latrobe, Uniontown beat Connellsville, Stowe downed McKees Rocks, Beaver Falls walloped New Brighton, Ambridge lost by a point to Aliquippa, Midland nosed out Monaca, Carnegie won from Crafton, Edgewood defeated Aspinwall, Freedom bumped Beaver, New Kensington knocked off Harmar, Coraopolis beat Sewickley, Wilkinsburg bowed to Swissvale and California triumphed over West Newton.

In interleague competition Shady Side Academy was beaten by Butler, Canonsburg topped McDonald, Norwin whipped Jeannette, East Pittsburgh topped Millvale and Munhall downed Catholic.

Erie Golfers Lose In Belleair Play

BELLEAIR, Fla., Jan. 27.—(AP.)—Mrs. Norman P. Rood, of Wilmington, Del., who won the qualifying medal, burned up the Belleair Heights course yesterday in the first round of match play in the women's January golf tournament to defeat Mrs. J. O. Bishop, of Summit, N. J., 7 and 6.

Mrs. Helen B. Stetson, of Philadelphia, former national champion and defending titleholder, scored an easy 6-and-5 victory over Mary Palmer, of Erie, Pa. Mrs. Myra P. Patterson, of New York, defeated Mrs. T. B. Palmer, of Erie, 3 and 2.

Army Keeps Fleming As Sports Director

WEST POINT, N. Y., Jan. 27.—(AP.)—Definite word has been received that Maj. Philip B. Fleming, graduate manager of athletics at the Military Academy, would be assigned to West Point for another year.

The Major was to have been relieved this June for other duties, his place to be taken by Capt. Lawrence (Biff) Jones. The transfer of Capt. Jones to Louisiana State University, where he will coach football, removed that possibility and the decision to continue Maj. Fleming here made.

TUCKER W.-J. COACH

WASHINGTON, Pa., Jan. 27.—(AP.)—Bruce Tucker has been made coach of W. & J. football squad, succeeding Dick Voigt, who resigned to enter the candidates for the job, the latter to be the first season of Mike Ippolito's competency. Tucker has taken charge of the team, which will employ the aggressive offensive style of Wash. Jeff. Coach Voigt's Washington and Jefferson eleven was a tie for the Virginia and Tennessee are also to be met.

CARDINALS BUY HORACE FORD FROM REDS

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 27.—(AP.)—A purchase of Horace Ford, veteran shortstop, from the Cincinnati Reds, was announced today by Sam Breadon, president of the St. Louis Cardinals. The deal for Ford was the eighth transaction Mr. Breadon, Rickey, Cardinals' president, said.

He would not say whether Charley Gelbert, Cardinal shortstop since the 1929 season, was a holdout.

WALSH GOES TO COAST

OAKLAND, Cal., Jan. 27.—(AP.)—Ed Walsh, son of the spitball ace of the Chicago White Sox, starts as a pitcher for Oakland in the Pacific Coast League this season. He is being sent out by Vernon Wanderers, first for Minneapolis in the American Association, and then to the White Sox.

Young Walsh, who is 21 years old, has been with the Oakland team since last June. He is a right-hander and is expected to be a valuable addition to Oakland's pitching staff.

WILSON TO SIGN

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., Jan. 27.—(AP.)—Hack Wilson, the Martinsburg outfielder sold to the Brooklyn Dodgers last Saturday, said he would be a Ford-Dodger after the first of the year next week.

Hack is to leave for New York Saturday to attend the annual dinner of the Baseball Writers Association. He plans to confer with Dodger officials and sign his name to the 1932 contract.

Giants, Dodger Sign Contracts

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—(INS.)—Two pitching right-handed pitchers, Bill Morrell and Hal Schumacher, have signed 1932 contracts with the New York Giants.

The salary contract of Bill Walker, star southpaw, was expected to arrive today. Walker, at his home in East St. Louis, Mo., stated flatly here that he had come to terms and mailed his contract last night.

The Brooklyn Dodgers today announced receipt of the signed 1932 contract of Max Rosenfield, pitcher and outfielder.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 27.—(INS.)—Big George Earnshaw, star right hand hurler of the Athletics, has signed up with the A's again, according to reports reaching here today from Hot Springs, Ark., where the ex-Swarthmore college man is in training.

Real Progress: Leaders Favor Reconstruction

By B. C. FORBES

THIS IS real progress.

A year ago, six months ago, even less, most financiers and other men of important affairs objected to any attempts to stimulate recovery. Their attitude was: Things must be allowed to run their course. Many inevitable readjustments they contended remained to be effected.

Mr. Forbes

Today nearly every one of the same influential gentlemen feel that constructive steps can now be taken safely. Deflation, they agree, has been carried quite far enough, much too far in many directions. Therefore they are willing to support actively helpful innovations such as the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

This mental transformation is of vital importance. Thinking can sometimes make a thing so. For example, were those who occupy the seats of the mighty to conclude that the worst was still to come, and were they to act in accordance with such expectations, worse conditions doubtless would be brought about. The state of mind of the people is actually a fundamental economic factor.

Hence the encouragement derivable from the fact that the confusion has been reached in the most powerful circles that the time has come when remedial measures can and should be instituted.

This is, in my opinion, news of supreme moment.

I PERSONALLY know of no multi-millionaire who now feels that it is safe to operate on the short side of the stock market on a colossal scale. It was very different 12 months ago.

THAT THE Merchants' Association of New York, through a committee headed by Percy H. Johnston, banker, should come out against federal legislation against short selling is not astonishing.

Economic history has convinced most students that it is more dangerous to prohibit short selling by law than to permit it. The writer is of the opinion that under normal conditions, it is wise to maintain an absolutely free market—meaning short sales as freely sanctioned as buying for cash and buying on margin.

But under the panicky conditions which dragged values in this country to ridiculous depths last year, the writer believed, and still believes, that the New York Stock Exchange should have experimented with the suspending of short selling, not only for 48 hours after Britain suspended gold payments, but when security values were pressed much faster down than they were even at that time.

PRESIDENT WHITNEY, of the Stock Exchange, however, did not share this view. In a long earnest talk with him I tried to drive home that if the institution neglected to suspend short selling temporarily, the likelihood was that lawmakers would act. Mr. Whitney, an honest, estimable gentleman, enjoying an enviable reputation in the financial world, unfortunately declared that he would rather see the Stock Exchange closed than attempt to run it with short selling prohibited.

The writer, notwithstanding his repeated sincere efforts to have short selling temporarily suspended during the height of panic hysteria, gravely fears what might happen were either Washington or Albany to pass a law making short selling illegal. But if by and by, unfortunate experiences are suffered, which will be held more blamable, the governors of the Stock Exchange or the politicians?

THE BEST bank shares look extraordinarily cheap.

NOW FOR reconstruction!

Recovery Depends More on Businessmen and Consumer Than on Officeholder

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
Universal Service.

SAN SIMEON, Cal., Jan. 27.—With business still in the doldrums, there is an increasing tendency to look to the nation's political capital for encouragement.

In spite of the negative results from the President's White House conferences in November 1929, many still believe in the magic of "fiat prosperity," ordered and ordained by politicians. The new Hoover reconstruction program gets officially under way this week. The Reconstruction Finance Corporation, intended to liquify frozen assets, is the kingpin in the plan, which also includes putting of $125,000,000 of additional government capital into the Federal Land Bank System.

Mr. Rukeyser.

TO BUY NORMALCY

The outlays intended to buy back economic normalcy will, of course, have been well spent if they break the vicious cycle of depression. Insofar as they are counter-deflationary, they should be helpful, but by themselves do not constitute magic wands. As a matter of fact, they are designed to salvage threatened old values, rather than to create new values, which could be achieved through a vast public works program.

It would be unfortunate if private executives expect too much from the federal gestures. The depression should be fought on all fronts, and the success of the attack against gloom depends largely on the behavior of business men and consumers, rather than officeholders. Accordingly, it would be a calamity if the dreamers and doers of the workaday world should sit back passively and await the effect of Doctor Hoover's financial medicine.

OBJECTIONABLE CUSTOM

During the last decade the public got too much in the habit of looking to Washington for speculative advice and economic stimulus. High officials got into the objectionable custom of expressing verdicts on conjectural sales over which bulls and bears fought, such as whether brokers' loans were too high and whether conditions were basically sound.

Incidentally, with the government through these new agencies holding the bag for private financial institutions, let the bankers in the future hold their tongues when social reforms entailing paternalism are proposed. If it is not too paternalistic for the Treasury to lend aid and comfort to frozen wealth, it should not be too paternalistic for the government to perform desirable social services for the needy.

STEEL DECLINE SENDS STOCK LIST OFF

Losses of 1 to 3 Numerous In Shares Following Halving of Dividend Rate

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—(AP.)—Excessive optimism was dashed in the stock market today by the halving of United States Steel's dividend.

It was evident that the action was not particularly surprising, in the light volume of selling, but a 4-point drop in the shares of the leading industrials imparted a heavy tone throughout the market, and losses of 1 to 3 points were numerous.

United States Steel's 4-point loss carried it under 38 to within a couple of points of the bear market low. American Telephone sagged more than 3. Bethlehem lost more than 2, touching a new low, under 17. Others off 2 to 3 included American Can, Eastman, Westinghouse and Allied Chemical, while losses of a point or more were common, appearing in General Electric, Standard of N. J., Woolworth, American Tobacco "B," Kennecott, Consolidated Gas and North American. Pennsylvania sold off 1¾, then recovered on announcement of the 50-cent dividend. Losses of a point or so were common in the rails after midday, although there was a temporary upturn in this group in the morning.

The action on United States Steel's dividend represented a compromise between the expectations of the pessimists, who thought it would be omitted, and the extreme optimists, who hoped for another payment of $1. With the Steel Corporation not earning the interest on outstanding bonds in the past quarter, many observers felt that the 50-cent payment was fully as generous as could be reasonably expected.

The regular quarterly payment of 50 cents by Pennsylvania Railroad and of $2.25 by Delaware and Hudson served to enhance somewhat the better feeling toward the railroad issues.

Brokerage quarters have predicted that American Tobacco directors, meeting after the close of the market today, would order an extra of $1 in addition to the regular payments.

Call money was about steady at 2½ per cent, but there was less demand for federal funds, which were quoted at 1¾ to 2 per cent, off ½ of 1 per cent from yesterday.

WHEAT PRICES TAKE DIP

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—New setbacks of grain values early today went hand in hand with New York stock market downturns. Continued heavy pressure of Argentine wheat offerings at Liverpool was reported. Opening ⅞ to 1⅛ cent off, wheat afterward sagged further. Corn started ¼ to ⅝ cent down and subsequently held near the initial limits.

Rallies from early weakness in wheat here followed a sudden recovery in Liverpool quotations. Speculative sellers at Liverpool were reported to have turned quickly to the buying side owing to developments in Argentina, where restrictions on future delivery trading were officially announced. Some wheat buying in Chicago resulted also from extreme cold in Northern Canada, 42 below zero.

Apprehensiveness regarding possible crop damage in domestic winter wheat territory was increased by government reports that over wide expanses the plant was in danger of injury from a severe freeze.

The following quotations on the Chicago Board of Trade are reported by A. E. Masten & Co.:

Industrial Output Off 16 Pct. in 1931

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—While industrial activity generally declined from November to December by slightly more than the usual seasonal amount, the Federal Reserve Board reports automobile output increased considerably and daily average output at shoe factories, which ordinarily declines at this season, showed little changed. For 1931 as a whole, the average volume of industrial production was about 16 per cent smaller than in 1930.

No Wrigley Stock Sale Is Planned

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—P. K. Wrigley, president of the William Wrigley, Jr. Company states that none of the Wrigley stock owned by his late father, William Wrigley, Jr., will be sold for inheritance tax or any other purpose as ample provisions have been made to take care of all estate and federal expenditures.

STEEL OUTPUT UP SLIGHTLY

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Iron Age tomorrow will say:

The steel industry though making very slow headway against adverse influences has had another slight gain in operations to 29 per cent of ingot capacity for the country as a whole compared with 28 per cent last week. The number and aggregate tonnage of orders are showing improvement though not of seasonal proportions.

Dullness in heavy products fully reflects the subnormal volume of buying for construction or railroad work in some areas the demand for sheets, strip steel and bars largely from the automobile industry is the main support. There is aid from tin plate rollings which however have not shown their usual January increase.

The influence that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation may exert upon business by removing the weak spots in the credit and banking structure will nowhere be watched with closer interest than in the metal-working industries which depend to such a large extent upon construction and railroad activities and agriculture. If this move to stop deflationary processes functions as expected an early result might be a check in the decline of prices. For the first time in several weeks the composite price averages of The Iron Age on finished steel, pig iron and scrap have shown no change. While it cannot be said that steel prices have actually reached a point of resistance there being so little important tonnage to test them they have attained a little more stability at the existing low levels.

Freed Killers Are Guests of Honor at Party Given By Racket Leader

(Adapted from the original motion picture story of W. R. Burnett with screen play by John L. Mahin; produced by Cosmopolitan Productions and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.)

CHAPTER XVIII.

"Daisy," Ed said, "I love you—but I can't stand it—I tried to talk to Jim in the courtroom—when I was acquitted and he looked at me with that cold stare of his like he didn't see me—and walked out. I was standing there, swinging my hand like a fool—he wouldn't even shake hands—"

Ed put both his hands over his face and his shoulders began to heave. Daisy pressed her cheek against his.

"Lover," she purred. "Everything'll be all right. But we've got to play the game—you an' me. You know that it cost Belmonte somethin' to get you outta that rap, an' he ain't forgettin'. You've got to play along with him until——"

"Until I get in a worse mess!" exclaimed Ed. "No. I'm through. I won't have anything to do with his dirt. I'm through."

But just listen to me," cooed Daisy, nestling up to him. "We'll get ours. I can play him through Cholo, who's crazy about me——"

She did not finish because Ed suddenly turned on her and grabbed her shoulders.

"You're hurting me, Ed!" she exclaimed.

"Now I see everything!" cried Ed, bitterly. "You got me to spill about that gold and then you worked Cholo in on it. It was a frame-up! Now I know what Mahaffey and Ginger Slim meant when they dropped a hunch that I wouldn't have been cut in anyway—Cholo would have doublecrossed them, too. That's why they were sore. He saved himself by beatin' it away. I'll get that skunk!"

"Keep your head, Ed," said Daisy, shaking off his hold. "You're nervous and excited over everything that's happened. I don't doubt that Cholo would have double-crossed you, an' would have played two-time with those two mugs—but don't think that way o' me, Ed." She nestled close to him again. "Believe me, honey, I love you—an' I'm with you in everything that happens. I only wanted you to get that dough, so's we could get away from this—get away where we'd be happy—believe me, honey."

She looked long and earnestly into his eyes. She ran her hands through his dark, curly hair, but he sat there, staring straight ahead, as though oblivious to everything.

"The dirty, double-crossin' snake," he muttered.

Daisy looked at him for a moment more, patted his head, pecked at his cheek and then got up and went over to the dresser. She began to arrange her white-gold hair, twisting her head from side to side as she looked at herself in the mirror. Finally she turned toward Ed, who was sitting in the same position, staring at nothing.

"You'll go to that blowout tonight—you know the boys are celebratin' your release," she purred.

"No!" exclaimed Ed, kicking the rug with his feet and glaring at her. "How can you ask me to mix in with those crooks? It's the straight and narrow for me, from now on."

"But, listen, Ed, darling," and Daisy went over and flopped in his lap, her bare arms about his neck. "Belmonte works in other towns besides this. I've never asked a favor of him and I'm gonna ask one now. We can lam out of here—he'll stake us and after we've made our bankroll we'll ditch the racket. Believe in me, sweetheart."

"Will Cholo be at the party?" asked Ed in a hollow voice.

"Yes—sure—he'll be there—but don't say nothin' to him. Just be nice. There are ways of gettin' Cholo without takin' chances——"

"There's only one way an Irishman knows of gettin' even."

"Promise little Daisy you won't raise hell," cajolingly.

"All right," said Ed, with sudden decision. "I'll go—you say it's at Celli's? Come on, toss on your things. I'll go."

"And you'll be a nice boy?"

"Uhu."

* * *

Guiseppe Belmonte, who had come out of hiding on the finding of the verdict, took over Celli's restaurant for the night. It would be a party that the mob would not forget for some time. This had been Belmonte's greatest victory over so-called law and order, for Belmonte made his own laws, ruled his own little kingdom and thumbed his nose at officialdom.

When Ed and Daisy arrived the place was a shambles of streamers, confetti, paper caps, empty bottles and broken glasses. The tables were filled with grinning, heavy-jowled, evil-eyed men and rouged, overdressed and furtive-eyed women. The orchestra had long since ceased trying to play and its members had joined in the drinking.

Back in the corner at a little table raised on a small platform sat the Neronic figure of Belmonte, his fat neck popping out of a full-dress collar. Michaels, attired as usual in his drab business suit, was beside him. Cholo was sprawled in a seat, his lithe figure encased in a tight-fitting tuxedo, his dark hair slicked back.

At a table to the right were the two top-shot gunmen, who looked like twins, and with them were "Noneck" Mike Mahaffey and "Ginger Slim" Morgan, uncomfortably dressed in rented evening clothes, gobbling their drinks in rapid succession, acknowledging slaps on the backs and congratulations with hiccups and grunts. Now and then they put their heads together and conversed from the corners of their mouths, a heritage of their days in the Big House.

Dangling from a chandelier in the center of the room was a grotesque figure, attired in full police regulation uniform. A huge sign labeled it, "FIGHTIN' FITZ, THE FUMIGATOR MAN." It was the first thing which met Ed's eye as he entered, the resplendent Daisy in a beautiful evening gown of shimmering silver cloth clinging to his arm. He gritted his teeth, but said nothing, and with Daisy walked back to Belmonte's table.

"Well, well, here's the third of the innocents!" exclaimed Belmonte, waving to a waiter, who was nearby, to bring two chairs. "Sit down at the table of honor, Ed—you're welcome."

"Thanks, Belmonte," said Ed dryly, casting a hurried look at Cholo, whose dark eyes were fixed on Daisy.

"I guess you're with us now," sang out Belmonte. "Come on, boys—let's open up the bubble-soup an' drink to the health of Ex-Sergt. Edward Fitzpatrick—a member of this club."

Ed pulled back Daisy's chair and she seated herself directly in front of the gang chieftain. Ed took his own seat.

"You're pitchin' some party," said Ed.

"Yes, you're one of the honor guests," chimed in Belmonte. "The other lads are over there—even the one who went to jail to save the honor of a woman—ha! ha!" And he gave Michaels a dig in the ribs. "That Michaels slays me."

"Well, let's drink," said Ed grimly, never taking his eyes off Cholo.

* * *

At 8 o'clock the next morning a patrolman noticed a strange bundle in the rear of Celli's cafe. He went closer to investigate, swinging his nightstick. As he drew nearer he walked faster. Then he touched the bundle with the tip of his toe.

"Holy mack'rel," he exclaimed. "A dead man — and murdered, too."

He looked closer at the drawn, white face, twisted in the agony of death. He looked at the faultless evening attire, and the dark splotch on the dress shirt, just over the heart. The handle of a butcher-knife protruded. The face was familiar.

"Holy saints—if it ain't Mike Cholo!" he exclaimed. "A thorough job, too—knife!"

Synopsis

Jim Fitzpatrick, police captain, noted for his honesty, succeeds in having Daisy Beaumont freed after she is arrested on a false charge. Four racketeers are found murdered and Fitzpatrick suspects Guiseppe Belmonte, overlord of a huge vice ring. Belmonte is arrested by Fitzpatrick, but is soon released. Ed Fitzpatrick, sergeant of the vice squad, promises to help his brother Jim to bring Belmonte to justice. They discover that Daisy is employed by the vice leader. Ed admires Daisy and visits her. Belmonte plans revenge on Jim with Daisy's help. Ed is detailed to guard a fortune in gold bullion being transferred from a bank. Becoming drunk, he plans to steal it himself and reveals his plans to Mike Cholo. The next day the gold is stolen and Lieut. Makowsky is killed while chasing the robbers. Two of the bandits are arrested and tell Jim that Ed planned the robbery. Jim orders Ed's arrest on a murder charge. Belmonte wants Ed to be freed and his gangsters intimidate the witnesses. All three of the accused are freed when the jury returns a verdict of not guilty.

ALL IN A DAY

By MARK HELLINGER

In Which the Customers Do the Work

"DEAR MARK," writes Edwin P———, from Hollywood. "Maybe you'd be interested in a story that is actually reported to have taken place in one of the better known film studios out here only a few days ago. It concerns a so-called story expert who was sent on from New York to take charge of all story material.

"The only trouble with this story expert seemed to be the fact that he didn't know anything about stories. After meandering around in a pompous fashion for a few days he called a conference of authors in his office. He made a little speech about nothing in particular, and then asked the various authors to outline the best plots they had in mind.

"The authors—and they included some of the best writing names on the coast—looked at each other with wry faces. This was the new boss, however, and there wasn't much that they could do about it. So, one by one they began to outline plots.

"The alleged expert didn't like anything. Before the author could get half way in his tale the expert would begin to shake his head in a decidedly negative fashion.

"'No good,' he would murmur, 'absolutely no good. Such a plot would not contain the basic values of the dramatic essence. I'm afraid you will have to get something else.'

"This went on for a couple of hours and the writers were just about ready to take solid punches at this pomous dope. One of them—a man you know very well, Mark—suddenly made up his mind to put an end to this foolishness. He decided to ad lib a ridiculous plot and let it go at that.

"So, while the others listened, with subdued grins, the author began to talk. It was obvious that he was making up the fantastic tale on the spot. He started off with a horse race idea, switched to a girl in the five an ten cent store, threw in a society marriage, had the heroine leap from the hand of the Statue of Liberty to elude the villain, and so forth. When he finished he pounded the table.

"'That's my picture,' he announced grimly, 'and the title I would like for it is Emma.'

"To everyone's amazement the expert was nodding his head slowly. The other authors had expected the creator of the fantastic tale to be bounced from the studio immediately. But here was their new boss smiling very affably for the first time since the meeting began. Suddenly he spoke.

"'My friends,' was his astonishing announcement, 'we have finally hit something. That is my idea of a real motion picture plot. And do you know why I particulary like it? My wife's name is Emma.' . . .

* * *

TALK ABOUT YOUR different rackets," writes Murray K. "Here's one that's a wow.

"The racketeer puts an advertisement in a reliable paper. 'It reads that a young man is wanted as a clerk and that the salary to start will be $30. Naturally, times being what they are, the racketeer receives anywhere from 300 to 500 replies. He then takes the names and addresses, types phony telegrams in connection with the job and delivers them himself. Inasmuch as he gets some 75 cents for each wire, you can see that he nets several hundred dollars on each ad.

"Not bad, eh?" . . .

* * *

"IT WAS A very hot day in July," writes Mrs. Michael Plotnik, "and an elderly gentleman was walking downtown in the heat among the crowds of Suffolk St. The air was stifling and the streets were burning. Suddenly the old gentleman gave a low moan and sank to the ground.

"A great crowd gathered immediately. People came running from all directions. A policeman bent over the prostrate form. And several women began to shriek at the officer.

"'Get him some water,' they cried. 'Get him water!'

"At that, the old gentleman picked up his head.

"'If you don't mind, please,' he murmured, 'I would rather have a malted milk!'" . . .

* * *

"MY DEAR MR. HELLINGER," writes Sam Liebman, the proprietor of a Broadway men's shop. "You have embarrassed me a great deal. In a recent column, you told of the owner of a haberdashery store who killed himself because business was so bad. An hour later his store was ruined by a fire. Since he had been fully insured he would have been worth a comfortable fortune if he had only waited.

"You deliberately stated in that column, Mr. Hellinger, that you were not going to hurt the man's family by using his right name. So you called him the proprietor of Martin's Men's Shop, and let it go at that. I know your intentions were of the best and that you didn't realize that there was actually a proprietor of a Martin's Men's Shop in New York. But there is—and I'm the man.

"Well, you may be interested in learning what happened. The day after the publication of that story my store was crowded. Crowded, I tell you—but not with customers. With creditors! They had read in your column that the store had burned down and that I had committed suicide. You can imagine their sorrow when they saw me alive. I honestly believe that they were bitterly disappointed.

"I would appreciate a note in your column, Mr. Hellinger. I would like people to know that I am still in business and making money."

"I am happy to run your letter, sir. The last sentence alone, makes it a terrific news story . . .

* * *

"S'HELP ME, Mark, it happened at a party last week," writes Leonard Lyons. "The kind of a party that is called a musical, but at which they serve good sandwiches, anyway.

"You can call this girl Sarina, although her name might have been Sarah — and probably was. Sarina had been informing the guests as to the operatic successes that had been her due.

"'I've studied under Samoloff, the great Russian teacher of voice culture,' she announced. 'I've sung in the grand operas of Milan and Vienna. I gave successful concerts in the concert halls of Berlin and Paris. Oh, yes. I've had my share of acclaim and critical approbation.'

"The hostess signaled for silence, and announced that Sarina was to honor us with some of her singing specialties. The guests ceased their munching of sandwiches. They sat back, donned their masks of culture and prepared for the operatic outbursts.

"Sarina arose gracefully. She whispered some words to her accompanist, cleared her throat and permitted a gaze of intense musical refinement to enter her eyes. Suddenly she began. The notes came out in a modern, jazzy contralto. The words formed:

"'Oh, Minnie, the Moocher,

"'She was a low-down hoochy-koocher!'" . . .

SUN-TELEGRAPH-WARNER THEATERS Junior Komic Club

The meetings of the Sun-Telegraph-Warner Theater Junior Komic Club chapters grow more and more interesting every week. Yesterday we told you about Saturday's meetings at the Davis, Cameraphone, Enright and South Hills chapters. Here are some more.

Members of Manor Chapter excel in choral singing. When the organist of the theater begins to play, they swing from one popular number into another—and love it. The M. Barth School of Dancing put on a stage show at Saturday's meeting and the following members of Manor Chapter gave songs and dances: C. Becker, L. Miller, Julie Parker, Diana Rice and Geraldine Greenberger. Candy was distributed to the entire audience and birthday cakes were presented to members who had birthdays within the week.

Great excitement prevailed around the Schenley Theater Saturday when the Supreme Grand Jester and a representative of the Sun-Telegraph visited the chapter. Outside the theater was a gayly decorated bus, bearing the sign "Oklahoma Cowboys." This band of entertainers paused long enough in Pittsburgh to put on a show for the boys and girls at the Schenely.

The band recently established at the Schenley, and the players from the School for the Blind, gave place, for one meeting, to this traveling company. They tell us, the regular members of the club are rehearsing a great show for the next meeting.

Another big program was staged by the Memorial (McKeesport) Chapter. After the usual opening ceremonies, Bunny Newlin gave a talk on safe traffic.

The stage show follows: Virginia Alton, tap dance; Evelyn Usko, acrobatic dance; Dorothy Smith, tap dance; Robert Nelson, Harry and Edgar Miller, song; Lois and Mary Kane, song and dance; Betty Griffin, song; Norma Kerber, tap dance; Emma Bentley and Ruth Nelson, song.

Prizes were awarded to Annabelle Greenfield and Bill Reshenberg, Bessie Sollars, Watson Mink, and Wilda Jean Smith. The rope throwing contest was won by Anna Svalecick and Dennis Smith.

The Sun-Telegraph-Warner Theaters Junior Komic Club extends greetings to the following members who will celebrate their birthdays tomorrow:

GEORGE WHAT DO YOU THINK. THOSE FOLKS MOVED IN NEXTDOOR TODAY. YOU SHOULD HAVE SEEN THE FURNITURE. WONDERFUL. RIGHT UP-TO-THE-MINUTE ANTIQUES. OIL PAINTINGS OF COWS, AND SO FORTH.
HIGHBROWS EH? WELL WE DESERVE A CHANGE LIKE THAT.
I WAS IN THE HALL SWEEPING WHEN SHE OPENED THE DOOR FOR THE MOVING MEN. SHE'S VERY ARISTOCRATIC. INSTEAD OF SWAGGERING THROUGH THE HALLS SO ALL THE NEIGHBORS COULD SEE HER WONDERFUL COAT SHE TOOK IT OFF AND CARRIED VASES AND THINGS UPSTAIRS.
YOU DIDN'T TALK TO HER EH? I WONDER WHAT HE DOES? WELL WE'LL FIND OUT TOMORROW.
HE'S A VERY EXTRAORDINARY MAN. NO BELLOWING AT THE MOVING MEN. EVEN WHEN THEY WERE TRYING TO GET THE PIANO UPSTAIRS HE DIDN'T INTERFERE WITH THEM. YOU SHOULD HAVE BEEN HERE TO SEE THAT PART OF IT.
VERY EASY-GOING, EH? MAYBE HE WAS TOO TIRED TO SPEAK UP.
NO, I'M POSITIVE THOSE FOLKS ARE JUST THE SORT WE LIKE. QUIET, REFINED, ARISTOCRATIC, EVERYTHING. WELL I'VE ALWAYS KNOWN WE'D GET NEIGHBORS LIKE THAT SOONER OR LATER.
YES, BUT WHAT A WAIT! ANYHOW AS YOU SAY, WE DESERVE A LOT OF CREDIT FOR NEVER GETTING DISCOURAGED. THAT WAS OPTIMISM PLUS!

Pattern 2085

Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph 15c Practical Pattern

STEP-BY-STEP INSTRUCTION DIAGRAMS GIVEN WITH THIS PATTERN
By ANNE ADAMS

This smart, well-cut smock has cleverly styled pockets that make it quite unusual in appearance. The collar, too, is most becoming above the double-breasted closing of the garment. Tucks at the shoulders, front and back, give ample ease as well as a trimming note. The sleeves are comfortably full and held at the wrists with a snug band. There are any number of good-looking suitable prints in cretonne, broadcloth, chambray and rayon.

Pattern 2085 is obtainable only in sizes 14 to 20 and 32 to 46. Size 16 requires 3½ yards of 36-inch fabric.

Send 15 CENTS in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for each pattern. Write plainly your name, address and style number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE WANTED.

THE NEW SPRING FASHION CATALOG IS NOW READY. This beautiful, colorful book offers 32 pages of chic, authentic Anne Adams styles for adults and children. Where the Blame Lies Monopoly Granted By the Public Service Commission to Certain Utilities Is Responsible for High Rates.

The announcement that a new taxicab company would like to enter Pittsburgh and promises lower rates if granted a franchise is a fresh reminder that the city is in the grip of public utilities monopolies.

The Parmelee company has the taxicab monopoly, the Pittsburgh Motor Coach Company has the bus monopoly, and then there is the trolley monopoly, and the electric light and power monopoly, and the telephone monopoly, and on the South Side the water monopoly.

It is more convenient, to be sure, to have a monopoly than competing services in the case of certain utilities—the telephone, for example—but the Public Service Commission owes it to the public when it grants a monopoly to see that the company thus favored charges a reasonable rate.

The Pittsburgh Motor Coach Company could not "get away" with its extortionate 25 cent bus fare for a 10-cent ride if it were not for the protection given it by the Public Service Commission. Applications now pending before the Commission furnish evidence that there would be competing companies in the field at lower rates very quickly if competition were permitted.

Back to the Farm!

Abandoned Agricultural Land May Be Useful in Relieving Destitution.

T. G. Hosick, of Rural Valley, Armstrong County, says there are in that vicinity at least 50 abandoned farms ranging in size from 10 to more than 100 acres. Up to 30 or 40 years ago these farms were cultivated. Large families were born and raised on them, and fed, clothed and educated with the products of the land now lying idle.

The young people began to move away from the farms about 1895, attracted by the wages, entertainment and opportunities to advance that were to be found in Pittsburgh, New Kensington, Vandergrift and Ford City. In course of time the old folks sold the coal and oil rights and moved, too.

There are commodious and substantial houses on some of these farms, Mr. Hosick writes in the Rural Valley Advance! the land is still fertile, and many of the owners would be glad to have it cultivated either on shares, or for a small rental, or for a mere guarantee of the payment of taxes. He suggests that welfare or governmental agencies put unemployed men and their families on this idle land and help them with loans and expert advice to make a living.

The plan is adaptable not only to Armstrong County but to Allegheny County and other counties in the Pittsburgh district. There are 20,000 abandoned farms in Pennsylvania, and not a few of them are in Western Pennsylvania.

Putting the unemployed on abandoned farms is, of course, not to be considered except as a long-range relief measure. It offers no solution to the immediate problem.

Attention has been called, however, to the probability that even when business booms again there will be unemployed men who have been displaced by machines and by more efficient methods.

Some of them who came originally from the farm might find it to their advantage to return. The radio, good roads and automobiles, and rural free delivery of the mail, make country life far more pleasant now than it was when the movement to the cities was under way. Electric power and machines have done away with much of the drudgery.

Help Pittsburgh Win!

This City Is an Entrant in the National Traffic Safety Contest.

The Better Traffic Committee has entered Pittsburgh in the National Traffic Safety Contest for 1932.

The contest is being conducted by the National Safety Council and its purpose is to give recognition to municipalities for notable achievements in dealing with their traffic accident problems.

Two kinds of safety accomplishments are to be considered—first, a low death rate from auto accidents or a reduction in the previous rate, and second, the enactment of regulations or educational activities which promote safety. The plan will prevent a city from winning solely through a lucky accident record or a safety campaign that produces no results.

Help Pittsburgh to win!

Council can help by enacting the proposed traffic ordinance which will make Pittsburgh's regulations uniform with those of other large cities and do away with the "fixing" of traffic offenses.

Schools, civic and trade bodies and other organizations can help by teaching and preaching safety on the streets.

You can help by being careful both when you are walking and when you are driving.

Let's make Pittsburgh "the safest city of 1932"!

How Do We Stand?

There Is Need for Accurate Information as to What Relief Funds Will Be Available.

It is conceded by everyone familiar with conditions that the money available or in sight for the relief of the unemployed in Allegheny County is inadequate. But there is difference of opinion as to how much more is needed.

The first step in setting about in a businesslike way to raise additional funds is to obtain accurate information as to the amount that will be required, and that cannot be determined until all the relief agencies have got together and compared notes.

How about the National Red Cross? It was announced recently that it had reversed its policy and would contribute $1,000,000 to the relief of suffering in the bituminous coal mining villages. How much of that fund can Allegheny County expect?

Allegheny County should receive $1,600,000 of the $10,000,000 appropriated by the Legislature under the terms of the Talbot bill for poor relief. When can the Supreme Court's opinion on its constitutionality be expected?

A group of song writers, vaudevillians and booking agents were in a close clutter and indulging hurried sarcasms at Lindy's. Ballard McDonald came up, looked them over, sneered "Just a bunch of lunch eaters"—and walked away.

* * *

There are two spots on Broadway where I see types of people I see nowhere else in the metropolis. Lindy's is one and Loew's State Theater is the other. The gathering at Lindy's is a collection of glossily taut ladies and sporty men who clip out side-of-the-mouth conversation and have the charred look of burnt out roues. The ladies are attractive in a cosmetic way and the men riddled with the mystery that clings to followers of race tracks or performers "At Liberty." Despite an aura of worldliness I have never seen a flash there. Life seems enormously earnest and there is much exciting talk about lay-offs, split weeks, knocking 'em cold in Philly, a muddy track at Pimlico and other sportive flickflack. Those who do not talk, bury faces deep in Sime's Variety and the Daily Running Horse.

* * *

Down the street and across is Loew's where may be seen the most typical Main street Saturday night crowd on the bright boulevard. Glow-ey clerks and the gum chewing girl friends from those Jersey towns with frenzied names—Hackensack, Metuchen and Passiac. Also middle-aged ruralites with precise tick-tack talk. People who laugh and applaud every act. It is a wholesome jollity—a refreshing ripple to the usual swift run of Broadway's pleasure stream.

* * *

And on Broadway they are now calling the pansy "a big sunflower."

LISTEN, WORLD

By Elsie Robinson

Is Romance doomed if ladies have jobs?

Will Bessie lose her interest in Bill if she earns her own three-squares-per? Will Bill cease to be charmed by Bessie if he works beside her daily in the store?

The Russians say it is . . . and they will. And they have left no room in the new Soviet platform for that old established plank—"Moonlight and Roses."

Infatuation? That's different. Infatuation is a pleasant trick whereby Nature perpetuates the species. Let Nature have her little tricks. But Romance must go! For Romance, according to the Russians, is a snare and a delusion . . . A CAPITALISTIC TRICK! Romance—say they—is based, not on the need of the heart but on the need of the pocket book. It is the bait whereby a woman obtains for herself a steady provider and a man obtains for himself an unpaid housekeeper and companion. And like all other capitalistic devices, it is full of lies.

"Consider the vows which your lovers make to each other," say the Russians. "Do they mean a word of them? Could they live up to them even if they so desired? Impossible. But necessity makes liars of us all. Women have had to lie to men to obtain support and protection for themselves and their children. Men have had to lie to women in order to entice them into domestic slavery. AND AS LONG AS ECONOMIC INEQUALITY CONTINUES, THIS LYING WILL PERSIST . . . AND YOU WILL GLORIFY IT BY CALLING IT ROMANCE.

"But when men and women are really equal, as they are under the Soviet, there will be no reason for lying. Then both sexes will have equal advantages, equal privileges, and it will be impossible for them to bind or fool each other. AND THAT WILL PUT AN END TO ROMANCE."

That's how the Russians feel about Romance and they put their feelings into practice. You'll find few Love Confessions on Moscow magazine stands . . . few romances on Russian stages or movie screens. Even the poets write of tractors and pile drivers instead of twilights and palpitations. WORK is the Russian's favorite plot . . . THE FIVE-YEAR PLAN is his theme song. Moon-struck lovers are laughed at. If they continue to put personal passion before Soviet need, they are punished. It is a crime, comparable to treason, to love your wife too much in Russia!

And thus Stalin expects to abolish Romance. I wonder!

Is romance just a case of a Couple of Liars and a Pocket Book? Does Bessie tell her Bill that she's better than she is, simply because she is scheming to get a Meal Ticket?

Not a bit of it! Bessie tells Bill that she is better than she is because, touched by the sudden, lovely miracle of love she wants to be better than she is. And poor old Bill, drudging down in the packing room at $20 per, makes Grand Gestures because he'd give his eye teeth to be brave and handsome and famous for his Lively Lady's sake.

A Pipe Dream? Perhaps! But it is the sort of pipe dream that has made men out of monkeys and may—IF WE LIVE LONG ENOUGH AND HANDSOMELY ENOUGH TO RID OURSELVES INTO ACTION—yet make gods out of men.

So I'm thinking that someone should tell Mr. Stalin to lay off Romance. Perhaps he knows a lot about bombs and Bolsheviks, but he certainly needs to brush up on love. Romance go? Never! For romance isn't a greedy hand grabbing for money. ROMANCE IS A HUNGRY HEART REACHING TOWARD A STAR.

Marry-Go-Round

By HELEN ROWLAND

Woman's Lucky Break

What a fortunate thing that so few women ever attain their youthful dreams or marry the "Ideal Man" of their youthful fancy!

* * *

Just a few years make such a difference in your whole perspective.

* * *

When you are very young, you long for something to HAPPEN—anything exciting, thrilling or "different." When you are a little older, you fervently "hope that nothing will happen"—particularly, nothing disturbing.

At 20, you go in for daring hats, exotic earrings, mascaraed eyelids, trailing skirts and bizarre make-up—anything to make you look more sophisticated. At 40, you bob your hair and revert to innocent, girlish-looking hats, pastel sweaters and a pale make-up—anything to make you look more ingenuous—and younger.

* * *

When you are very young, you long to be original, startling, "different!" When you are slightly older, you hope to heaven that nobody will think you "odd"; and you trust the world will close its eyes, if you do anything unconventional or egregious.

* * *

In your college years, you struggle to camouflage your eagerness with an air of boredom and hard-boiled cynicism. When you are a little older, you cautiously cover your boredom and cynicism with a bright, forced smile of eagerness and enthusiasm.

When you are very young, you would rather be "popular" than president. You want to be on every man's telephone list. You sigh for a long stag-line trailing after you.

* * *

When you are a little older, you know that all women can be fooled some of the time, and some women can be fooled all of the time. But you have learned how to look up into a man's eyes and pretend to believe him—even when you know he's lying.

* * *

When you are very young, you dream of a dashing, masterful caveman, entirely surrounded by money and adoring women. Somebody who can thrill you, dominate you—and make you "suffer." When you're a little older, you yearn only for a kind, tender, manageable, understanding man, who will make you comfortable and happy. Somebody who will "star" you—not treat you as one of the footlights.

* * *

Yes, it is fortunate for women, that so few of them ever find or marry "that schoolgirl fancy."

Conventions and Campaigns

By Claude G. Bowers

Author of "The Struggle for Democracy in America," "Founders of the Republic," "Jefferson and Democracy," "The Tragic Era" and other important works, now writing for The Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

The approach of the national conventions of the two leading parties offers a wide latitude for speculation as to the nature of the fights to be waged and the methods to be employed.

The first convention was held in 1832, and for many years the candidates followed a common course. There were no preferential presidential primaries in any of the states. The choice of a candidate was largely with the political leaders. The candidates were men with records requiring little or no illumination, and they made very few speeches to advance their ambitions. Those who were members of Congress could gracefully continue making speeches in the hope that they would be beneficial, but, as a rule, the most loquacious statesman aspiring to the nomination became strangely reticent as the convention approached.

The idea of personally attending the convention did not occur to any of the candidates as exactly proper. The candidates remained in their homes, in touch with their managers in the convention, but no one, aside from the managers, could easily get in communication with the man in seclusion. All this was changed by Theodore Roosevelt.

Years before James A. Garfield was in the convention that nominated him, but he was there as a delegate to make the nominating speech for John Sherman. There came a deadlock, and Garfield's speech had made a good impression and the convention turned to him. But in those days it would have been thought undignified for an avowed candidate to appear personally on the scene.

* * *

Roosevelt Hurried To Chicago

The change came in 1912 when Roosevelt was seeking the nomination against Taft. The fight was intensely bitter; the organization was in possession of the Taft forces and there was early evidence of a determination on the part of the organization to ride rough shod over the Rooseveltians. These had the advantage of having popular sentiment behind them; and the name of Roosevelt was magic.

I have recently read some unpublished correspondence leading up to the decision of Roosevelt to go to Chicago and personally assume command of his forces. Some of his friends doubted the propriety; all knew that precedent was against it; but all realized that the only hope of checking the progress of the steam roller was to so dramatize the situation that public opinion might assert itself and put a fear of the Lord into the hearts of the Taft machine.

There were conferences, exchanges of views, and finally the advice was sent Roosevelt to hurry to Chicago. He went; and there was drama; but the organization composed of cool, calculating men went forward with its work, and Roosevelt stood literally at the grave of his hopes.

Since then candidates, though not all by any means, have appeared regularly in the conventions. We believe not one was present in the Democratic convention of 1912. Champ Clark was in Washington, with Underwood; Wilson was in Jersey; Harmon in Cincinnati; Marshall in Indianapolis.

But Roosevelt made a precedent that others have felt free to follow. Even so we have never been able to convince ourself of the propriety.

* * *

The 'Swing Around The Circle'

Quite as radical has been the change in the conduct of nominees in the campaigns. In the old days the nominees remained in their homes where they received visiting delegations and made brief addresses. The "swing around the circle" was not unknown but it was most unusual.

The first candidate, we believe, who ever made a speaking tour throughout the country was Stephen A. Douglas in 1860, and conditions then were such that there was a good reason. We had reached a crisis and war loomed beyond the polls. Few men in our history have been so richly equipped in intellect and genius for a "swing around the circle" as the Little Giant. He made no mistakes. A marvelous debater, accustomed to speaking in the white heat of controversy, he could be trusted to make no slip.

But after Douglas no other candidate attempted the speaking crusade until 1884, when Blaine swept across the country. He, too, was richly qualified, and, like Douglas, there was magic in his personality. He made no blunder, and yet he was crucified by a silly preacher, in a meeting in New York, who, addressing him with the assurance of support, let fall the fatal words: "Rum, Romanism and Rebellion."

Blaine paled, hesitated about a rebuke, hoped the foolish words would not be noticed, and said nothing, and that was the end of Blaine.

And then another interval, and Bryan swept upon the scene in 1896 and educated the American electorate to expect to see and hear the nominees in a canvass.

* * *

Will We Go Back To the Old System!

We sometimes wonder whether the radio may not get us back to the old system of having the nominees remain at home and receive delegations. It is not an easy matter for any man to speak every day to tumultuous crowds without endless repetitions.

In the days of the front porch campaigns the nominee knew in advance what delegation was coming; what should be said to that particular group; and it was possible to prevent any "Rum, Romanism and Rebellion" blunder by insisting that the address by the head of the delegation should be submitted in advance to the blue pencil of the board of strategy.

That was the plan in Harrison's campaign in 1888. He had a platform erected in University Park, Indianapolis, and there he made short, thoughtful, statesmanlike speeches—more for the publication than the immediate crowd. These Harrison speeches were little masterpieces. Now with the radio the nominees can reach the entire country with their voices.

The truth is, also, that there are few men who can maintain a high standard in speech after speech delivered without special preparation. Only an occasional genius can do that. But with the radio a speech can be delivered from manuscript.

* * *

A Heartless Critic

There have been very few men with miraculous memories who could deliver a series of speeches of two hours' length in rapid succession without deviating one word from the text.

Stories are told of Roscoe Conkling dictating a speech in the afternoon and delivering it without the change of a word at night. But the most marvelous performance perhaps was that of Senator Beveridge in 1900. He spoke on six successive nights in different cities for two hours on totally different subjects, and newspapermen following his manuscript found that not once in that 12-hour performance did he deviate one syllable from the text.

But six speeches is not a "swing around the circle."

It is not probable that the nominee of either party in 1932 will undertake anything remotely like the Bryan campaigns. It will more likely be a front porch campaign, with occasional excursions to important points, and with more reliance on the radio than ever before.

And there is one mighty advantage about the radio—it does not go well with mere buncombe. It is the most heartless critic of "oratory" the world has known.

WHAT DO YOU KNOW?

By S. H. Connolly

What one word is used incorrectly:

1. He is taller than me.
2. You don't know anyways.
3. He is here most every day.
4. No man has less friends.
5. The day is about gone.

Do you know:

6. By what means is an airplane steered?
7. The planet which has "snow caps" is called what?
8. What is the surface of the moon made of?
9. When may a tropical region have a cold climate?
10. Who made the first thermometer?
11. Where does dew come from?
12. How is the amount of rainfall usually stated?
13. What name is given to chemicals which are added to foods to keep them from spoiling?
14. What material is commonly used to filter city water?
15. What is another name for the wind-pipe?

Answers to today's test:

1. Me (He is taller than I). 2. Anyways. (You don't know anyway). 3. Most (He is here almost every day). 4. Less (No man had fewer friends). 5. About (The day is almost gone). 6. Rudder. 7. Mars. 8. Ro[illegible]a. 9. When it has high altitude. 10. Galileo. 11. Air. 12. Inches. 13. Preservatives. 14. Sand. 15. Trachea.
